STAR & REPUBLICAN BANNER.

G. WASHINGTON BOWEN, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.

"The liberty to know, to utter, and to argue, freely, is above all other liberties."-MILTOR.

РОД. ЦД.-ЭРО.: 18.

CATTYSBORG, PA., TVBSDAY, JVNB 16, 1840.

COUNTY BUILDING, ABOVE THE OFFICE OF

THE REGISTER AND RECORDER.

I. The STAR & REPUBLICAN BANNER is pub lished at TWO DOLLARS per annum (or Volune of 52 numbers.) payable half-yearly in adrance: or TWO DOLLARS & FIFTY CENTS. if not paid until after the expiration of the year. II. No subscription will be received for a shorter period than six months; nor will the paper be discontinued until all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the Editor. A failure to notify a discontinuance will be considered a new engagement and the paper forwarded accordingly.

III. ADVERTISENENTS not exceeding a square will be inserted TAREE times for $1, and 25 cents for each subsequent insertion-the number of insertion to be marked, or they will be published till forbid and charged accordingly; longer ones in the same proportion. A reasonable deduction will be made to those who advertise by the year.

IV. All Lettersand Communications addressed to the Elitor by mail must be post-paid, or they jolly, pleasant, matronly looking woman for will not be attended to

"With sweetest flowersenrich'd, From various gardenscull'd with care."

FOR THE STAR AND REPUBLICAN CANNER. EFFECTS OF TIME. I cast my cycs o'er nature's vast domain, And 'spied a temple in the distant plain; It reared its stately pinnacle on high, Until it blended with the lofty sky. O'erflowing streams, with furious dread replete, Against this lovely, precious temple beat, And Nature's God, with banner wide unfurl'd, Against its walls his thunderbolts had hurl'd; But yet it stood firm as a solid rock, Like adamant,-resisted every shock.

I saw a lofty, stately, tow'ring oak, Whose sprealing branches were as yet unbroke; The playful lambs were frisking 'neath its shade, And thus their joy and innocence displayed;-Whilst choral songsters on its branches sang, Till woods and groves with strains harmoniou rang.

I saw a youth that never yet had sighed, His mother's idol and his father's pride; Now in the morn of life, his smiling face Adorned with charming "lineaments of grace;" His harmless mind no earthly sorrow knew, Nor ever dreamt what stern Old age might do.

It was my lot to roam in distant lands, And wander far and wide o'er foreign strands. I longed for a return, but yet,-alas! Full many a year from home was doomed to pass

I returned,-but lo! that temple was no more, That lovely spot another aspect wore. In shattered ruins lay its sacred halls, And moss and grass grew rankly on its walls, And now the owl's loud cry at midnight hour Reverberated through its ruined tower.

Office of the Star & Banner |I took a fritive peep at the gentleman behind | we could be supplied with what you did not more from his credit and business, and | A fellow whose countenance was homely the counter. I didin't like his looks at all; deal in. Could you tell us where to find a makes him more wretchedly careless what enough to scare the old one, was giving shoemaker-a respectable shoemaker.'

low, with a long, sharp, red nose, and, 1 Mrs. Askenside laughed. 'My husband, on a serious thought, or if he do, it is such when he was observed by a Yankee, who dow some evenings ago, when two mechanthought, altogether, a sort of person likely to do a little business in the short weight much obliged to you for any employment again. you may be pleased to put in his way." way with those who dealt with them. I thought too, from the glance I took of his I now laughed too; for the idea was behead, that there was a deficiency in his coming, I thought, exceedingly amusing .bump of conscientiousness. Him, therefore, 'A shoemaker, is he?' said I, that's odd, but ligious society were in the practice of hold- thought as how you might have fallen in I struck off the list, and preceeded to the fortunate too. Where is his shop? where ing conference meetings in the church, at the brook when you was a boy, and your any work yet? I have not."

