Qefye Sisfter Contuf?

|  |  |  |  |  | AP Cevt |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| IE X.- Muiliber. |  |  |  |  | S.-\%1.25 PER ANAMUR |
| $\qquad$ | 息igimal foctry. |  tütu of Farquier's Folly-doubtless to | "Do you command me to infur:a you? "No, sir; I keg you, of your courtess to do so." | not put the guestion in the ustal form, bat merely inquired what should be hier future fate. The answer drawa was- |  in it you will get the continauation of tan |
| To. whom all Leteter and Coumunictions |  |  | "Yery well," he sald, dropping his roiee to a low undertone, "It was to be |  |  |
|  |  | tite of Farguier s Folly-doubtess to ${ }_{j}$ property for his grandson. | wurship." deep viria blush supplanted the | "I declare, if here is not Mr. Hugh Hawe." exclained the lively lilly, as |  |
|  |  | But, unhappis, , Goofrey had nortally |  |  |  |
|  |  | ing an arricultural lite and persisting in | bright smile that quivered uver Honora's | He odd miser sauntered deliberately to the tablo, and stood looking with indolent cu- | The Ledger is mailed, to subseribers; |
|  |  | had resulted in his own disinheritance?. | en at length py her yuice, as siee sently inquired- | riosity upon the game of the young peo- | your letters to Robert Booner, publisher, |
|  |  | lis | inquire- And the forth? ? | He "Coure, Mr. Hawe! I declare, you shall have suur fortune told! | it $\Delta \mathrm{An}$ street, New York. It is the |
|  |  | So fave his depheer, Dr. Heary Ha | ce anserer cane entinetantly, and in | "Well, well the comunand of goung |  |
|  |  | Farquiters Foilly At this time, the distinguished heir, |  | the ild wina, callantly, ss. he extended his hand and dicev a card, which he pissed to | : The story is, of itself alone; worth the price of the Ledger. To pursue the history of the lovely heroine? Miss Paule-- |
|  |  | ving diusted a teru at thic Cuiversity, |  | Ainid a profound silence, and in a sol-  the Sybil. |  |
|  |  | cation in his native place. It (ris upon the Sturday ereaing of |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  | ereniag, and all the etrange and absorb be a treat for all who take the trooble to |
|  |  | and, inded, the while village if Alta | in the face said with quet firmucss-  ": You doubtless wondor at wy emo | Thy fate hoons full of horror from false frients. |  |
|  |  |  |  |  | Her smile so soft, her heart so kiad,   |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  | and passed thruagh on her vay houle. | dietion wis made to you, I was in Baltimore with my grandmother, and wit |  |  |
|  | Then here are sone black heed-stones, very |  | Mre. Willogghth, who was then Miss | ctimed the old man, sornfuly, has he | Richard Homman. ${ }^{\text {a }}$ : |
|  |  |  | Helue. Curiosity took us to the roons of the Eryptian, who was then practic. ing in that city  And after some such |  |  |
|  |  |  |  | tu |  |
|  |  |  | preparations as hie had used in your anese, |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  | her father's clerks, during the old minn's |
|  |  |  | birthday, I should be a bride, but never a | "as the response. "I would know the future."  ow the future." |  |
|  |  | writh the tust bsautiful and intellectualtooking girl he had ever becheld. Froun twe cheupness and siuplicity of her attio | Wife, for that the fatal form of the scaf- folel arose betacecu the nuptial beuedtiction | "Draw:" said the Sybil, in a tone of | inbence in india, he on his returnd dislatter being overvhelmed by disaipoint- |
|  |  |  | words of the prophecy." She s.oke witha solemintyevery |  | atter being overvhelmed took to drink; and in a few years becane a habitual drunkard; his wife sup: |
| dutimes |  | he suppisised her to be souve poor depend ent of Madaune Auderleg's, in whose per |  | smite, the doctor drew a card, and passed it to the reader. |  |
|  | To bury wey deat oun of our s ghit |    | every other fecling. CIIAPTER II. ne syblis cincle. | "Irear!", suid the latter, lifting the tab  let of fate, and reading- | and noty fine boy in his thirteonth year,  and Maty, a sweet child of six-by sell- |
|  |  |  |  |  | and May, a sweel child thix after auother, the remiantion of |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  | Heiue, Loune after ichurch, what was his astouishment and dismay at being iutro- |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  | crying with cold.  The druuken father was at the draw: |
|  | Which the world seeth not, which no friend may see, | he found to be no other than the cele brited Miss Honora Paule, the greatest heiress and beile, as well is the | hid just taken up their quarters, for ser- "One would really think, to look at iinm, eral days' with Madam Auderly; and the that 'a deep remorse for some unacted odd lady in his bonor at once sent off' criue' preyed ou him |  | shop. $\qquad$ article of value left-a locket hontaining |
|  | Tor dearest brother dream of. The new yearTurns sonl-eyes inward. Many a region dimAs that arotud me-with the ghostly forms |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  | heiress and belle, as well as the best and noblest girl, in the Siate of Virginia-- | cards of invitation to some of the neigh- "Nonsense! Jugglery !" said the lat- |  |  |
|  |  |  |  | ter, turning away to conceal his agitationThe eyes of Honora Pauile followed iim whe eyes of Ho ind ind-there was that upon his brow that slie hand never seeu |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  | tal punishment" having been started, Godirey turned to Honora, and said: | diter, the guests invitted for the evenius |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |   Shail denters witer them fir our good. | Honora started, fixed her eyes intently apun the questioner, aud then withdrawtug them, answered- | The next arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. lady?" |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  | who had ever been kind to her; to consult him abuut sending Riehard aray from the |
|  |  |  |  |  | was surrounded.  On returning home late on. New. Year's eve from her fruitless visit, for the old |
|  | Suletro ©inle | "Beenuse, Miss Paule, I was about to | great fashion and elegance, the lady, a Agnes drem a tablet, ind passed it, as delicate, pensive woman, with a sort of usual, to the Sybil, who read- |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
| e end dispatch. |  | professor of the "re. Willoughby, drawing near with camer interest. |  | $A$ | that her husband had been home and stolen the sum slie had put by for the rent from the place whero she had concealled it and |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  chatier I . |  |  | Agness suddered, and covered her fice | gone of again to "The Crown and Mag.  pie" tavera to wart, chilled and hungry, began to ery for food, and the suffering mother', in hopes of regainiug a portion of the money taken by her husband, set out fith hier childrea to the haunt of vice whither |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  | brought a young girl, uniuvited, bat whom, witli grave courtesy, be presented to his |  |  |
|  |  |  :who was at this tiuae e:cating quite a |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  | (e) cinilen to the haunt of vice wither |
|  |  |  | presuning on Madure Audery's well- said Mr. ITcine. The check of ITonora Paule changed; known kindness, he had reutered to pre- yet striving with a feeling that she felt sent to her. Huderly a a reader of faces, was to be unvorithy, stre sin iiced, reached forth   a little talk; that confirmed her firt fav- the Sybii, who, in an effective vuice, |  | There was a great crowd at the bariof  The Crown ahd Magnie." The Land-   false courls, a heary gold chain round her neck, aud numerous rings on her fat fii- |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  | the bues of the blue kicge. |  |  |  |  |
|  | lime and beautfil sectus, where wov ive |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
| ird sts, Couderspor, Pa. |  |  |  |  |  |
| e harbington, |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
| cst notice-alil wort wart |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
| Wate madt 0 order, in good styly |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |

