PROSPECTUS.

THE AUTHOR OF A TREATISE ON POPULAR EDUCATION

RESPECTFULLY solicits the patronage of the public to his work, that he may be enabled to put it to the Press without fear of loss. It will form a neat volume, 12mo. on good paper, containing 150 pages—price 75 cents, payable on delivery.

With respect to the merits of the intended publication, it may be sufficient to say, that in the opinion of competent judges they are such as will entitle it to an attentive perusal, which will be profitable and interesting to all, especially to parents, preceptors and pupils.

It is confidently recommended as containing sound and comprehensive views on the subject and system of mental cultivation, and incentives to the practice of virtue and morality. As in this Republic, the voice of the people is the Supreme Law, it has been the chief aim of the author to show that public prosperity depends on private virtue and intelligence, and that the perpetuity of our free institutions can be guaranteed only by the general diffusion of the benefits of Education, and the adoption of correct principles in early life.