This man was, in all personal respects, the very opposite of the other; he was a fat, high. He works up stairs in the house; he gruff savage looking monster, from whom I has a small room set apart for the purpose. did not think much civility was to be expec- Will you walk up and see him, sir, if you ted; nor did I like the act in which I found please?' she added, pointing to an inside him when I peeped through the window-this was, throwing a basket at the head of his apprentice. Probably it was deserved. I did so; and found Mr. Aikenside, a very but I did not like the choler it exhibitedrespectable looking man hard at work in the so I passed on to the third. Here was a shopkeeper. I was taken with her appear. in the shop before, so he knew me. ance, so in I popped, and we soon came to an understanding. I opened negotiations work done in your way.'

by the purchase of a couple of pounds of tea, Most happy to serve you sir, said Mr. Aia proportionate quantity of sugar, and several kenside.

other little odds and ends, for which I had a commission from my wife. We found worth your attention, I doubt, but better He arose with the most importuibable gravthe articles excellent, our worthy, jolly gro- things will probably follow." ceress civil and obliging ; and all, therefo.e, "Don't matter what it is, sir-don't matter so far as this went, was right. how trifling. Glad and ready to do any that he had lived for five and twenty years The grocer, however, although a most thing in my way however small; always the nearest neighbor of Mr. D.; that he knew convenient soit of personage, cannot supply thankful for employment."

all the wants of a family, there is another, 'Then, sir we shall deal,' said I. There's still more essential, inasmuch as he is nethat stand in need of repairing." cessary not only to our comfort, but almost to our existence-the baker. We still wanted a baker; having hitherto bought our done to your satisfaction : or l'll send one of down under the visible and audible smile of loco faco match, as to stop two young lov bread in a straggling sort of a way. What these lads for them directly." we wanted, then, was a regular baker; and not knowing well where to look for one, we going tradesnian then-one who seemed to applied to our obliging groceress. The

(now what he was about, and who, I had no | you when you get out of church." worthy woman seemed delighted with the doubt, would do his work well; just, in short, inquiry—we wondered why; she thus solv-ed the mystery. "Why sir," she said, "my I was altogether much I was altogether much pleased with the son's a baker; his shop is just a little further man, and could not help laughing remark- uncommon cause of loss of vital powers is on. He will be very happy to supply you, ing to him the oddity of my finding so many the young sleeping with the aged. The and I undertake to warrant his giving you of the wants of life supplied by one family. fuct, however explained, has been long re- gans, that "none but free negroes are the and put it on wrong side out, and that was "Well pleased to find that our little expen- the milliner, the teacher of music, and the prejudiced observer. But it has been most hear that? The administration, moreover, linings; when I awoke well, I, like a sensi-diture would, at least so far as the addition shoemaker, all in one family-all living to- unaccountably overlooked in medicine. I announces, that, hereafter no young man ble fellow, took it off, brushed it, and then of bread went, be still kept in the family, we gether. proceeded forthwith to the shop of the baker. It was a very respectable looking one, another still to add,' said Mr. Atkenside, a few years since, consulted about a pale, and the baker himself a civil, obliging fellow; appreciating the humor of the thing. We sickly and thin boy, of about five or six so we settled matters with him on the in | can furnish you with a tailor, too; and its years of age. He appeared to have no spestant.

It was, I think, somewhere about three own son, as any in town, be the other who weeks after this, that our servant girl brought he may.' along with a quantity of butter for which she had been sent to Mrs. Aikenside's-the is this to end? Pray, where does he hang ter inquiring into the history of the case, it same time.-Prentice.

name, by way, of our worthy groceress-a out?" very handsome card, which ran thus: 'Mrs. Jane Aikenside begs to intimate to her to the door, and called out, 'Jim, I say, grandmother, a very aged person took him the Catholic pricest, administered the tee- for every day I am out of work, and considfriends and the public, that she has begun come here a moment.' business in the millinery and dress making Jim came - a smart, and although in the lost his good looks; and he continued to de- district of Tipperary, in one day to 16,000 not voting for him. When his party came becomes of all. Indeed, he dares not enter some extra flourishes in a public house,

THE CONFESSIONAL! -- In a town some fif-

which they made a kind of audible confes-

'Oh, he has no shop; shop rents are so sion, technically called recounting one's "experience." A very pious member of the church, Mr. D-, was in the habit of inviting his neighbor Mr. L ....., who was not a member, to attend these meetings, at ston to Dublin by a carman, who, looking star, which conducted from the shop to the one of which Mr. D---- got up and stated discontentedly at the fare paid him, said, to the congregation that he was a great sin- "Shure, your honor will give a triffe more ner-that he sinned daily, with his eyes than this?" "Not a rap," said the Captain. midst of two or three journeymen and ap- ned-that goodness dwelt not in him-that prentices. He had seen me several times he was absolutely and totally depraved-that do you mean?" asked Johnson, anxiously. nothing but the boundless mercy and infinite "Faix dat's tellings, any way; and is it only 'Mr. Askenside,' said 1, 'I want a little goodness of God could save him from cter. for my fare I'm to tell my news?" "Well nal damnation. After this confession of well," said the captain, "here's another shill

