

FROM WASHINGTON.

FREE FIGHT IN THE HOUSE.

Special Dispatches to the N. Y. Tribune. Washington, Saturday, Feb. 4—7 a. m. A fight has just occurred on the floor. The House was very quiet, and Mr. Quitman of Miss. having risen to make a proposition...

At 6 o'clock a. m. a proposition was made by Mr. Quitman of Mississippi, for the House to adjourn till Monday, and that then the vote should be taken without further delay, debate, or dilatory motions...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—12 1/2 p. m. The House has just voted by tellers on the demand for the Previous Question, and the result is, Yeas 110, Nays 105...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1858. The fight is over for to-day. The House adjourned at 7 1/2 p. m. after a session of nineteen hours...

much importance may not be adopted or rejected without a general sanction of that action. For our part, we think nothing would be so effective in bringing our farmers and mechanics into friendly competition...

The President's Message on the Leecompton Swindle.

On Monday, the 1st inst., the President sent to Congress the Leecompton Constitution accompanied by a long and very unstatesmanlike message. It will be seen by the following brief abstract...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—12 1/2 p. m. The House has just voted by tellers on the demand for the Previous Question, and the result is, Yeas 110, Nays 105...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

The Potter Journal.

CONDERSPORT, PA., Thursday Morning, Feb. 11, 1857. T. S. CHASE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

No Paper will be issued next week—reason, nothing to print it on.

Messrs. Nichols, Babcock, Stevens, Chase and Williston, the members of the Legislature, from the Wilnot District, left Harrisburg for Washington immediately after hearing of the fight between Grow and Keitt...

Hon. John Dick, will please accept our thanks for a copy of Senator Hale's admirable speech on "Kansas and the Supreme Court;" and also for the kind remembrance of an old and valued friend which is thus manifested.

We are pleased to learn that the Philadelphia and Pittsburg Banks have resumed specie payments. This is certainly a cheering prospect for financial and business matters, and we hope now to see Pennsylvania money received by New Yorkers on more liberal terms.

We hope every farmer—in fact, every one who has the welfare of the country at heart—will attend the Agricultural Meeting called for Tuesday evening next, if convenient.

world by the enormity of its injustice toward an oppressed race, would ever have been announced, had not the way for it been prepared in the professed Church of Christ, and especially by the operations of so respectable a body as the American Tract Society...

This is a serious charge, but our readers will please bear in mind that it is the charge of Congregational Ministers of the Gospel, and not of the writer of this article.

But these pastors go still further, and assert that the society is giving countenance to the notion that "peace and joy in the Holy Ghost may be procured, and may exist, without practical righteousness."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—12 1/2 p. m. The House has just voted by tellers on the demand for the Previous Question, and the result is, Yeas 110, Nays 105...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1858. The fight is over for to-day. The House adjourned at 7 1/2 p. m. after a session of nineteen hours...

who do more! Work their establishments as cheaply as possible—live as frugally and economically as they can—yet few country publishers secure as much property in a dozen years as an industrious mechanic will do in half the time.

Let the public ponder these few simple truths well, and make up their minds to cease the laborious occupation of the Printer, by paying him punctually what he is honestly entitled to.

But these pastors go still further, and assert that the society is giving countenance to the notion that "peace and joy in the Holy Ghost may be procured, and may exist, without practical righteousness."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—12 1/2 p. m. The House has just voted by tellers on the demand for the Previous Question, and the result is, Yeas 110, Nays 105...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1858. The fight is over for to-day. The House adjourned at 7 1/2 p. m. after a session of nineteen hours...

who do more! Work their establishments as cheaply as possible—live as frugally and economically as they can—yet few country publishers secure as much property in a dozen years as an industrious mechanic will do in half the time.

Let the public ponder these few simple truths well, and make up their minds to cease the laborious occupation of the Printer, by paying him punctually what he is honestly entitled to.

But these pastors go still further, and assert that the society is giving countenance to the notion that "peace and joy in the Holy Ghost may be procured, and may exist, without practical righteousness."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—12 1/2 p. m. The House has just voted by tellers on the demand for the Previous Question, and the result is, Yeas 110, Nays 105...

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—2 p. m. The first vote is over. Leecompton is beaten. The resolution of Mr. Harris to refer to a Select Committee is carried, Yeas, 114; Nays, 111. Victory!

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1858. The fight is over for to-day. The House adjourned at 7 1/2 p. m. after a session of nineteen hours...

Mrs. Strickland, since the presence of her husband could not be tolerated, and as probably, no one else in the city would have dared to undertake it, applied herself to the collection of her husband's debts. This has led to a new, public meeting, in which Mrs. Strickland has been ordered to leave the city.

From Kansas.

[From the Leavenworth Ledger, Jan. 18.] THE EFFECT OF THE ELECTION.

Kansas is to be a free state, and will be governed here and represented in both branches of the Congress of the United States by free state men.

There will be an immense influx of people here on the opening of navigation, which will continue steadily until its close, and ere the year '58 closes, we predict a permanent population in this city alone, of twenty thousand.

Business will now commence in reality; capitalists will have no fears concerning investments; merchants, mechanics, and laborers will find plenty to do to keep them busy, and we look forward to a future (not far distant) which will give us all prosperity and happiness.

The Legislature.

The Legislature has provided for the taking of a fair and full census, and the holding of a constitutional convention.

All the odious laws enacted by previous bogus Legislatures have been repealed and replaced by wholesome enactments.

The time has arrived when, in our judgment, the vital interests of the Republican Party, and its solemn duty to the cause of Freedom, Labor, and Humanity, alike imperatively demand that Republicans should assemble from every part of the State, for the purpose of firmly organizing the party on the solid and distinct basis of its own principles.

Extract from a letter by the Rev. Mr. Churchill of Boston, who is now travelling for his health in the East.

It gives one an ever present idea of the expansive enterprise of his countrymen, to find their commodities of commerce continually in his path wherever he goes.