Twenty Dollars Reward.

ON the 1st day of October last, ELIHU SAMUEL RILEY, an indentured apprentice to the Printing business, obtained leave, during my absence, to visit an aunt whom he represented as lying at the point of death—since which time he has not returned, and, I find, only made use of the falsehood to avoid the suspicion of being about to abscond. He had on and took with him a good blue cloth coat, drab pantaloons, light vest, black fur hat and other clothing, most of which were new, and good. If he returns forthwith to his duty, he will be forgiven—and if not, the above reward will be paid for his apprehension and delivery; or $10 if secured in any jail in the Union so that I can get him again.

I understand he is now at work in New York City. I caution all persons against employing him, as I shall certainly prosecute such as do so. R. W. MIDDLETON. Gettysburg, Nov. 7, 1836.

CONSUMPTION.

Indian Specific.

FOR the prevention and cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthmas, Consumptions, Spitting Blood, and diseases of the Breast and Lungs, prepared by Doct. CLARKSON FREEMAN, of the city of Lancaster.

Accompanying each bottle of the Specific, pointing out in a conspicuous manner, all the symptoms in the different stages of these distressing diseases; also particular directions respecting diet and regimen, and how patients are to conduct through every stage until health is restored—for rain and useless would be the prescriptions of the ablest physicians, accompanied by the most powerful and useful medicines, if the directions are not faithfully adhered to.

The public are informed that the depositions of 257 persons have been taken, before proper authorities in the city of Lancaster, all completely cured in the most desperate cases of consumption, some of which are detailed in the bills accompanying each bottle.

The price of each bottle of Indian Specific is $1. A sealed envelope of the genuine Specific is signed by Dr. Clarkson Freeman, and the initials, C. F. on the seal of each bottle. None can be genuine without his signature, a base composition having been attempted to be imposed on the public by a counterfeit imitation of this extraordinary article.

For sale at the drug store of Dr. J. GILBERT. Gettysburg, Oct. 19, 1836.

RESPECTFULLY invites those who are troubled with Rheumatic pains, either chronic or inflammatory, to give him a call, having had very good success in curing Rheumatism; and having within the short space of time that he has been here had upwards of forty cases of Rheumatism under treatment, and having given relief in every case, and failed in but five or six cases of performing a complete cure—and some of these were through neglect on their part; and others to the long standing of the disease, so that no perfect cure could be expected. He would, therefore, invite those afflicted with Rheumatic pains to give him a call, and satisfy themselves. Not desiring those who are unacquainted with him to rely on his statement, but to come into his neighborhood and enquire of those who know him, and satisfy themselves before they employ him.

The New-Yorker—Quarterly Form—New Series.

PROSPECTUS OF THE SECOND VOLUME. THE Publishers of the New-Yorker commenced in March last, a weekly edition of their publication in quarto form, and made, as they thought, an experiment for supplying as great a number of subscribers as their most flattering hopes led them to believe would patronize the work under its then new arrangement. They have been deceived—agreeably so, in their calculations, inasmuch as the favor shown to the publication rapidly absorbed the whole edition, and constant orders are received for copies, which the Publishers have been unable to supply. With a view to obviate this difficulty, and meet the wishes of the many who desire to patronize the work, the Publishers have resolved to re-naturalize the blank in the current order of the volume, by changing so far the present arrangement, as to furnish two volumes in a year, in lieu of one, as stated in the original prospectus.

On the Twenty-fourth of September next, therefore, will be issued the first number of a new series of the Quarterly New-Yorker, or No. 1 of Vol. II, thus affording to new subscribers an opportunity of beginning with a distinct volume, entirely unconnected with the one preceding, while our original patrons will be satisfied better receiving their copies under a convenient volume, than under the old arrangement. The distinguishing line between the old and new Series will be indicated at the head of the first page of every number; and as no change is contemplated in the size or quality of the paper, or in the character of the work, those who take it from the commencement; while, on the other hand, it presents the features of an entirely new publication to those who may date their subscription with the new volume.

Under its improved arrangement, the whole edition for one year will embrace two semi-annual volumes, each containing four hundred and sixteen pages of original and selected matter, and at the same time, it has been of a character to meet the approval of the literary and general tastes of the reading community. The two volumes will comprise eight hundred and thirty-two pages, fifty-two of which will be Music.