Mr. D----, Mr. L-----, who had by acci- ling; now what has happened?" "Sorra the dent been placed upon the "anxious seat," harm at all, only I thought you'd not be-'It is but a small matter though-hardly was called upon to recount his "experience." ity, stated that he had very little to say of himself, but the brethren would remember the whole congregation, the parson not ex- ors from getting married, when they take it Here was an active, prompt, thorough cepted, Mr. D. went up to him and said, into their heads to do so. "You are a rascal and a liar, and I'll lick

Do'NT SLEEP WITH YOUR GRANDMOTHER.

"There," said 1, "is the grocer, the baker, marked, and it is well known to every un-good hand, 1 will say it, though he be my cific ailment, but there was a slow, and re-came out that he had been a robust and ple "Why, sir, in the next room,' and he went thoric child up to his third year, when his WHOLE MO. 582.

From the Pilot. READ BOTH SIDES.

MR. EDITOR:-1 was sitting at my win-

sir,' she said, 'is a shoemaker, and will be melancholy that it sends him to be drunk asked him 'if he did'nt fall into a brook ics met each other, and began to talk just when young?' 'What do you mean, you below me. Being pleased with the good impertinent scoundrel?' was the reply .-sense of their conversation, I tork up my

Why, I did at mean nothing, only you have pen, and, as well as I can recollect, wrote it y miles from Boston, the members of a re- got such an all-fired crooked mouth, I down. flere it is: "Good morning, John; have you found

"No," said John, "not one stroke; nomother hung you up by the mouth to dry."

body's doing anything." "What are things coming to, if they keep on at this rate," said his companion. "I don't know, indeed," said John; I can't

Capt. Johnson had been driven from Kinglive on one day's work in a week, and support my family. Bill, I hate to go home and see my poor children; for God only knows how long it will be before they are open-that he willingly and knowingly sin- "Bad luck to me but you would," persisted crying to me for bread; it's all owing to the ned-that goodness dwolt not in him-that Paudge, "if you knew all, then." "What currency, and our rulers should better it; they have the power."

"They are going to, John."

"Yes," replied he, "and their attempts are like the man who undertook to make his horse live on one straw a-day; his experiment went on bravely, with this exception, grudge a little extra som'at to know that I that before he had reduced him to the one straw diet, he was dead."

"Why, John, you talk like a Whig." "So I am."

"You a Whig."

"Yes, you need'nt stare-the story is hort; I had nothing to do, so I got the papers, and read both sides, and now I mean o go it strong for Tippecanos." "Well!"

"Yes, it's very well indeed."

"But, John, the boys will laugh at you, and call you "turn-coat."

"Let them, and those of them I can't thrash Filtry to. I know my business best, and I know who is my friend; Old Tip is, qutred if they had a skull of Newton? When and Martin Van Buren is not. Tip's a inswered in the negative, she said, 'I won. brave old soldier, and an honest man; and what is still better, a working man, like myself. As regards the coat, I'll tell you how The administration says, through its or- it is; I got up in the morning half asleep, occupants of log cabins." Boys, do you the Van Buren side, all threads, seams and exception at the change; but him a greater fool who is ashamed to turn his coat right; but would, because he put it on wrong in the morning, wear it so all day."

"But John, what's your reasons?"

"For these: Van Buren's experiments and I am consequently out of work; he has, therefore, virtually taken my wages from A Limerick paper says-Mr. Matthew, me, and I mean to charge him in my book to sleep with her; that he soon afterwards total pledge in Nenagh, the most Protestant er the sum total so many good reasons for The Society now consists of 700,- into office, they found the best of currencies, and I found work plenty; both are gone to Davy Jones' Locker. He promised us a gold and silver currency. Where is it?-Why, here is one of the ghosts of the humbug," and he took out a shinplaster levy. "But. John, it was the Whigs and the drive ye the last three miles without a lynchpin."-Ploying About, by Bencon Hill. "YOU CAN'T STOP THEM."-TLO Buffalenian says it would as soon try to go to sea him well-more intimately so than any on a shingle, make a ladder of fog, chase a other man-and it gave him great pleasure, streak of lightning through a crab apple orparcel of my youngster's shoes at home because he could do it with entire sincerity, chard, swim up the rapids of the Nizgara to confirm the truth of all brother D. had river, raise the dead, stop the tongue of a 'Send them over sir, and they shall be confessed of himself. When Mr. L. sat woman, or set Lake Eric on fire with a

