PROSPECTUS

OF THE Southern Literary Messenger, THOMAS W. WHITE, Editor & Proprietor

FIGHIS is a monthly Magazine, devoted chiefly to A MARIE IS A MONTHLY MARGEZINE, devoted chiefly to also for articles that fall within the scope of SCIENCE; and not professing an entire disdain of tasteful selections; though its matter has been, as it will continue to be in the main selection.

to be, in the main, original.

Party Politics and controversial Theology, as far as possible, are jualously excluded. They are sometimes so blended with discussions in literature or in mora science, otherwise unobjectionable, as to gain admittance for the sake of the more valuable matter to which they adhere: but whenever that happens, they are incidental only, not primary. They are dross, tolerated only because it cannot be severed from the sterling ore wherewith it is incorporated.

REVIEWS and CRITICAL NOTICES occupy their due space in the work; and it is the Editor's aim that they should have a threefold tendency.—to convey, in condensed form, such valuable truths or interesting inci-dents as are embodied in the works reviewed—to di-rect the reader's attention to books that deserve to be read—& to ware him against wasting time & money upon that large number which merit only to be bur ned. In this age, of publications that by their variety and multitude distract and overwhelm every indiscriminating student, IMPARTIAL CRITICISM, governed by the views just mentioned, is one of the most inespensable of auxiliaries to him wh does wish to discriminate.

Essays and Tales, having in view utility or amusement, or both—Historical Sketches and Remini-SCENCES of events too minute for History, yet elucidating it and heightening its interest—may be regar ded as forming the staple of the work. And of indi genous Poetray, enough is published—sometimes of no mean strain—to manifest and cultivate the grow-no mean strain—to maintest and cultivate the grow-ing poetical tast and talents of our country.

The times appear, for several reasons, to demand such a work—and not one alone, but many. The pub-lis mind is feverish and irritated still, from recent political strifes: The soft, assuasive influence of Litera-ture is needed, to allay that fever, and sooth that irri-tation. Vice and folly are rioting abroad: They should be driven by indignant rebuke, or lashed by ridicule, into their fitting haunts. Iguorance lords it over an immense proportion of our people: Every spring should be set in motion, to arouse the enlightened and to increase their number; so that the great enemy of popular government may no longer brood like a portentous cloud, over the destinies of our country. And to accomplish all these ends, what more powerful agent can be employed than a periodical, on the plan of the Messenger, it that plan be but carried

The South peculiarly requires such an agent. In all the Union south of Washington, there are but two all the Union, south of Washington, there are but two Literary periodicals! Northward of that city, there are probably at least twenty-five or thirty! Is this contrast justified by the wealth, the leisure, the native talent, or the actual literary taste of the Southern people, compared with those of the North? No: for in wealth, talents and taste, we may justly claim at least an equality with our brothren; and a domestic institution exclusively our own, be ond all doubt affords ns. if we choose, twice the loisure for reading fords us, if we choose, twice the leisure for reading nd writing which they enjoy.

It was from a deep sense of this local want that the word SOUTHERN was engrafted on this periodical: and not with any design to nourish local prejudices, or to advocate supposed local interests. Farfrom any such thought; it is the Editor's fervent wish to see the North and South bound endearingly together for ever in the silken bands of mutual kindness and affect tion. So far from meditating hostility to the North he has already drawn, and he hopes hereafter to draw much of his choicest matter thence; and happy in deed will be deem himself, should his pages, by make ing each region know the other better, contribute in any essential degree to dispel the lowering clouds that now threaten the peace of both, and to brighten and strengthen the sacred ties of fraternal love. The Southean Literary Messeeness has now reached the 11th No. of its third volume. How far it hastacted out the ideas here uttered, is not for the Editor to say. He believes, however, that it falls not further short of them than human weakness usually makes Practice fall short of Theory.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

HE subscriber wishes to inform his pat rons, and others who may wish to patonize him in future, that he has recently ourchased Mr. Callihan's Patent Right for the use of his valuable improvement in mak-

Spring-seat

Notwithstanding the prejudices against these Saddles heretofore, he feels justifiable in saying, that he hopes to gain the confi dence and patronage of the public -as he is enabled, on the present principle, to ensure all his saddles without any extra charge. -That a soft, easy saddle is desirable to all persons who ride much, and particularly to hose who may not be favored with a very pleasant horse; I presume all persons will unhesitatingly patronize the spring saddles, when they will be ensured as long as the purchaser may deem necessary.

The elasticity of the Saddle acting in har mony with the symetry of the horse and rider, not only affords ease to the man, but incalculable advantage to the horse. All persons of judgment and experience must know, that a dead, unclastic weight on a horse is oppressive. The Spring in the Girth affords the following advantages: 1st Moving or yielding with the horse's chest in breathing, no cramps or cholics or any disease can rise therefrom. 2d. The girth wil outlast two or three of the common kind. because the yielding of the spring on the sudden expansion of the chest prevents the girth from breaking, and saves the rider from falling; many falls have heen the fruits of breaking girths. GENTLEMEN and LADIES are invited to apply, as the little difference in the cost of these and the hard Saddles is so trifling, and incomparable with the difference in comfort and safety. N. B. Saddlers in the country can be accommodated with Township or Shop Rights at a trifling cost.