The aim of the Publishers is to present in a compact, neat, and portable form, a literary and miscellaneous journal, adapted to the intellectual wants of the reader; and from the very flattering success that has thus far rewarded their efforts, they indulge the hope that the New-Yorker will continue to receive that share of public favor which it has ever been their study to merit. The expression of cordiality and good feeling manifested by their friends and cotemporaries affords gratifying evidence that a correct foundation of opinion has been laid upon a correct foundation, and it would therefore be irrelevant to say aught and regard their future intentions, further than to express their determination of leaving no means untried of furnishing a sheet which will bear respectable criticism when compared with any of the periodicals of the day of a similar character.

To those who propose patronizing the work, promptitude in forwarding their orders is earnestly recommended, as from the present appearance it is believed that, large as the edition is which will be printed, still the numerous orders daily received for it, will quickly put it out of the power of the Publishers to supply back numbers, and they will not warrant the entire volume to those who may come in late with their subscriptions. Any delay on the part of the subscribers must be strictly adhered to, as the line of conduct laid down will govern the transaction of business between the publishers and patrons.

CONDITIONS: The Quarto New-Yorker will be published every Saturday afternoon on an extra-imperial sheet of the finest quality, comprising sixteen pages of three columns each, at THREE DOLLARS per annum, payable inflexibly in advance. Orders from a distance, unaccompanied by a remittance, will necessarily remain unanswered.—Any person or persons sending $5 positively free of postage or other charges will receive two copies for one year, or a single copy for two years, and in the same proportion for a larger sum. The few who may desire to take the folio edition for immediate personal and the Quarto for binding, will be entitled to receive both for $4.50 in advance. We will cheerfully preserve their files of the Quarto for any such who may desire it. H. GREENE & CO. 127 Nassau-st. New-York. October 3, 1836.

DAILY & SEMI-WEEKLY Pennsylvania Telegraph

THE advantage of having a DAILY PAPER published at Harrisburg, during the Session of the Legislature, containing full early and correct Reports of the proceedings of both branches, is generally known and acknowledged by citizens of intelligence in all parts of the commonwealth. At the urgent solicitation of gentlemen of high respectability, the experiment was tried by the subscriber, at the last Session, and although commenced at a late day without previous notice, the encouragement extended to it by men of all parties, exceeded his expectations; yet it was not sufficient to meet its expense by a large sum. With a belief that sufficient patronage may be obtained to secure the publisher from loss, while he confers a favor upon the public, the subscriber proposes to publish again a Daily Paper, during the Session, provided a sufficient patronage be extended to defray the expense.

As its publication will depend upon the patronage received, he solicits the aid of editors, and those friendly to the prospect, in all parts of the state. Their favors will be gratefully acknowledged.

THE DAILY TELEGRAPH will be published on a large medium sheet, with handsome type, at $3 50 for the Session, if paid in advance, or by the 1st of January next—or $4, if not paid until after that time.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH will be published on a large double medium sheet, with handsome type, at $2 for the Session, payable in advance, or before the end of the Session.

There will be no deviation from the above terms. THEO. FENN. Harrisburg, Nov. 7, 1836.

Harrisburg Chronicle.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE. THERE having been at no time within the recollection of the subscriber, a precisely correct and impartial synopsis given of the Legislative proceedings in both Houses; and there being considerable anxiety manifested on this account throughout the state, the editor of this paper has made arrangements for giving full, fair and yet succinct accounts of all the sayings and doings in that body, the coming session. This preparation has been considered the more necessary, inasmuch as the next Legislature will be an unusually interesting one. This because, the two elective branches of the Government are different in complexion (in a political point of view), and both differ from the Executive branch of the Government—such a state of things has not occurred for many years, if ever, in Pennsylvania. There will be, therefore, clashing of interests, and conflicts in opinions.

The CHRONICLE is now printed on new type, and contains one third more reading matter than has been heretofore presented to its readers; and is now one of the largest (there being but one equal in size,) papers published in this place. Along with the Legislative proceedings will be given regularly the proceedings of Congress and all other matters that may prove interesting.

TERMS: This paper will, as heretofore be published twice a week during the Session of the Legislature, and once a week during the remainder of the year, on a fine double medium sheet and new type, at $3 per annum, payable in advance. For the session alone $2 in advance. For six months including the session of the Legislature $2.50 in advance. No subscriber can discontinue his paper until all arrearages are paid.

Any person forwarding five names as subscribers shall have a copy of the Chronicle one year gratis. E. GUYER. November 7, 1836.