A lady, visiting the British Museum, in-

-Transferring of Vital Power.-A not dor at that, they have got one at Oxford '

PAYING FOR NEWS -On returning to his family, after an absence of some weeks, have on several occasions, met with the who is married shall receive an appointment put it on right. Now the Tip side is out; 'Ay, but you have forgot one-there's counterpart of the following case. I was, as an officer of the army. Girls, do you and I consider that man a fool who takes an hear that? - Prentice.

speak the truth though the heavers fall."markable decline of flesh and strength, and | We apprehend, that these two extraordinary of the energy of all the functions-that his events, his utterance of the truth and the Bless my soul a tailor too!' said I; 'where mother aptly termed a gradual blight. Af falling of the beavens, will occur about the bave played the d-1 with the currency,

The editor of the Globe says that he "will

That lefty, tow'ring oak, that was so green. Presented now a widely different scene;-The winds were playing at their pleasure there, Where now but barren branches pierced the air.

That blooming youth, who never yet had sighed, His mother's idol and his father's pride,-He too was changed: for stern Old age had now Wrinkled his face and furrowed his fair brow.

Who this destroyer, to myself I said, That on these objects has such changes made? From underneath a hollow murmur came, "Time is the fell destroyer of the same." "I was when the glad stars hymned the new-borr carth

And young creation teveled in his birth His course commenced; and he'll continue on Until his destined course he shall have run. And when the earth and stars shall disappear,-The sun be plucked from his exalted sphere,-The moon be veiled in blood,-and, like a scroll, The flaming firmament together roll! Then shall an angel from the throne of God. Come down on earth.at Heaven's assenting nod And, with one foot on sea and one on land, Raise his voice and wave his threat'ning hand. And cry aloud: "I swear the mystery 's o'er, Time is, Time was, but Time shall be no more!" Pennsylvania College, 2 W. May, 1840.

MISOBLLANBOUS.

THE USEFUL FAMILY.

On removing some time ago to a new in order, in the first place, to see what like the general run of shops in our neighborhood row the matter of selection to three shops of table family whose services we had alrendy like to do things deliberately. This deliberation, then, reidered another tour of observation necessary.

"even alter a very careful survey, in the extersals of entire of the three shops to decide my final choice, I resolved, in the conceit on being guided by the result of a glance at dered yet more remarkable. the general personal appearances of the re-

one dishabille of his calling. be' bestowed in the execution of all orders ing lad. with which she may be favored.' At the Here continued Mr. Aikenside, addressbottom of the card-'Availing herself of this ing his son-there is a gentleman, who opportunity, Miss Mary Aikenside takes the doesn't say he wants anything in your way liberty of announcing, that she continues to just now, but who may, probably do so by instruct young ladies in music, on the terms and by.' formerly advertised, namely, two guineas Jim bowed politely and not ungracefully, ner quarter, of three lessons per week." and saying he would be proud of any little share of my employment which I should 'Aikenside!' said I, on perusing the card; who are they these Misses Aikenside?' think fit to afford him, put a handsome em-

'Relations of the grocers, I dare say, said my wife. We inquired, and found they were her daughters.' 'Very fortunate,' said my wife, 'I was just father; they were promptly and well done, new frocks and my own gown. We can't employed him both to make and mend for process of converting the grain into liquor, The whole smount of passage money is $20,175 do better than give them to Mrs. Aikenside's us. daughters.'

The experiment of a suit for one of my I thought so too, and moreover, said so, boys was soon after made of the son's skill but being a matter not within my province, as a workman; it was satisfactory-more I interfered no further in it. My wife, how than satisfactory. He, therefore, was m. ever, lost no time in calling on Miss Aikenside who carried on her business in her given all our work, both old and new. mother's house, which was immediately over So, good reader, there we are. This the shop. The interview was satisfactory single family of the Aikenside one way and to both parties. My wife was much pleased anothor, get at least three-fourths of our enwith both the appearance and manners of tire income, and right welcome are they to Miss Aikenside, and with the specimens of it, for they give a full and fair value in rework which she submitted. The children's turn.' frocks and the gown wore, therefore, immediately put into her hands. The work was THE DRUNKARD.-A drunkard is one well done; my wife said she had not seen that will be a man of to-morrow morning, more accurate fits for a long time; so, from but is now what you will make him, for he porkers we saw sitting on their haunches; this date, Miss Aikenside got all our milline ry to do.

