A FLEA FOR POTTER COUNTY.

Farmer, like all other professions, ought to have goods tools. These they can procure if they are determined to have them. By this we mean if they will make as much effort for this as they sometimes make to bring about other things.

Do not pretend that, because you may have followed farming for a number of years, that therefore you know all about it. We would know but little, if we knew no more than what has fallen under our own observation.

There were revivals under the preaching of Augustine and Chrysostom; and the great force of the Reformation was not merely political or intellectual, but it was the deep upheaving of the religious element, bringing all other reforms in its train.

So that when they go forth with the Apostolic message, "Repent and be converted every one of you," they need not be met with the scornful reply, "Converted, sir, converted to what? Converted into a man who defends slavery—converted into one who dares not testify against a profitable wickedness—converted into a man whose religion never goes into his counting-house—converted into a man who has no conscience in his politics, and who scoffs at the higher law of God? No, sir; I desire no such conversion. Whatever your raptures may be, I desire no part with them."

settlement of 500 additional good farmers in our county.

A word more to farmers, when you have raised articles for sale, do not allow others to put a price upon them for you. We have been struck with amazement, when we have wanted to buy articles from farmers, and which they wished to sell but would not, until they went to town to see what they were giving for such.

abotting a system of robbery and oppression. So speaks the outside world as she looks gravely, sadly, not scoffingly, on the spectacle of thronging churches and opening prayer-meetings,—and her demand is just.

There is something in a right name. The term "revival" seems by general consent to have been adopted into our language as expressive of these seasons; but we should much prefer a term formerly much employed among certain religious denominations—"reformation." Instead of the great revival of 1858, we should be happy to read the great reformation of 1858.

COUDERSPORT, PA.

Thursday Morning, March 18, 1857.

Mrs. SECLINDA CARTER, an aged and much respected lady, and an old resident of this place, died on Tuesday evening last. She was 63 years of age.

In another column we print the prospectus of the New York Excelsior, a new literary paper recently started in the city of New York. A specimen copy is in our possession, which those who desire can examine and judge of its merits.

We hope our readers will read the article on the first page, this week, from the Atlantic Monthly. It will well repay a perusal. We will club our paper with the Monthly, furnishing the latter to our subscribers at $2 per annum.

The past five days have altered the topographic coloring of this section—changing it from the purest white to the seared green-brown, and on the roads to the darkest mud-color.

Every person who has read the proceedings of the present Congress, will realize the necessity of R. J. Walker's appeal to "the people in every town, county, and state" to "rise in their majesty to the rescue."

The proceedings of Congress, and especially the action of the Kansas Special Committee, shows that "the Liberties of the county are in danger." When this Committee was appointed, Congress, "instructed them to inquire into all the facts connected with the formation of said (Leecompton) Constitution, and the laws under which the same was originated, and into all such facts and proceedings as have transpired since the formation of said Constitution, having relation to the question or propriety of the admission of said Territory into the Union under said Constitution, and whether the same is acceptable and satisfactory to a majority of the legal voters of Kansas, and that they have power to send for persons and papers."

These instructions the Special Committee have set at defiance, and have refused to inquire into any of the facts connected with the Leecompton Swindle. Thus the order of the peoples representatives in Congress has been disobeyed, at the dictation of the President, an insult to Congress, which no Committee of the House of Commons in England have ever dared to offer to parliament.

In each county in the free States, to engage in the sale of the above work immediately. Such can easily clear from $50 to $100 PER MONTH. The work is beautifully printed and bound, and is as large as the books that sell for $1.25; but as we mean to sell at least ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES, through agents, we have made the retail price ONE DOLLAR.

A SAMPLE COPY of the book will be sent by mail, postage paid, on receipt of the price, and our private circular to Agents, with terms, etc. Address H. DAYTON, Publisher, 35-3mo. No. 29 Ann-street New York.

LECOMPTON FLOORED AGAIN. Prospect of its Ultimate Defeat. From the N. Y. Tribune, 13th. In Congress yesterday the SENATE was occupied with the Kansas question. Mr. Chandler of Michigan spoke against Leecompton, and Mr. Hunter of Virginia in its favor. Mr. Kennedy of Maryland defined his position. Mr. Wade of Ohio got the floor, when the Senate adjourned. The House made another point against the Leecomptonites yesterday—Mr. Tennessee Jones's motion that Col. Harris's appeal from the decision of the Chair be laid on the table having been defeated by the close vote of 111 to 109.

