VIII. Divine judgments are denounced against oppression.

When the people of Judah resolve upon continuing their servitude in bondage and accounting them as property, Jehovah says, "If ye oppose not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt; then I will cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers forever and ever. Execute judgment in the morning, (or betimes) and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hands of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it."

God whom he hath not seen." Do you demand of me to "phropecy smooth things" when the thunder tones of God's righteous judgments are pealing our funeral knell?

It can no longer be said that we have nothing to do with slavery. It is brought to our very doors, and we must meet it at our own thresholds. There are papers published at Philadelphia and New York more poisonous, more deadly hostile to liberty, than could have been found in Charleston or New Orleans ten years ago. These filthy proslavery sheets you would formerly have spurned and detested, when you used to say you were "as much opposed to slavery as anybody."

hereafter give the influence of his office in this county, against the principles of the Declaration of Independence.

The same diligence in scattering the truth among the people, will produce the same result in every county in the State. So we exhort our friends in other sections, to open the next campaign at once. As soon as the people understand what the Slave Power is doing, they will abandon the party that sustains it.

The October Elections.

The result of the election for State officers has proved as we were led to suppose it would by the apathy evinced by our friends throughout the State, during the entire campaign. But very little effort was made, except by Judge Wilnot, to secure any other result, and Border Ruffianism has triumphed once more.

will sell and pay his debts, might as well wait for a competence till his yet unborn grandchildren shall remember him in their wills.

"If you are so blest as to have means and owe nothing, try to help those who need help by buying of rather than lending to them. Many things are now selling as far below their real value as they were formerly held above it.

Buchanan and Free Kansas.

As our hunker friends are trying very hard to make out that Buchanan really is doing something for free Kansas; we will call the attention of the people to what he has done. He has continued every Border Ruffian in office, and has removed the only Free State Democrat whom President Pierce retained in office in Kansas.

Buchanan vs. Clay—Both Profoundly Astonished!

Mr. Clay, on the 22d of July, 1850, a period of great political darkness, it is true, delivered himself as follows: "I am aware that the gentlemen who maintain that, in virtue of the constitution, the right to carry slaves south of that line (36°30') already exists, and that, of course, those who maintain that opinion, want no other security for the transportation of their slaves south of that line than the constitution."

which the business world for sixty days and better, has been tossed, is passed, and though the haven reached is the one which was most to be shunned, it nevertheless affords quiet for the hour, and hope of security in the future.

The Governor of New York will not call an extra session of the Legislature, as the Courts of the state, have decided that the suspension of specie payments, by the Banks under the circumstances, does not forfeit their charters.

HANG OUT THE BANNER.

"Hang out the banner on the outward wall," and the cry will be "still they come." Traitors to the interests of Pennsylvania have succeeded. The designing demagogues, who have their bleary eyes squinting on the Presidency, have signally humbugged a sufficient number of fools in Pennsylvania to place in the gubernatorial chair Mr. Buchanan's nominee, Mr. Paeker, which base act has fastened Pennsylvania to the car of Slavery in territories now free.

Robt. C. Walker, late Secretary of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Society, has been appointed receiving and distributing clerk in the Agricultural Department of the Patent Office.

Very likely Mr. Walker had "opinions and preferences" at one time against the Buchanan party, but we doubt if he ever had any principles to change. We take it, he belongs to that class, who support a party on account of its offices, and not for its principles. Such men are odiously numerous in Harrisburg and Washington.

Snow.—On Monday night when we went to bed rain was falling, and in the morning we found about an inch of snow on the ground.

To Our Patrons.—In view of the tightness of the money market, we will take all kinds of grain, at market prices, in payment of accounts due us. We will also take a few cords of 20 inch wood on account if delivered immediately. We desire a few bushels of good Potatoes immediately, on account of subscriptions, for which we will pay the highest market price.

Sarsaparilla and its Action.

Alternative medicines are those remedies which are given with the view to correct and re-establish the healthy functions of the animal economy without any visible action—of which class the Sarsaparilla belongs. Of all the preparations of that root, physicians invariably recommend the compound syrup manufactured by Dr. T. A. Hurley, as being the only genuine extract.—State Gazette N. Y.

A Card.

