Opportunities have thus been afforded me of knowing him in all the relations of life as an officer and as a man, and of being enabled to form a pretty correct estimate of his military and civil services, as well as his qualifications and fitness for office. 1 know him to be open and brave in his disposition, of active and industrious habits, uncompromising in his principles, above all guile and intrigue, and a pure, honest, nobleninded man, with a heart overflowing with warm and generous sympathics for his fellow man. As a military man, his daring, chivalrous courage inspired his men with confidence, and spread dismay and terror to his enemies. In all his plans he was uccessful. In all his engagements, he was victorious. He has filled all the various civil and military offices committed to him by his country, with sound judgment and spotless fidelity. In every situation, he was cautious and prudent, firm and energetic, and his decisions always judicious. acquirements as a scholar, are varied and extensive, his principles as a statesman, sound, pure and republican.
