

Address to the People of Adams Co.

Fellow-Citizens of Adams County:
In compliance with a resolution of the friends of HARRISON and GRANGER, held on the evening of the 13th inst. at the house of Mr. Anthony B. Kurtz, in the Borough of Gettysburg, the subjoined Committee, beg leave to address you.

The election for President and Vice President is near at hand; it is therefore important that your attention should be directed to the subject. Gen. WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON, of Ohio, is the Candidate of one party for the office of President, and Mr. VAN BUREN, of the State of New York, is the Candidate of the other party. It is between these two individuals that you are called upon to choose. A brief comparison of their claims and services cannot be deemed amiss.

For the last forty years, the history of Gen. HARRISON is so intimately blended with the history of his Country, that he who is conversant with the one, cannot be ignorant of the other; a detailed account of his services, is, therefore, the less necessary; but, in order to a comparison between him and his opponent, it is proper that some of the prominent acts of a life, every where full of interest, should be noticed.

The achievements of Gen. HARRISON as a Soldier, have long since become a matter of history. From St. Clair's defeat to the conclusion of the late war with Great Britain, he lived amid perils and dangers, and earned for himself a reputation that will last as long as the history of his Country endures. He was with WAYNE, at the Miami; and at a later period, though still young in years, he led his countrymen to victory at Tippecanoe.

The war with England then commenced, and defeat and disaster every where, attended our armies. Fall surrendered at Detroit; Van Rensselaer was defeated at Queenstown; the expedition of Smyth had failed; Winchester and his army were cut to pieces on the River Raisin; and not only the weak and timid throughout the Country, but those with stout hearts and keen foresight, began to apprehend a fatal termination to the war. It was then that Gen. HARRISON appeared at the head of the army, and at once the tide of defeat and disaster was rolled back; our dishonored standards were raised from the dust to wave triumphantly over our victorious countrymen, fighting under the more favorable auspices of the HERO OF TIPPECANOE! After a series of brilliant and successful movements, he compelled the enemy to raise the siege of Fort Meigs, and crowned his own and his country's glory by the victory of the THAMES!

We need follow Gen. HARRISON no further in his military career; the war was ended, and he was called to fill high civil stations. He was chosen a Senator of the United States; he was afterwards appointed Minister to Colombia; and in the fulfillment of the duties of these offices, he evinced the same talents and the same devotion to the interests of the people that characterized him while leading the armies of his Country; and under all circumstances he has shown the utmost respect for the Constitution and Law.

In 1799, he was appointed Secretary of the North Western Territory; and it was while acting in this capacity that he saw the necessity for a different System by which to regulate the sale of the public lands. At this time, large capitalists from the Atlantic States were in the habit of taking up immense tracts, and that to the virtual exclusion of the poor class of purchasers. Being elected to represent the North Western Territory in Congress, he introduced a bill for the survey of the Public Domain, by which it was to be laid out into Sections, Half-Sections and Quarter-Sections; thus opening a way for the purchase of these lands by the poor, and for the population of that vast Territory. It is under this wise system that the Great West has grown up; its present importance and power; it is to Gen. HARRISON that this immense and powerful power is attributable; and the devising and maturing of this system, entitle him to a rank among the first Statesmen of the age.

But who is his competitor, MARTIN VAN BUREN, and what is his history? With what portion of his Country's history is his name identified? What measure of policy of great importance owes its success to him, or what measure of the kind has he ever advocated?

His history is the history of himself alone; he has, it is true, occupied many high and important public stations, but himself and not the public has benefited. He has done nothing for, and has no claim upon the American People. But in relation to few measures of policy, of great National moment, are his views known. He is all things to all men; in the Slaveholding States, he is the advocate of Slavery; in the non-slaveholding States, he is an abolitionist. But with a craft and duplicity, rivaling the Heathen Greeks, he was afterwards appointed Minister to Colombia; and as expressed to one or other of the political sections of the Country, his straight attempts to show that they both mean the same thing! It is, perhaps, but in relation to a single one of the great measures of National and State policy, entertained by the people, that his views are known. This is the Distribution of the Surplus Revenue among the respective States according to their representation in Congress. To this measure, HE HAS DECLARED HIS UTTER HOSTILITY! Why he has done so, we can see no good reason; such distribution would be of immense benefit to the several States.

There are now in the National Treasury near $47,000,000 for distribution; the amount which Pennsylvania is entitled to receive at present, is about $5,000,000, with a large annual sum hereafter. But if Mr. Van Buren be elected, THE DISTRIBUTION WILL BE DEPLETED, AND OUR LEGISLATURE WILL BE OBLIGED TO RESORT TO TAXATION TO COMPLETE THE IMPROVEMENTS NOW IN PROGRESS, OR ABANDON THEM AFTER SO MANY MILLIONS HAVE BEEN SPENT, IN THEIR PRESENT UNFINISHED AND UNPRODUCTIVE STATE!

Gen. HARRISON has avowed himself IN FAVOR OF THIS MEASURE; we therefore trust that the People of Pennsylvania will not so far lose sight of their own interests, as to vote for his opponent who is opposed to it.

Having, as faithfully as possible, presented the several candidates for the Presidency, it remains for you, Fellow-Citizens, to choose between them. It is for you to say, by your vote, whether you prefer a man like HARRISON, who is friendly to your interests, and who, when misfortune had come upon his Country, appeared to retrieve her disasters and wipe out her disgrace; or one who is opposed to your interests, and whose days have been spent in idleness and ease, far away from danger and toil.

