ADAM MOWRY. Oct. 26, 1841.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PEOPLE'S LIBRARY OR MAGAZINE OF CHOICE AND ENTERTAIN-

ING LITERATURE A distinctive characteristic of the present age is the multiplication and cheapness of its literature. In every department of letters new works are constantly falling from the press, and notwithstanding the extraordinary supply, the demand continues with consent considered in Court, on tno- unabated activity. This is especially true of those lighter publications which convey tion by first day of next Term, (November instruction in agreeable and attractive joining lands of William Yetts, Jno. Staley forms, and supply a means of recreation at the same time that they offer facilities for which some new work of this description is more or less, a good proportion of which is improvement. Scarcely a day passes in not given to the public, and though among Meadow and Woodland. The improve the large number thus issued some may be unworthy or useless, generally they are deserving of commendation.

As most of the publications referred to are printed in solid volumes, they are inac cessible to the mass of those readers who are remote from large cities. The cost and the difficulty of transporting books to places which do not lie on the great thoroughfares of the country, are such as to prevent their extensive circulation in the interior, and to make their prices so high, as to impose a serious tax on all who purchase them. To obviate in some degree this difficulty, and to place within the reach of all, the choicest portions of the entertaining literature of the Domestics, Merinoes, French, English and day, the Subscriber intends to publish, in a form suitable for transportation by the mails, beginning on the first day of October inst. a monthly periodical, to be called
