THE IRIS.

A Miscellany of Morals, Literature, Science and the Arts. EDITED BY Jas. Cooper & Wm. M. Reynolds.

THE PRESS, beyond a doubt, is the grand lever which now moves the intellectual world. Among civilized nations, public opinion bows so submissively to no other power, even despots reverence its voice, and demagogues tremble at its frown. Of course, it may be an instrument either of good or evil—an Ithuriel's spear of truth, or a sorcerer's delusive wand. The obstinate defender of exploded doctrines and the wild propagandist of the latest theory alike make their weapon of attack and defence; and by its means may the friend of truth most successfully refute error and disseminate the pure principles of right reason. In one of these ways, we may rest assured, it will be employed; for never can it be fettered or silenced, and thus will the world continue to read and be ruled by its reasonings. In the present state of society, books, periodicals, magazines and newspapers may be reckoned among the necessities of life, for which the appetite and demand are becoming alike universal. Is it not, then, incalculably important that a proper direction be given to this feeling, so that it may be productive of all the benefits which it promises!

We have long believed that the weekly newspaper might assume a character somewhat different from that which it has usually had—that it might be made to come more home to the bosoms and business of men—that its interest might be deepened—its moral tone elevated—its usefulness extended far beyond its present limits.

Desiring of contributing somewhat to the furtherance of such an object, we propose publishing a weekly journal under the above title. The Iris will endeavor to keep constantly in view and steadfastly advocate the objects to which it is professedly devoted. Regarding eritue as the surest source of individual happiness and national prosperity, we shall endeavor to illustrate its principles and enforce its precepts. Laboring for "the many," we shall offer to the people the Key of Knowledge, that they may thus keep in their own hands that power which will otherwise ere long slide from their hands into the hands of "a few." Looking at all useful labor as not only the true foundation of wealth, but also honorable—discoveries and improvements in the arts, agriculture and kindred subjects, will claim a due share of our attention.

Whilst we aim at combining "the useful with the agreeable," we hope to avoid the danger of dulness, on the one hand, and that of pandering to the corrupt taste, on the other. Studiously abstaining from party politics, we shall think it our duty to discuss important points of policy. We shall also attempt to give an impartial account of domestic as well as of foreign affairs.

With this brief exposition of their views and plans, the Editors throw themselves upon the indulgence of a discriminating public, pledging themselves, if they meet with encouragement, to render the work worthy of patronage.

TERMS. I. THE IRIS will be published weekly, on a half-sheet of imperial size, on paper of good quality, and in a handsome style, for one dollar and a half per annum—one half payable in advance, the remainder at the expiration of six months—if payment be not made within the year, two dollars will be charged.

II. Any number of persons forwarding five Dollars shall be entitled to four copies.

III. Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers upon the ordinary terms, shall receive a sixth copy for himself.

IV. No subscription discontinued, but at the option of the Editors, until all arrears are paid. The first Number will be issued on the first Saturday in January, 1837. Gettysburg, November 21, 1836.

MARSHALL COLLEGE.

IT is with pleasure the undersigned announces to the public that Marshall College, chartered by the Legislature of this State during its session last winter, and located at Mercersburg, Franklin county, Pa., is to open its first Session on Wednesday the 9th of November next. The operations of this Institution commence under very flattering prospects. The number of Students, who are waiting to enter it, is much larger than the number of its friends could have anticipated. And the Trustees feel themselves happy in having secured the services of gentlemen, as Professors, combining a high degree both of talent and attainment. Entire confidence may therefore be reposed in the competency of the Instructors, who have been appointed to their respective departments in the Institution. And it is the design of the Trustees to increase the number of Professors as the wants of the Institution may require, and as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. The gentlemen who compose the Faculty of the College at present are, Rev. F. A. RAUCH, D. P. President and Professor of the Hebrew, Greek, and German languages, and Literature, and the Evidence of Christianity. S. W. BURN, Jr., M. A. Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy. Rev. J. F. BENO, A. M. Professor of the Latin and Greek languages and Belles Lettres. Intellectual and Moral Philosophy will be taught by one of the Faculty, until a Professor for this department can be obtained. One of the Faculty will also teach the French language.

Rev. Wm. A. Good has been chosen by the Faculty as Rector of the Preparatory School, connected with the College, and under the immediate inspection and assistance of the Faculty, and in which every branch of Science and Literature is taught necessary for the admission of students into the College, or for those puritans and occupations for which their parents or guardians may design them.

