COBB'S SERIES OF SCHOOL BOOKS.

This series of School Books, comprising a Spelling, Reading and Arithmetical course, has become very popular, and is generally used in many parts of the country.

The series of School Books, comprising a Spelling, Reading and Arithmetical course, has become very popular, and is generally used in many parts of the country. They are highly approved, and much used in the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Albany, Pittsburgh, Trenton, Buffalo, Princeton, New Brunswick, Newark, Hudson, Lancaster, and in the villages of Catskill, Jamaica, Harlem, Yorkville, Kingston, Oxford, Norwich, Oswego, Ithaca, &c. Some, or all of the Books of this series, are printed in twenty different places in the United States, and two in Upper Canada, viz: in New York, Albany, Buffalo, Baltimore, Trenton, Newark, Hartford, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Detroit; and in the villages of Ithaca, Watertown, Oxford, Elmira, Havana, Lewistown, St. Clairsville, Erie, Cleveland, Cuyahoga Falls, and at St. Catharines, and St. Thomas, U. C. Some of this series are printed and sold to the amount of one hundred and twenty-five thousand copies annually, and the sales are daily increasing.

Recommendations—Lynman Cobb's Spelling Book. [Here might follow a great many recommendations from Principals of Academies, and others, in the City of New York and various other places—but it is too long to give the following, from Gettysburg, which is well known to the citizens of this and the surrounding counties.]

CARLISLE, Feb. 6th, 1835. Sir:—I take pleasure in recommending to those who are interested in the education of children, the very excellent series of books published by Mr. Lynman Cobb.

The 'Spelling Book', is certainly the most complete, accurate and finished work of the kind I have yet seen. The 'Juvenile Readers', in their adaptation to the wants and feelings of the juvenile mind, are, in no sense, unexcelled, at least unapproached, and as they have filled an important allusion in a regular and corrected course of reading for children, they are invaluable. The very appropriate phrasing, simple, though not too puerile, the happy selections, progressive arrangement of the lessons; together with the whole execution, type, paper, binding, &c., make them very acceptable to the youthful readers, and convenient for the teacher. The 'Sequel' undoubtedly deserves the encomiums already bestowed upon it, and is, in my opinion, excellent in design or execution by any work of the kind now extant. The Arithmetics have also met the wants of common schools. The author has very judiciously excluded much that is useless to a very large portion of the community, while, by a clear and familiar elucidation of the practical parts of the science, he has recommended the work as peculiarly fitted to aid the pupil and relieve the teacher.

The 'Dictionary' will recommend itself, if but slightly investigated, as a convenient guide to the spelling of derivative and inflected words, (a matter so perplexing to many) and cannot fail to find a place in every school, in which correct orthography is properly appreciated. The 'Expositor' is a convenient hand-book, comprising a judicious selection of words.

The whole series is pre-eminently adapted to the school room; and I hope will soon acquire unqualified approbation for itself, and public esteem for its author.

DECKENSON COLLEGE, Jan. 3, 1835. I have examined Cobb's Walker's Dictionary, and Cobb's Sequel, and can recommend the first to common schools; and consider the Sequel as an excellent compilation, well calculated to improve the taste and morals of youth, and to inspire them with a love of reading.

I have had the pleasure of examining partially, Mr. Cobb's series of School Books, consisting of a spelling, reading and arithmetical course, with which I am highly pleased. His spelling book, certainly, I think, surpasses any thing of the kind I have ever seen. His Readers are admirably adapted to the capacities of children, and well calculated to amuse, instruct and enlighten the minds of youth.

From the partial examination I have given Mr. Cobb's series of School Books, I do not hesitate in recommending them to the public as the best of the kind I have ever seen. His systematical order and classification are highly worthy of patronage; and their adoption by the community at large, ought to be a matter of no hesitation, as they will be very amply repaid by the rapid progress of youth, in the elementary branches of an English education.

After a cursory examination of Mr. Cobb's series of elementary Books for the use of schools, I have no hesitation in recommending them to the public as the best of the description that I have seen, not only on account of classification and arrangement, but in point of accuracy and adaptation to the learner's capacity.

ROBERT CAMERON, Teacher. Middlesex, Jan. 1, 1835.

MECHANICSBURG, Feb. 5, 1835. Mr. Cady—As I promised, I now send you a statement of my opinion of Cobb's works.

The readers 1, 2 and 3, I have used for several years, and consider them superior to any elementary works of the kind which I am acquainted with.

JOHN McCAFFREY, Vice President of Mt. St. Mary's College.

BALEWILLE, Feb. 10th, 1835. Sir:—I have succeeded in introducing into my school Cobb's Series of Spelling, Reading and Arithmetic. From a careful perusal of the works, it is but justice to the author to say that it far exceeds my expectations, and that his strict adherence to the rules of orthography, as laid down by Mr. Walker, cannot fail to procure for him that patronage, which is justly due, from an enlightened public.

I have the honor to remain yours, &c. J. M. JUDSON, Jr.

