WINFIELD Soort.-One of our neighbors GETARYSEURG STAR say that Gen. Scott is fairly in the field for the Presidency. If this be true, a few particulars in his life aside from his gallant military career, will doubtless be interesting to the public. His bravery and success in the field, are well known; but his qualifications for the chief magistracy of the United States have not yet, we believe, been specially brought out. Their extent, however cannot long remain unknown, it as is said, he is before the people for their suffrages, for the highest political station in their gift. Not hotter was the furnace of Shadrack, Meshao and Abednego, than is that into which he plunges who now a days becomes a candidate for the Presiden cy of the United States.