The annual expense of each student, for tuition in the College, will be $30, and in the Preparatory School, $25. Boarding can be had at the house of the Rector, who is prepared to accommodate about 16 boarders.

Parents and Guardians may feel confident that a vigilant attention will be bestowed to the moral habits and manners of the Students while connected with the College.

The location of Marshall College is peculiarly favorable for such an Institution. The town of Mercersburg is in general remarkably healthy. It stands in the great Cumberland Valley, and is surrounded by a fertile and well cultivated country, with a range of lofty mountains at some miles distance on either side, mountain and vale presenting a scenery at one striking and beautiful.

Under the impression that the Trustees of this infant Institution can, in good faith invite public attention to it as a seat of sound and thorough Literature, Marshall College is most cordially recommended to the American community, and especially to the German part of that community for whose benefit it is especially founded, as justly meriting in the opinion of its founders, public confidence, and a cordial general patronage.

All Editors, favorable to the great cause of Education, by giving this notice one or two insertions in their respective papers, will be entitled to the sincere thanks of the friends and patrons of our rising Institution. HENRY L. RICE, Pres't. of the Board of Trustees. Oct. 26, 1836 [Nov. 21] 31-31

Office of the Star & Banner: Chambersburg Street, a few doors West of the Court-House.

CONDITIONS: I. THE STAR & BANNER is published weekly, at Two DOLLARS per annum, (or Volume of 52 Numbers,) payable half yearly in advance—or Two Dollars and Fifty Cents if not paid until after the expiration of the year.

II. No subscription will be received for a shorter period than six months, nor will the paper be discontinued until all arrears are paid, unless at the direction of the editor—failure to notify cancellation will be considered a new engagement, and the paper forwarded accordingly.

III. Advertisements not exceeding a square, will be inserted THREE times for ONE DOLLAR, and 25 cents for every subsequent insertion—longer ones in the same proportion. The number of insertions to be marked, or they will be published till forbid and charged accordingly.

LITERARY UNION: LADY'S BOOK AND Lady's American Magazine.

THE Proprietor of the Lady's Book, grateful for the increasing patronage which he has received, and desiring to give to his subscribers who have so generously sustained their own "Book," that he has made new arrangements for their gratification. Convinced that the support of more effectively promote the interests of his country, he has resolved to publish a new volume of the Atlantic Monthly, which he has secured the valuable aid of MRS. SARAH JANE HALE, of Boston, to whose superintendance the literary departments of the Lady's Book will be committed. For many years Mrs. Hale has conducted the American Ladies' Magazine—a periodical of uncommon merit, which will be merged in the Lady's Book. Her abilities are familiar to her countrywomen. Her reputation as one of the most graceful, vigorous, and accomplished of our female writers.

Under the judicious management of Mrs. Hale, the Lady's Book will not only maintain the excellent character it has already acquired, but it is confidently expected that it will be rendered more eminently useful and interesting to her countrywomen. The superior talents and fine taste of the Editor will give the work a new impulse; while her own contributions, and those of correspondents, of whom a number have already promised, will render it almost entirely original. Amongst others who are expected to furnish matter for the Book may be mentioned Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, Robert T. Conrad, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens, Alex. Dingley, A. M., Mrs. Caroline L. Hentz, H. E. Henty, Mrs. E. F. Elliot, H. C. Fisher, N. C. Brooks, A. M., Miss H. F. Gould, Wm. E. Burton, Miss C. E. Goode, Willis G. Clark, Miss L. H. Meding, Joseph R. L. D., B. B. Thatcher, Joseph R. Chandler, R. Penn Smith.

The Proprietor of the Lady's Book is determined to use every means to maintain the superiority which his publication has obtained. For years he has gone steadily on in the course of improvement, and he flatters himself that his facilities are such as to give his work eminent advantages over his competitors. He is very anxious to receive from his subscribers, and to be liberal in his expenditures upon it, and whatever can be accomplished by enterprise and cost he is resolved to effect. Besides the persons above mentioned as contributors, he has obtained a large number of original articles from several distinguished female writers in Europe; and as an inducement to writers of our own country, he is willing to pay for every article adopted in his publication a high rate of remuneration as will be given by the proprietors of any other periodical in the United States.