Having adopted Mr. Cobb's Books, I deem it unnecessary for me to make any further remarks in addition to the numerous recommendations you have already received; but do most heartily concur in the sentiments expressed by my brother teachers, recommending them to the attention of the public in general.

DR. J. GILBERT, Gettysburg, Pa. VARNISH—A large supply of black oil Varnish, for saddlers' and shoemakers' use, just received and for sale at the Drug Store of Boalsburg, Centre Co. Pa. 16th Jan. 1835. Mr. D. S. Cady—It is now somewhat more than a year since I had Mr. Cobb's series of School Books partially introduced into my school. The spelling book, and the three numbers of the Juvenile Reader, I have had an opportunity of giving a pretty fair trial. The arrangement and classification of the spelling book, its containing so many words with so few repetitions, and the orthography and pronunciation being, in every case, agreeable to the rule given by Walker, gives it a decided preference to any other that I have been acquainted with.

JOHN McCRORON. Boalsburg, Centre Co. Pa. 16th Jan. 1835.

Mr. D. S. Cady—It is now somewhat more than a year since I had Mr. Cobb's series of School Books partially introduced into my school. The spelling book, and the three numbers of the Juvenile Reader, I have had an opportunity of giving a pretty fair trial.

His plan of teaching arithmetic, also, has my decided approbation, as I hold that "Elucidation is the best method of instruction." Believing, therefore, that the introduction of the whole series into common schools generally, would be of great advantage to the rising generation, I am happy to see the effort making.

I have examined several of the series of school books, by Mr. Lynman Cobb, and believe them to be, in general, well calculated to interest and develop the youthful mind.

Principal of the Gettysburg Female Academy, Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 17th, 1835.

From S. S. Schnucker, D. D., Professor of Theology, in the Theological Seminary, at Gettysburg.

POTTER'S CATHOLICON.

THE unrivalled and extensive reputation acquired by this Medicine for the last five years, both in Hospital and private practice, demands from the proprietor his grateful acknowledgments to a discerning public.

Potter's Vegetable Catholicon is offered for the cure of Diseases of the Liver, Ulcerated Sore Throat, Debility resulting from Intemperance and Dissipation, Scrofula or King's Evil, Old and Inveterate Ulcers, Pains in the Bones, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Diseases of the Lungs, Syphilis, Blisters on the Face and Skin, White Swelling of the Joints, Tetter, Mercurial diseases, Piles, &c. &c.

THE CATHOLICON consists exclusively of vegetable matter, and with a slight determination to the bowels, which it preserves in a soluble state, acts insensibly, is pleasant to the taste, and requires no particular regimen or confinement.

SALEM, Mass. Oct. 15, 1820. This may certify, that I, the subscriber, for the last ten years have been very much afflicted with Scrofula, and after repeatedly trying various medicines, and receiving advice from the most eminent physicians, without effect, I was induced to purchase a few bottles of Potter's Vegetable Catholicon—have taken the same, and have been completely cured. After receiving such great benefit from this valuable medicine, I conceive myself in duty bound to make the same publicly known, that those suffering under like complaints may be apprised of its great efficacy.

Signed in the presence of JONATHAN WEBB and JOHN S. HARRISON. Mr. W. W. POTTER.

Sir—I here give you a statement of my cure. About four years ago I became afflicted with a complicated case of Scrofula and White Swelling; during that period I placed myself under the care of upwards of eighteen respectable physicians in Boston, Pittsburgh, Albany, and this place, but their prescriptions were in vain. My arm became useless, the elbow joint being very much enlarged, and so covered with ulcers, that my physician, fearing a mortification would take place, advised me to submit to amputation, but this very fortunately I rejected. On my back there was an ulcer as large as the palm of my hand, which became so painful that I despaired of ever being restored to health, or even getting relief. Having seen a similar case to my own, which was cured by your Catholicon, as the last resort I applied for it, and the happy result is, from its use for about three months, I am perfectly cured.

WILMINGTON, (N. C.) May 22d. RHEUMATISM.

P. S. As it doubtless gives you pleasure to hear of the many cures which your medicine is daily performing, I will mention two other cases wherein complete cures resulted from its use, and which induced me to try it. The first is a case of an intimate friend of mine, an old gentleman about sixty years of age, who had the Rheumatism for a number of years past, part of the time confined to his bed; he took it merely through experiment, and was surprised to find himself entirely freed from his painful disorder by using only one bottle.

THE other case was a severe Tetter, which covered both the patient's hands; he was an elderly man, and had the affliction for a long time; he was totally deprived of the use of them, his attendants being obliged to cut his food and help him to it. Two bottles effectually cured him. This case, as well as my own, are extensively known throughout the country, and will add much to the fame of your already popular medicine.

Your well wisher, JEREMIAH NICHOLS.

The Principles of Presbyterian Discipline, &c. unfolded and illustrated in the protests and appeals of the Rev. GEO. DUFFIELD, entered during the process of the Presbytery of Carlisle against him, at their Sessions in April, 1833, in which his strict adherence to the Confession of Faith, and the standards of the Church, is fully shown.