The intercourse which this brought on himself from the hold and stay of reason, and and is afraid others will find it out. between the female members of the two lies open to the mercy of all temptations.families afforded my wife and daughters an No fust but finds him disarmed and fenceopportunity of hearing Miss Mary Aiken. less, and with the least assault enters. If quarter of the town, where I was an entire side's performances on the piano-for she, any mischief escape him, it was not his looked in the next day, and if there could at the ground floor. Another stone of sev- ing, thieving rascal out west." too, resided with her mother, with which fault, for he was laid as fair for it as he out for a respectable grocer with whom we they were all delighted; she was, they said, could. Every man sees him, as Shem saw might deal for family necessaries. With an excellent performer; my wife adding, his father, the first of this sin, an uncovored had acted very foolish." this object in view, I one day, shortly after that as it was now full time that our two man, and though his garment be on, uncovour settlement in our new domicile, sallied eldest girls had began music (of which, in- ered, the secret parts of his soul lying the out on an exploratory expedition, through deed, we had been thinking for some time nakedast manner visible; all his passions our own, and some of the adjoining streets, previously,) we might just send at once to come out now, all his vanities, and those Miss Aikenside. I offered no objection, shamefuller humors which discretion clothes. but, on the contrary was very glad that we His body becomes at last like a miry way, were. The result of this tour was to nar- could yet further patronise the very respec- where the spirits are beclogged and cannot pass; all his members are out of his office, respectable appearance: which of these, found so useful; so to Miss Mary Aikenside and his heels do but trip up one anotherhowever, I should eventually patronize, I our two daughters were sent to learn music; He is a blind man with eyes, and a cripple did not at the moment determine, as I always and very rapid progress they subsequently with legs on. All the use he has of this so plenty in Granville, in this State, that made under her tuition.

It was only now-that's after my two girls drinking is but a scooping in of so many is obliged to stand by the hock with a club, to houses. The current of the river has chan- of the question, that "though General Harhad began music with Miss Aikenside-that quarts, which are filled out into his body, prevent more than one from biting at a time! ged so as to throw its fury on the bank im- rison had lived in a log house, he might yet On this second excursion, seeing nothing, I began to perceive the addity of the circum- and that filled out again into room, which stance of having so many of our wants sup is commonly as drunk as he. Tobacco plied by one family; for I may add, the ba-serves to air him after a washing, and is his Herald states, (we know not with what truth) property of the citizens must inevitably be tators roared out "never." Judge Barton ker, who was unmarried, also lived with his conly breath, and breathing while. He is that the Court of Inquiry at West Point has ingulphed, as the bank is continually crum- promptly ordered other proceedings suspenof a pretty ready appreciation of character, mother. But this was an oddity, to be ren- the greatest enemy to himself, and the next already developed some extreme cases of bling, and sometimes in very large slides. ded and the arrest of the disturber for conaline ever since, notwithstanding medical persons. treatment. I directed him to sleep apart 000 members. from the aged parent, and prescribed tonics, change of air, etc. The recovery was rapid. It is not with children only that debility is induced by this mode of abstracting vital power. Those in good health should never sleep with sickly persons.

genteol look

other particulars relative to his business.

THE CANAJOHARIE RADII, a paper printed and edited by a deaf mute, gives the folbossed card in my hand, with his name and lowing account of a recent swinish revel in that place: The children's shoes were sent to the

"On Saturday an incident took place at the distillery which would do for an example out by the British Queen amounted to $3,at a loss where I should go with the girls' and the consequence was, that we henceforth to bipeds of more notoriety. During the 000. some part of the machinery gave way, Amount of freight which turned the liquor into the place where Amount of postage the swine are kept. The hogs (about sixty in number) soon began to drink with the relish of old topers; and like them, the longer stantly dubbed our tailor, and from this time they drank, the more thirsty they became, until the whole stye was turned into a bacchanalian revel-running and tumbling over each other-then rubbing their shours one against another, which were probably expressions of eternal friendship, as we have seen drunken loafers seize each other by the hand to demonstrate their fraternal regard.

friend, the better. One that hath let go he knows he is disqualified for locomotion, of the revellers, and they all united in sleep- floors of buildings. A rock three feet long in one case, they actually applied the old ing off the fumes of their debauch. We fell on the roof of a warehouse, and stopped fable of the fox and the flies to some reguebe penitent hogs, there were some among oral pounds weight cut through a roof and

