TEMPERANCE.

AN ADDRESS Delivered before the Conowago Temperance Society near Hunterstown, 11th April, 1835, BY ROBERT MILHENY, ESQ.

Fellow-Citizens! I would congratulate you on the annual return of the meeting of this society, yet it is with diffidence that I enter on the duty assigned me to deliver an address to you on this occasion. But notwithstanding the profound statesman, the eloquent orator, professional men of the bar and the pulpit have almost exhausted the subject and left nothing new to be said, it sometimes happens that men in more obscure stations in life, and circumscribed abilities, are called upon to espouse and defend the cause of Temperance, and expose Intemperance, which is demoralizing in its character and destructive to the souls and is my lot; and although I may not be able to advance any thing new on the subject. may I not be permitted to follow the example laid down in the Scriptures of adding "line upon line, and precept upon precept?" and if I can be the means of convincing one single person of the impropriety of using Ardent Spirits, either temperately or intemperately, (except as a medicine,) and sign the temperance pledge, I would feel myself more than compensated for the little time spent in preparing these remarks.

Then, fellow-citizens, in order to obviate any difficulty on your minds, and to bring this subject fairly before you with all its solemnity, and all its importance, I will here make the inquiry, and endeavor to answer it as briefly as possible, Is the temperance cause the cause of God, and does it meet the smiles and approbation of Heaven?

In answer to this inquiry, permit me, first, to call your attention to the temperance cause in its infancy but a few years back, and to its steady but rapid progress ever since—now embracing in number more than one-twelfth of the population of these United States, and extending its influence over almost the whole inhabitable globe, bearing down all opposition and every obstacle thrown in its way; and then refer you to a passage of Scripture, in the Acts of the Apostles. When these Apostles were engaged in the preaching and spread of the Gospel, and being accused and arraigned by the are looking anxiously to that happy day people, one of the Jewish counsel, named when they will be willing to stand up before Gamaliel, an expounder of the law, stood up, some person legally authorized, and give a and (after quoting several examples of sects | pledge—yes, and that for life! O! why rebefore them,) addressed the people in these words-Chap. 5th, 38th and 39th-"And now I say unto you, refrain from these men wit will come to naught: If Cemperance Societies in the United States, numbering 1,250,000 members; and altho it is of very recent date that the temperance cause has crossed the ocean, the United Kingdom of Great Britain has 150,000 ed, are hereby requested to come forward members who have joined the temperance cause. Its progress is still onward in other countries; and our Missionaries (says Doctor Philips,) have found it to be the most valuable auxiliary in promoting the cause of God they ever had in Africa. And it is a fact, taken from authentic documents, that intemperance has been productive of twothirds of the poverty-four-fifths of all the crimes, and more than one-half the cases of madness in our country. Now, from all these facts, who could, or who would even dare to say, that the temperance cause is not a humane, a benevolent, a glorious and a righteous cause-worthy of every Christian, every Philanthropist, and every friend of his country?

Let me here, for a moment, advert to few of the many evils of intemperance—(by this I mean the intemperate use of Ardent Spirits.) Although intemperance is not commendable in any shape, yet it is by indulging too freely in this liquid poison, which has been the fruitful source of so much poverty, crime and human misery, and filling our penitentiaries, our jails and poor-houses to overflowing-and has furnished one of the most potent engines in the hands of the grand adversary of souls against the spread of the gospel, and of pure and vital godliness in our land-and of hurrying many thousands yearly unprepared to a premature grave, many of them leaving their wives and children houseless and pennyless, nothing left on this side of the grave but a broken heart, and the sad reflections of the past and forebodings of the future! This is no chithe truth of these remarks, and I might here be of uniform strength and consistency. enumerate a long and black catalogue of crimes that follow such a course, but I forpleasant feelings in any of your minds.be a member of a Temperance Society?-Who that loves the peace and good order of society-who that would be willing to lessen Sailors and travelling persons should always the amount of crime, of poverty and human wretchedness, can withhold their names for such benevolent purposes?