Pennsylvania Reporter.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE. THE Editor of "The Pennsylvania Reporter and Democratic State Journal," respectfully informs the public that he intends giving full, fair and impartial reports of the proceedings of the legislature, during the approaching session. Good reporters will attend in the Senate and House of Representatives, and in order to furnish subscribers with as great a quantity of legislative information as possible, arrangements are in progress so to increase the dimensions of the Reporter and State Journal, as to make it the largest paper published in this place. It will be printed with new type upon paper of a superior quality, and no exertions will be spared to render it worthy of a continuance of the liberal patronage it has heretofore enjoyed, and to make it acceptable to the public in general, and particularly to citizens of Pennsylvania, a history of our legislative proceedings. The plan adopted as to the reports, will be as follows:

1. To notice all petitions that may be presented, by whom, for what object, and how disposed of.

2. Reports of committees, when of general interest, will be published entire; when of a local nature, their purport only will appear.

3. All resolutions offered, and the proceedings on them, will be given.

4. Sketches of arguments upon questions of general interest, will be correctly published, and when space will admit, speeches will appear entire.

A daily paper will be issued whenever any interesting and important matter before the legislature may require it.

TERMS: For the session, twice a week TWO DOLLARS in advance.

Post masters and others, will oblige us by acting as agents to receive subscribers. Any person forwarding the names of six subscribers, and ten dollars, will be entitled to a seventh copy during the session, gratis.

SAMUEL D. PATTERSON. Harrisburg, Nov. 7, 1836.

LITERARY PUBLICATIONS, &c.

WALDIE'S LITERARY OMNIBUS.

NOVELS, TALES, BIOGRAPHY, VOYAGES, TRAVELS, RE-VIEWS, AND THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

IT was one of the great objects of "Waldie's Library," to "make good reading cheaper, and to bring literature to every man's door." That object has been accomplished; we have given to books wings, and they have flown to the remotest parts of our vast continent, carrying society to the secluded, occupation to the literary, information to all. We now propose still further to reduce prices, and render the access to a literary banquet more than twofold accessible; we gave and continue to give in the quarto library a volume weekly for two cents a day; we now propose to give a volume in the same period for less than four cents a week, and to add as a piquant seasoning to the dish a few columns of shorter literary matter, and a summary of the news and events of the day. We know by experience and calculation that we can go still farther in the matter of reduction, and we feel that there is still energy enough for us to aim at offering to an increasing literary appetite that mental food which it craves.

The Select Circulating Library, now as ever so great a favorite, will continue to make its weekly visits, and to be issued in a form for binding and preservation, and its price and form will remain the same. But we shall, in the first week in January, issue a huge sheet of the size of the largest newspapers of America, and on very superior paper, also filled with books of the newest and most interesting character. These several departments of Novels, Tales, Voyages, Travels, &c., select in their character, joined with reading such as usually should fill a weekly newspaper. By this method we hope to accomplish a great object, to enlarge the family circle, and to give to it an expense which shall be no consideration to any mass of reading that in book form would alarm the pockets of the prudent, and to do it in a manner that the most practical should acknowledge, "the power of concentration can no farther go." No book which appears in Waldie's Quarto Library will be published in the Omnibus, which will be an entirely distinct periodical.

TERMS: "Waldie's Literary Omnibus" will be issued every Friday morning, printed on paper of a quality superior to any other weekly sheet, and of the large size. It will contain the best that can be procured, equal every week to a London domino volume, embracing Novels, Travels, Memoirs, &c. and only chargeable with newspaper postage.

Library notices, notices of books, and information from "the world of letters," of every description.

The price will be two dollars to clubs of five subscribers where the paper is sent, and one dollar to clubs of two individuals, five dollars; single mail subscribers, three dollars. The discount on uncurrent money will be charged to the remitter; the low price and superior paper absolutely prohibit paying a discount.

On no condition will a copy ever be sent until the payment is received in advance.

As the arrangements for the prosecution of this great literary undertaking are all made, and the proprietor has collected all his pledges to a generous public for many years, no fear of the non-fulfillment of the contract can be felt. The Omnibus will be regularly issued, and will contain in a year reading matter equal in amount to two volumes of Rec's Cyclopaedia, for the small sum mentioned above.

Address, post paid, ADAM WALDIE, 46 Carpenter St. Philadelphia.
