Gettysburg, Oct. 5th, 1835. eow-27 THE NEW-YORKER--

QUARTO EDITION. THE Publishers of THE NEW-YORKER, encouraged by the generous and steadily increase ing patronage which has hitherto rewarded their exertions, propose to issue, from the commencement of their Third Volume on the 26th of March ensuing, a new Double Quarto Edition of their journal, not instead of but in addition to that now published. Advertisements, except possibly a few of a strictly literary character, will be entirely excluded; and, in addition to all the matter presented in the folio New-Yorker, the Querto will contain a page of popular Music, &c. &c. and be accompanied by a handsome Title Page and comprehensive Index at the close of the Volume. The general features of the New-Yorker will remain essentially as they have heretofore been.

Its columns will contain-1 GENERAL LITERATURE - Original Tales, Essays, Reviews, Poems, &c. with corresponding Selections from the Quarterlies, Monthlies, and all the better class of periodicals, Foreign and American, with choice extracts from new works of substantial excellence. The Editor acknowledges with pride and gratitude his obligation to his regular contributors-and among them are some whose names have shed lustre on the cause of American literature - for the steadfast support hitherto afforded him, and the confidence with which he is now enabled to assure the publie that it will not soon be withdrawn. He takes pleasure in recalling the fact that, since the establishment of the New-Yorker, no one other journal has afforded specimens in equal extent and variety, of the productions of all eminent American writers of whatever section or class-a characteristic which he hopes it may still preserve; while his selections from the best foreign works have been exceeded-in quantity at least - by those of but three or four among the myriad of dis-Atlantic periodicals.

II. NATIONAL POLITICS .- It has been the aim of the Editor to present a full and fair exhibit of the aspects, movements and struggles, of parties in our country, including the meeting of Conventions, nomination of candidates for State and National Offices, and all other significant manifestations of political feeling, with the general results of elections, as fast as ascertained, and the official canvays in each instance, as soon as it shall have reached us. This course is be lieved to be in many respects original with this journal; and it is considered that we have just ause of felicitation in the fact that, pursued as has been through two years of unremitted political warfare, the fairness and general accuracy of our statements and returns have very rarely, if ever, been questioned. The Editor reserves to himself the right of remarking, circumstances may seem to require and justice to dictate, on the less exciting political topics of the day, as on all others, with calmness, de ference and moderation; but he will still thrive -he trusts not less successfully than hithertoto exclude from the columns of the New Yorker every observation, reflection, or even argument, which may wantonly do violence to the sincere convictions of any well-informed realer, of whatever principle or party.

III. GENERAL INTELLIGENCE. - In this department we can only promise the most unwearied of the Editor. industry and patience in the collection, condensation, and arrangement of the news, Foreign and Domestic, which may be gathered from the weekly reception of four hundred journals, in-1st of January next, his DWEL. cluding some choice European periodicals, and which may be afforded us by the attention of our friends abroad.

Literary Notices, Statistics, Brief Notices of works of Art, Amusements, the Drama,&c. &c will from time to time be given. As a general rule, however, it will be the aim of the Editor to embody such articles, whether original or selected, as shall at least combine instruction with entertainment.

CONDITIONS.

The Quarto New-Yorker will be published every Saturday afternoon on an extra imper-al sheet of the finest quality, comprising sixteen pages of three columns each, and afforded to its patrons in city and country, at THREE DOLLARS per annum, payable inflexibly in dvance. Orders from a distance, unaccompanied by a remittance, will necessarily remain unanswered. Any person or persons sending us $5 positively free of postage or other charges will receive two copies for one year, or a single copy for two years, and in the same proportion for a larger sum. The few who may desire to take the folio edinon for immediate perusal and the Quarto for binding will be entitled to re-ceive both for $4 50 in advance. We will cheerfully preserve their files of the Quarto for any such who may desire it.

The subscribers are extremely solicitous that there be no misconception on the part of their patrons in regard to the two Editions of their paper. The Quarto is commenced in defernce to the solicitations of a great number of their friends, who have expressed a strong desire that the New-Yorker should appear in a form more susceptible of preservation than the present. It is neither anticipated nor hoped that it will receive a patronage at all commensurate with that of the folio edition. They would frankly express their conviction that, for those whose interest in a journal expires with the week in which it reaches them, the latter will be decidedly preferable, aside from the difference in price. Accordingly, when an order for "The New-Yorker" simply, without specific cation, is sent them, the folio will-invariably b-

It is our earnest desire that all those who nay incline to patronize the Quarto New-Yorker will apprise us of the fact before the regular commencement of the volume (March 26.) The specimen Number will be forwarded to all indiscriminately who may signify a desire to examine it (without subjecting us to postage;) and, as an additional inducement to an early subscription, we hereby offer to send the inter-vening numbers of the folio New-Yorker grativ to each subscriber for the Quarto, from the receipt of advance payment up to that time.

95-THE NEW-YORKER (folio) will contine to be published at Two Dollars per anuum advance, to which Fifty cents will be added if not paid within sim months. It will not, how ever, be forwarded on credit to new subscribers of whose solvency we have no satisfactory assu-