The mechanical portion of the Lady's Book will likewise be improved. The typography will be more elegant, and the paper a better quality. During the year past, engraved on steel, of several eminent ladies will be given; and every second month a colored plate, illustrating the prevailing fashion, will be furnished. Other embellishments, calculated to enhance the appearance and increase the value of the work, will be introduced; and generally, every thing will be done that the most untrusting patronage of the Lady's Book can consistently require. With the experience he has acquired during a long course of years devoted to the business, and the aid to be derived from the distinguished lady who will henceforth be associated with him, the Proprietor is confident that he will be able to render the amplest satisfaction to all who may become his patrons. He, therefore, with a just reliance on his claims to support, respectfully solicits the continuance of that liberal encouragement which has so kindly been bestowed on his endeavors.

The terms of the Lady's Book are Three Dollars per annum, payable in advance. All orders must be addressed to L. A. GODEY, 100 Walnut St. As the publisher of the Lady's Book is connected with other popular periodicals, he suggests, for the convenience of remittance, the following system of CLUBBING: Lady's Book and Bulwer's Novels, for $5.00; Bulwer's or Marryatt's Novels, 17 in all, $5.00; Bulwer's or Marryatt's Novels & Saturday News, $5.00; Lady's Book, Sat. News, & Sketches, $5.00; Bulwer's or Marryatt's Novels, Celebrated Trials, & Sketch Book, $5.00; Trials, and Sketch Book, $5.00.

SIR WALTER SCOTCH'S NOVELS.—A premium of all the Novels by this celebrated author will be given to any person furnishing ten subscribers and the cash, $2.50, to the publisher of the Lady's Book, free of postage, or one half of the Novels for five subscribers and the cash, $1.25. Philadelphia, Nov. 23, 1836. 31 33

PROSPECTUS OF THE Anti-Masonic State Democrat PUBLISHED ONCE A WEEK.

THE Editor of the "ANTI-MASONIC STATE DEMOCRAT" intends to give full weekly reports of Legislative Proceedings during the ensuing session; but in order to enable him to do so it will be necessary to incur a heavy additional expense. He would therefore respectfully solicit a generous public, and particularly the supporters of General HARRISON, to extend their patronage to him more largely than he has hitherto enjoyed it. He is grateful for past encouragement, and believes he has given evidence of this by his zeal and efficacy in advancing the cause of the Hero candidate and of constitutional government and freedom. An additional supply of means to conduct his operations will act as a stimulus to redoubled exertions in support of the cause in its further progress, and in opposition to the alarming doctrines and designs of the Federal Van Buren party. He can only further add, that his political feelings and principles have hitherto been developed in the language of a FREE REPUBLICAN boldy, in conformity to strict truth, both in regard to the cause of the people and the candidate for Congress for their rights and liberties, and to that of the office holders and the candidates round whom they are rallied for the retention of place and power.

TERMS. For the whole year, $3 00 For the Session of the Legislature 1 00 Six Copies will be furnished during the sitting of the Legislature for FIVE DOLLARS. Any person forwarding the names of six responsible men for the whole year, will be entitled to one copy gratis. SAMUEL H. CLARK, Harrisburg, Nov. 21, 1836.

DR. J. CARPENTER, BOTANIC PHYSICIAN,

RESPECTFULLY invites those who are troubled with Rheumatic pains, either chronic or inflammatory, to give him a call, having had very good success in curing Rheumatism; and having within the short space of time that he has been here had upwards of forty cases of Rheumatism under treatment, and having given relief in every case, and failed in but five or six cases of performing a complete cure—and some of these were through neglect on their part; and others to the long standing of the disease, so that no perfect cure could be expected. He would, therefore, invite those afflicted with Rheumatic pains to give him a call, and satisfy themselves. Not desiring those who are unacquainted with him to rely on his statement, but to come into his neighborhood and enquire of those who know, and satisfy themselves before they employ him.

Dr. Carpenter still continues to reside at his former residence in Liberty township, two miles North of Emmittsburg, and two miles from Rhodes Mill, on Middle-creek. October 3, 1836. 14-27

PUBLIC NOTICES.

DAILY & SEMI-WEEKLY Pennsylvania Telegraph.

