Lord Chesterfield says a good appearance is at all times a letter of introduction. How can a man make a 'good appearance' with a face full of pimples, pustules, salt rheum, barber's or Jackson's itch, and various other cutaneous diseases that frequently disfigure the human form. These and similar disorders have their origin in an impure or depraved state of the blood and general fluids of the system, and spring is the time to thoroughly eradicate them from the system, by the timely use of the right medicine. Sand's Sarsaparilla, a purely regetable preparation, which operates on the system strictly in conformity with nature's laws, will entirely remove all impurities from the blood, the grand source of life and bodily vigor, and the patient will speedily feel its healing and regenerating influence on the system, and by its use soon regain health; the skin is renderuse of this valuable remedy.