However much a man may wish to escape notoriety, untoward events will sometimes occur over which he has no control. As I was returning from Allegany Co., N. Y., on the 6th inst. Mr. Mills overtook me, and informed me that a brother-in-law and nephew of mine and Samuel Griffin who works for me, all boys between the ages of 15 and 19 had been taken on business and got into a fight.

The Potter Journal.

COUDERSPORT, PA. Thursday Morning, Oct. 22, 1857. T. S. CHASE, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

We have received a copy of The Republic—a new Republican journal edited and published at Washington City by Geo. M. Weston, assisted by Dan. R. Goodloe, of North Carolina. The paper presents a fair appearance and is edited with ability. It is well worth the liberal support of Republicans everywhere and we hope it will be extensively patronized.

Important Propositions.

Clipping with Emerson's Magazine and Putnam's Monthly.—We are pleased to state that we have made arrangements, by which we are enabled to offer the JOURNAL and the above named Magazine together to subscribers for $3.25 per annum in advance. The recent union of the United States Magazine with Putnam's Monthly, renders the consolidated Magazine one of the ablest and best published in the United States.

LITTLE POTTER TRUE TO FREEDOM.

The victory over hunkerism was more complete at the last election in this county than ever before, and the vote here shows what the people will do for Freedom when they fairly understand the question at issue. The allies of Slavery only ventured to present one candidate for a county office, and though they made use of two rather green Republicans who consented to act as aids in the election of an old hunker for Recorder, the people stood firm, and have thus placed the whole influence of this county on the side of Freedom.

The Money Troubles.

There is great distress all over the country and likely to be more. But we judge there is less in this County, and less danger of its increase, than in most parts of the country. There are many reasons for this good fortune to us, which we will not stop to enumerate, because we desire now to aid in improving our condition.

Items for the Times.

The last N. Y. Independent contains a list of one hundred and sixty-eight failures and still they come. The Directors of the Bank of Middletown, passed a resolution on Monday two weeks, making themselves individually liable for all their notes.

DEAR SIR: I appreciate your disinterested efforts in doing "justice to Mr. Olmsted."

Your version however, does not alter the complexion of the affair, materially. If I have made any misstatements I would gladly stand corrected. Not having access to the Journal I accepted Mr. ———'s statement, the gentleman who suggested the move to Harrisburg, Oct. 17, 1857.

my name; and caused every man his servant, and every man his hand-maid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for hand-maids. Therefore thus saith the Lord; ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty every one to his neighbor; and ye made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name; but you turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his hand-maid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for hand-maids.

Time would fail me to give a description of similar judgments upon Babylon, Tyre, Rome and other nations for their oppression. I had thought of asking you to ponder upon the inevitable fate of these United States, if the present slave extending policy is to be pursued. I will content myself, however, by quoting a few lines from Jefferson, the apostle of democracy and civil liberty. He exclaims: "What a stupendous, what an incomprehensible machine is man! who can endure toil, famine, stripes, imprisonment, death itself, in vindication of his own liberty, and the next moment he deaf to those motives whose power supported him through his trial, and inflict on his fellow man a bondage, one hour of which is fraught with more misery than ages of that which he rose in rebellion to oppose. And can the liberties of a nation be thought secure when we have removed their only firm basis—a conviction in the minds of the people that these liberties are of the gift of God; that they are not to be violated but with his wrath? Indeed I tremble for my country when I reflect on God is just; that his justice cannot sleep forever; that, considering numbers, nature, and natural means only, a revolution of the wheel of fortune, an exchange of situation is among possible events; that it may become probable by supernatural interference! The Almighty has no attribute which can take side with us in such a contest."

Our responsibility is greater than ever rested upon a people before. RULES, in former times, decided such questions; but now it for each individual to say whether you will have slavery or Freedom. Which do you choose? In all earth's history no nation was ever thus brought before God, and in view of the world, to answer such a question. It is a position of the most solemn importance, and fixes the intense gaze of nations. It is impossible for any of us to ignore the question, evade the issue, or shirk the momentous responsibility. My profession does not absolve me from any of my obligations as a citizen; but rather increases my accountability. I shall not fulfil my duty to God until I have faithfully performed my whole duty to my country, and to my fellow men.—For he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love