FELLOW-CITIZENS! Make your election, but let it not be said by your children when they read the history of this contest, that you were ungrateful and that you forgot the toils and hardships endured by the war-worn Soldier that YOU might enjoy property and peace. Let it not be said, that while you fought them to whom you owed so much, you rewarded another, to whom you owed nothing, with the first office in your gift.

Gen. HARRISON is poor, Mr. VAN BUREN IS RICH; but riches furnish no ground of preference—more especially will you not wish to see it understood, THAT THE FORTUNE OF GEN. HARRISON WAS SPENT IN THE SERVICE OF HIS COUNTRY.

Our candidates for the Vice Presidency, we have only to say, that FRANCIS GRANGER is a man of eminent talents, rich attainments, and exalted moral character; who, when you would add lustre to the character of his Country; that his competitor, Richard M. Johnson, is a man who has violated all the decencies of moral and social life by his criminal intercourse with a woman of color, and whose moral character is inferior to those of Mr. Granger; he himself is below him in purity of moral character.

We have to add nothing to add in conclusion: Men, regardless of truth, for party purposes, have propagated the BASELESS SLANDERS against Gen. HARRISON. A story has been set on foot and circulated with so full a will, as to fill with men and women a member of the Senate of Ohio, voted in his favor; and this story is attempted to be fortified by what purports to be an extract from the Journal of the Senate! A BASELESS LIE, SUPPORTED BY A BASE FORGERY, WAS NEVER PUBLISHED! So far from his vote, on this perverted subject, being calculated to injure him, where it is understood, it gives him new claims upon the friends of universal freedom.

Our candidates for the Vice Presidency, we have only to say, that FRANCIS GRANGER is a man of eminent talents, rich attainments, and exalted moral character; who, when you would add lustre to the character of his Country; that his competitor, Richard M. Johnson, is a man who has violated all the decencies of moral and social life by his criminal intercourse with a woman of color, and whose moral character is inferior to those of Mr. Granger; he himself is below him in purity of moral character.

It ought to be borne in mind, that those convicted for such crimes, were altogether excluded from the benefits of the Fugitive Laws; the necessary consequence was, that they must have continued to languish in hopeless imprisonment, without even the prospect of liberation, if such some provision as that contemplated by the above bill had not been made. Thus it will be seen, that his vote in relation to this bill was dictated by the same humanity that on other occasions caused him to share the last morsel of his ration with his famishing Soldiers.

If further proof were necessary to put this slander to rest, and cover its authors with shame, it is to be found in his course while a member of the Senate of the United States, WHERE HE VOTED AGAINST IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT, excepting where it was necessary to support the claims of the wretched party, which sent abroad their wretched soldier, it is only necessary to state, that Mr. BALDWIN, their present candidate for Governor of Ohio, introduced this bill into the Legislature and supported it through all its stages. But at home, this bill affects neither Gen. Harrison nor Mr. Baldwin; it only intended to injure the former, at a distance where it is not understood and where it is not so easily contradicted.

FELLOW-CITIZENS! We have now done; we have only discharged a duty which ought to have been performed, even if Gen. Harrison had not been a candidate for the Presidency. The fame of such men is the property of the country, and as such it ought to be guarded against aspersion and transmitted unimpaired to posterity.

Who defended Gen. Jackson by the eloquence of his voice when that chieftain was accused of the heinous crime of murdering his fellow-countryman, the Seminole Campaigner WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

When the din of warlike preparations sounded upon our shores, who flew at the sound of the tocsin, to the defence of our rights, in the field of battle? WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

Who by his skill and tact as a military commander, achieved a glorious victory at the battle of Tippecanoe—aye, one of the most brilliant triumphs recorded in the annals of our Country's war? WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

Who returned from the strife of war, only after having wreathed for himself as noble a chaplet as ever decked the brow of the Hero of Tippecanoe, and who, as a Member of the House of Representatives, was distinguished by his patriotism and his ability, and to the approbation of his countrymen? WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

Who advocated the election to the Presidency of those apostles of liberty, Madison and Monroe? WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA.

We do not know whether the letter of Mr. Dallas be more discrepant to himself, more disrespectful to the Supreme Court, more derogatory to Pennsylvania, or more hostile to the great principles which, along with stability to the institutions of a virtuous and free people.

Individuals of consequence were never more clearly displayed than in this case, when compared with the great State and federal principles assailed by the destructive letter of Mr. Dallas. The individual, his patriotism and his purposes may at once be disposed of by putting to him one or two reflections.

If the charter of the Bank were obtained by fraud, Mr. Dallas had the power to nullify it; he had the power to annul the legal tribunals. He was where the whole operation was commenced and consummated. As a good citizen, such was his bounden duty; and he would have been proud to have avoided confusion, and might have secured the respect of those about him.

If there was reasonable doubt as to the correctness of the law, the subject to be preserved, united and happy, under the unintermitted influence of good laws, under the progress of continued constitutionality, and under the influence of the views of the party to which I am; but I entertain the hope that the New York candidate is not yet identified, although these concerns would say so, and that the views of Mr. Dallas and of the insected Marylanders.

I have seen much of political working and change in my life. I had fresh on my mind the events from 1801 to the present time. I have seen something to be done, and much which to glory on, according to the views of the subject to be preserved, united and happy, under the unintermitted influence of good laws, under the progress of continued constitutionality, and under the influence of the views of the party to which I am; but I entertain the hope that the New York candidate is not yet identified, although these concerns would say so, and that the views of Mr. Dallas and of the insected Marylanders.