I would, then, in the name of this society, cordially and affectionately invite one and NATIVE BALSAN" blown on them, and the all of my neighbors and fellow-citizens, male written signature of D. Jayne to the bottom and female, to join with us, and particularly of each direction-none others are genuine. the female part of my audience. Many objections have been raised against females "Panacea" to cure all diseases to "which signing the temperance pledge—that they flesh is heir to" but as a remedy in Diarno influence on society. But let me or Malignant Cholers, Cramps, Cholics, not occupy your time in enumerating them, for they have been as often met and refuted. Some of you, fellow-citizens, have your objections; and I very well know, that it is a bodies of men. This humble station in life very difficult matter to overcome long established habits and customs, and I am willing to respect those objections; but the exyou, and I, for one, think you hazard nothng. You deprive yourselves of no legal right. You do not lessen the amount of comfort and domestic happiness; and in a the calculation on both sides of the question, think you would be satisfied that the loss would be very small, if any. But, supposing you had to make a small sacrifice, who would not be willing for such an amount of good! And, besides all this, we have the signatures and the declarations of eightyfour Physicians of the City and County of Philadelphia, that men in health are never benefitted by the use of ardent spirits. But on the contrary, it frequently subjects them intemperance, are more difficult of cure and fatal in their termination. This fact alone speaks volumes in favor of the temperance cause. All we ask, then, of you, is to bring these remarks home to yourselves; reflect on the subject, weigh it deliberately, and then decide for yourselves.

Since the mighty objection of signing pledges has in some measure been done a way, and men and women are voluntarily and daily giving and signing pledges in other matters, and some of them of a very solemn nature—and young men and maidens fuse to sign the temperance pledge, which may be the very means of enhancing your earthly joys and comfort! And since it has been discovered, by a very shrewd young man who was opposed to the temperance use, that the object of Temperance Socieas was to shame those who are opposed to em from the use of Ardent Spirits, be it a, and is likely to even so; we are willing to take the blame and use all honest and honorable means in affirmation of this our power to promote so good a cause. And may each member of this society look forward with pleasing anticipations to the time when temperance will universally prevail, and like a mighty torrent bear down all opsheds life and light all around. But position—until it puts down the Monster-INTEMPERANCE!

CERTIFICATES.

Certificate from Dr. William Bacon, Paster of the Baptist Church at Pittsgrove, Salem Co., N. J. Having been made acquainted with the ingre dients composing Dr. Jayno's Carminative Balsam, I believe it to be a very happy combination to disease and death; and diseases through and a usoful medicine in many complaints which almost constantly occur in our country, such as Bowel Affections of children, Cholic, Cramps, Looseness, Dyspeptic Disorders of the Stomach Coughs, and Affections of the Breast, together with all those diseases attended with Sourness o the Stomach; and believe that the regular physician will often find it a useful remedy in his hands and one that is proper for domestic use, and car pe put into the hands of persons at large with safety.

This may certify that I have used Dr. Jayne' Carminative Balsam very extensively in Bowel Complaints, and have not the least hesitation in declaring it superior to any preparation that I have met with, for the relief of those diseases. Dr. JAYNE-Dear Sir .- You ask me what proofs meet with of the efficacy of your medicine. I can safely say that I never prescribed a medicine for Bowel Complaints that has given me so much satisfaction, and my patients so speedy and per-fect relief as this. Whenever introduced into a amily, it becomes a standing remedy for those ailments, and is called for again and again; which think a pretty good proof of its efficacy and use fulness. In the Summer Complaint of children, it has frequently appeared to snatch the little vic lims, as it were, from the grave. "It saved the ife of my child, and of such and such a child," I hours, I may say in a few minutes. In fine, it is ne, and no family s Respectfully, M. L. KNAPP, M. D.

From Dr. L. Lawrence. Codarville, Oct. 9th, 1832. Dr. D. JAYNE-Dear Sir .- The curative power your Carminative Balsam appears to be fairly established in all Bowel Complaints, &c.; and from the experience I have had with the medicine I am disposed to think very favorably of it. I have lately tried it on one of my children, who was severely handled, and with complete success, without the use of any other medicine. So far as my practice has extended, I think it a desideratum in medicine, especially among children, who are apt to be affected this way; and which every practitioner in medicine has found to be a very troublesome disease. Respectfully, LEONARD LAWRENCE, M. D. From Dr. Charles Hammond. Dr. JAYNE-Dear Sir.-I have made use of the Carminative Balsam prepared by you for Combi-plaints of the Bowels, with complete success in very case and I do not hesitate to recommend it to the patronage of the public as a medicine worthy of their particular notice.