Mr. Harris of Illinois rose and said that in compliance with the views of some of his friends who desired to have the question presented in a simpler and more direct form, he would vary his mode of action, and accordingly withdrew his appeal. The House immediately adjourned.

This remedy, so valuable when pure, becomes worthless or injurious when adulterated. See that the label has the eagle and mortar, and the signature over the cork of each bottle, as thousands have been cured by the use of the genuine article who had used others without success. What the Farmers say: A late writer says that "the various species of vermin are multiplying at a fearful rate throughout the land. Their ravages have become a matter of serious dread." A Postmaster in Illinois, writing to "Costar's" Depot, says, "The country is literally overrun with them, (rats, mice, &c.)." Another, from the same State, says, "The rats positively gnaw the ballers of my horses while in the stable." An Ohio Correspondent remarks, "They (the rats) are everywhere—in the house, the barn, and under every stump in the field." In the South it is still worse. A late order from the South Yard at Mobile was for thirty pounds of the Rat Exterminator alone. What the People say: New York, April 12, 1856. Dear Sir:—Having a great many rats around my stable and shop, I thought I would try your Rat Exterminator, and bought one of your boxes, and fixed it according to your directions. The next morning I found over one hundred and fifty dead rats. I take pleasure in saying that it will do more than you say it will. I have also tried it on steam-boats, and satisfied them that it is the greatest thing of the age. J. S. UNDERHILL, No. 435 10th st. CAVE, Ill., June 21st, 1857. Dear Sir:—My brother, J. W. McCreery, P. M., purchased a box of your Rat Exterminator, and found it to be what you recommend it to be, a perfect rat destroyer. I betwixt inclose $5 for more of it. Yours, &c. ASHLEY McCREERY. New York, Dec. 17, 1857. Sir:—* * * All this summer I have been troubled with Roaches and Mice. I was actually ashamed of the house, for the Roaches were everywhere, and I don't know what I should have done by this time. I purchased a box of your Exterminator and tried it, and in one week there was not a Roach or Mouse in the house. JOHN B. GIVEES, No. 94 Elm st. Moore's Salt-Works, Ohio, June 8, 1857. Dear Sir:—I have used it (the Rat, Roach, &c. Exterminator) three nights, and it is making a sad havoc among the Rat tribe. Yours, &c. J. D. BECOM. What the Press say: We know, by actual experience, that "Costar's" preparations for Rats, Roaches, Bed Bugs and Insects generally, are complete and perfect exterminators. Whenever "Costar's" Exterminators have been used, they have never failed to perform all that is claimed for them. Housekeepers should not fail to try them.—N. Y. Atlas, May, 17th. What the Druggists say: A. J. BLOCKSON, (Druggist), New Lisbon, O.: "Your Exterminators prove satisfactory." G. & T. E. McDONALD, (Druggist), New Brunswick, N. J.: "We tried the Rat, Roach, &c. Exterminator, and it answered a good purpose." E. B. CUNNINGHAM, [Druggist], Beaver Dam, Wis.: "I (the Rat, Roach, &c. Exterminator) is highly satisfactory to those who have tried it." SAMUEL HILL, [Druggist], Deer Creek, Pickaway Co., O.: "The Rat, Roach, &c. Exterminator does all it is recommended to do." GUILFORD & LEMBERGER, [Druggists], Lebanon, Pa.: "We are pleased to say that which is sold gives satisfaction." [35-6t.]

A GREAT BOOK FOR AGENTS. Published this Day, Feb. 9, 1858. Fifty Years in Chains; OR, THE LIFE OF AN AMERICAN SLAVE, WRITTEN BY HIMSELF. 432 Pages, Cloth, Gilt Back. Price $1. This is the title of one of the most interesting biographies of the day. It is a plain history of an American slave in the far South, who, after two or three escapes and recaptures, finally, an old man, found freedom and rest in one of the Northern States. WHAT THE PRESS SAY: The story is told with great simplicity, but with much power and pathos. Whoever takes it will find it difficult to lay it down until it is finished.—National Era, Washington, D. C. A narrative of real experience like the above will have far more effect against slavery than the ingeniously wrought novel, however true to life its pictures may be.—Am. Baptist. Here is a book of facts, stronger than fiction, and a thousand-fold more thrilling; a simple tale of life-long oppression, revealing truly the workings of the "peculiar institution" in our country. To the story-loving we would say, here is a story worth reading.—Mission Record. A THOROUGH CANVASSER IS WANTED. In each county in the free States, to engage in the sale of the above work immediately. Such can easily clear from $50 to $100 PER MONTH.