THE advantage of having a DAILY PAPER published at Harrisburg, during the Session of the Legislature, containing full, early and correct Reports of the proceedings of both branches, is generally known and acknowledged by citizens of intelligence in all parts of the commonwealth. At the urgent solicitation of gentlemen of high respectability, the experiment was tried by the subscriber, at the last Session, and although commenced at a late day without previous notice, the encouragement extended to it, by men of all parties, exceeded his expectations; yet it was not sufficient to meet its expense by a large sum. With a belief that sufficient patronage may be obtained to secure the publisher from loss, while he confers a favor upon the public, the subscriber proposes to publish again a Daily Paper, during the Session, provided a sufficient patronage be extended to defray the expense. As its publication will depend upon the patronage received, he solicits the aid of editors, and those friendly to the prospect, in all parts of the state. Their favors will be gratefully acknowledged. THE DAILY TELEGRAPH will be published on a large medium sheet, with handsome type, at $3 50 for the Session, if paid in advance, or by the 1st of January next—or $4, if not paid until after that time. THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH will be published on a large double medium sheet, with handsome type, at $2 for the Session, payable in advance, or before the end of the Session. There will be no deviation from the above terms. THEO. FENN, Harrisburg, Nov. 7, 1836.

Harrisburg Chronicle.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE. THERE having been at no time within the recollection of the subscriber, a precisely correct and impartial synopsis given of the Legislative proceedings in both Houses; and there being considerable anxiety manifested on this account throughout the state, the editor of this paper has made arrangements for giving full, fair and yet succinct accounts of all the sayings and doings in that body, the coming session. This preparation has been considered the more necessary, inasmuch as the next Legislature will be an unusually interesting one. This because, the two elective branches of the Government are different in complexion (in a political point of view), and both differ from the Executive branch of the Government—such a state of things has not occurred for many years, if ever, in Pennsylvania. There will be, therefore, clashing of interests, and conflicts in opinions. The CHRONICLE is now printed on new type, and contains one third more reading matter than has been heretofore presented to its readers; and is now one of the largest (there being but one equal in size), papers published in this place. Along with the Legislative proceedings will be given regularly the proceedings of Congress and all other matters that may prove interesting. TERMS: This paper will, as heretofore be published twice a week during the Session of the Legislature, and once a week during the remainder of the year, on a fine double medium sheet and new type, at $3 per annum, payable in advance. For the session alone $2 in advance. For six months including the session of the Legislature $2-50 in advance. No subscriber can discontinue his paper until all arrears are paid. Any person forwarding five names as subscribers shall have a copy of the Chronicle one year gratis. E. GUYER, November 7, 1836.

Pennsylvania Reporter.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE. THE Editor of "The Pennsylvania Reporter and Democratic State Journal," respectfully informs the public that he intends giving full, fair and impartial reports of the proceedings of the legislature, during the approaching session. Good reporters will attend in the Senate and House of Representatives, and in order to furnish subscribers with as great a quantity of legislative information as possible, arrangements are in progress so to increase the dimensions of the Reporter and State Journal, as to make it the largest paper published in this place. It will be printed with new type upon paper of a superior quality, and no exertions will be spared to render it worthy of a continuance of the liberal patronage it has heretofore enjoyed; and to make it acceptable to the public in general, and particularly to citizens of Pennsylvania, a history of our legislative proceedings. The plan adopted as to the reports, will be as follows: 1. To notice all petitions that may be presented, by whom, for what object, and how disposed of. 2. Reports of committees, when of general interest, will be published entire; when of a local nature, their purport only will appear. 3. All resolutions offered, and the proceedings on them, will be given. 4. Sketches of arguments upon questions of general interest, will be correctly published, and when space will admit, speeches will appear entire.

A daily paper will be issued whenever any interesting and important matter before the legislature may require it. TERMS. For the session, twice a week two dollars in advance. Post masters and others, will oblige us by acting as agents to receive subscribers. Any person forwarding the names of six subscribers, and ten dollars, will be entitled to a seventh copy during the session, gratis. SAMUEL D. PATTERSON, Harrisburg, Nov. 7, 1836.

SCOTT'S RING-WORM OINTMENT.

FOR the cure of Ringworm, there is said to be nothing equal to this Ointment—many having been cured by its use. For sale at the Drug Store of Dr. J. GILBERT, Gettysburg. November 14, 1836. 14-33