Dr. Hitchcock pulls teeth so easily that a man the other day begged him to "finish the row," after he had removed a decayed one carried into the room. Nothing but the -he said he enjoyed it. We had scarcely finished reading the above when we noticed the following in the Boston Transcript. Those Boston wags are ahead yet. We pass:-Good Fishing .-- It is said that trout are vessel himself is to hold thus much, for his when one man is fishing for them, another bout 300 feet, bringing the water near the Hubbell or Mr. Campbell, on the other side to his friend, and then most in the act of his moral abandonment. Drunkenness, pro- About a month since a boat landed and dis- tempt of court. He was brought forward; 'Mrs. Aikenside, my good lady,' said I, kindness, for his kindness is but trying a fanity, lasciviousness and peculation are de- charged considerable freight, we are told, and several witnesses having certified to his: spective shopkeep is. On pretence then of on dropping one day into the shop, 'you were mastery who shall sink down first, and men scribed as having been things of daily and and before the drays arrived to receive it, a dentity, he was fined fifty dollars by the' examining a box of Turkey figs that lay in good enough, besides furnishing us with come from him as from a battle, wounded nightly occurrence among the cadets. We slide occurred which took with it all the Bench as a penalty for his misconduct.

THE BRITISH QUEEN .- This fine vessel took her departure on Monday, punctually at the appointed hour. There are some facts remarkable enough to be recorded.-She has on board 172 passengers, including Banks." children and servants, and of persons belonging to the ship 110-making m all 282 human beings; a number not often exceeded. we imagine, to be enclosed within a ship not belonging to the naval service. The postage received for letters carried

$27,002

THE EXPLOSION AT ALTON-Further Particulars.-The St. Louis Republican, received by last night's mail, contains the following :

After a while the scone changed, and some were in it 490 kegs of powder. The report and acted upon this curious proposition, "a became remarkably testy--others found is represented as tremendous beyond the small rogue's a big rogue, and a big. rogue their legs treacherous; while a few grave imagination of any one who did not hear it. is no rogue at all-he is only a defaulter --is in the power of the next man, and if a and looking as foolish as a man does when which remains on the ground. Some stones five dollar note and you will be sent to jail; In about an hour Momus took possession cut their way through the roof and several much surprised you didn't take more; and them. They all appeared as though they two floors, and fell on a bed between a man go and read both sides. May be my old every pane of glass in Lower and Upper Alseveral other buildings the sashes were hour at which it occurred prevented the loss of life.

THE WEST POINT INQUINY .-- The N. Y. | ront continues in its present direction, the ington." A voice among the crowd of spec-

"Pshaw, nousense! nobody in his senses believes that. What have the Whigs to do with our financial affairs? They are not at the head of the government. They were in the minority, but don't intend to be any long; but, admitting this falsehood, a party that would permit a minority to do as they please with our moneys are not fit to rule, and should be turned out. And sgain, I 3,727 should be a fool indeed to vote for a party 3,100 who goes the whole hog for reducing my wages; and that, by the by, I think is very useless, for just let them tinker and cobble away as usual, and the mechanic won't have any wages to be reduced at all. And Mr. Van Buren is not the choice of the people, he was smuggled into the Presidential chair under the old General's popularity. We By the captain of the steamboat Eagle, want no such bastard politicians foisted upwe learn that the powder magazine in Alton, on us. Let a man's own worth, talents, situated above the steam mill, exploded a - ] merit and popularity father him-nor anothbout half past eleven o'clock at night. There ers. And again, this party has proposed The building was of stone, cot a vestage of an absquatulator-bat no rogue. Steal a were thrown across the Mississippi and to steal (don't steal, oh no, only take) a million an immense height, some of which in falling and a half, and you are a fine follow--very

"Well, John, I have no work to do; I will

"Good bye, Bill; tell all your friends to" ton was broken, and in the penitentiary and read both sides too;" and they departed. -----

AN INCIDENT IN COURT .- As may be seen by referring to our record of the business of yesterday in the courts, the "General Sessions" were engaged upon a case of New MADRID .- This town, the great rather a partizan bearing. In the midst of head quarters of earthquakes is in a fair Mr. James Hall Bready's address to the juway of fulling into the river. On the night ry, he took occasion to say, in referring to of the 21st ult there was a land slide of a - a remark which had been made by Mr. mediately in front of the town. If the cur- occupy the first house in the nation at Wash-and his wife-no one was injured. Nearly jucket is on wrong too, so good-bye."