

And yet this same Buchanan will now, if possible, divest the people of that sovereign power which he then declared was inherent in them.

A PLEA FOR POTTER COUNTY.

So far as we have spoken about farmers attending to their business we mean to apply to all other professions. The principle which we advocate is this, that every man (no matter what may be his calling,) ought to labor at it with diligence and perseverance. We are not of those who deem the humbler professions of life dishonorable. But lest we should be misunderstood here we would say, that we mean every lawful profession, which by its own legitimate operation will produce good and not evil.

It is not the labor at which a man may toil, that will disgrace him. He may be an upright, honest and benevolent man, although he has to dig ditches or saw wood for his living, and be constantly clad in coarse habiliments. We should we render obedience to a man because he wears the luxuries of foreign climes supply his table, and who dresses with all that money can command; he may after all, be the most despicable being upon earth, he may be the object of general hate, and his vices may be more numerous than his virtues.

It is not the labor at which a man may toil, that will disgrace him. He may be an upright, honest and benevolent man, although he has to dig ditches or saw wood for his living, and be constantly clad in coarse habiliments. We should we render obedience to a man because he wears the luxuries of foreign climes supply his table, and who dresses with all that money can command; he may after all, be the most despicable being upon earth, he may be the object of general hate, and his vices may be more numerous than his virtues.

It is not the labor at which a man may toil, that will disgrace him. He may be an upright, honest and benevolent man, although he has to dig ditches or saw wood for his living, and be constantly clad in coarse habiliments. We should we render obedience to a man because he wears the luxuries of foreign climes supply his table, and who dresses with all that money can command; he may after all, be the most despicable being upon earth, he may be the object of general hate, and his vices may be more numerous than his virtues.

Gen. D. K. Jackman, Senatorial Delegate from this district to the late Leocompton Convention, voted against the Lecompton Convention. He considers himself capable of thinking and acting for himself, and will not allow the wool to be pulled over his eyes by Buchanan and his party. Right-Belleville, Mo.

And we say right. What a blessed thing it would be for justice, and honor, and "popular sovereignty," if D. K. Jackman now occupied the seat in Congress which Allison White has disgraced.

We are indebted to Hon. Simon Cameron, of the U. S. Senate, for a copy of Hon. Wm. H. Seward's great speech on the Kansas question. We propose to give copious extracts as soon as our columns become less crowded. We also acknowledge from the same hands a copy of Messrs. Collier and Wade's minority report on the Kansas question.

THE HIGHER LAW.

MR. EDITOR: I would like to ask why the Higher Law can be recognized by certain individuals, when they suppose their immediate neighbors have sinned against it, and why said individuals do not recognize it when it comes in conflict with the delinquencies of Slavery? "The institutions of our country" are prayed for, and among these is Slavery, which separates and "puts asunder" thousands and tens of thousands of Christians "whom God has joined together."

I would like to ask, too, why some ministers can pray loudly for thieving, lying John Buchanan, but don't care to ask any favors for our own Sambo? Or would praying for our own poor niggers endanger the perpetuity of the Union?

In the State Senate, Messrs. Gazzan, Gregg and Shaefter, the minority members of the Kansas Committee, have made a lengthy report. The report is doubtless from the pen of Dr. E. D. Gazzan, and its firmness, facts and logic, are characteristic of the man. Mr. Buckalew's cold unnatural logic in behalf of the damning scheme which is receiving the open aid of the National Administration, is completely overwhelmed by the incontrovertible arguments of our good friend from Pittsburgh.

A LUCKY FELLOW.—L. T. PARMELEE, Esq., who went to the Harrisburg Convention as Senatorial delegate for the district composed of the counties of Tioga, Potter, McKean and Warren, and voted to endorse the Lecompton Constitution, has returned home with a commission of an Inspectorship in the Custom House at Philadelphia. We congratulate friend PARMELEE upon his good luck. He is fully capable of filling the position satisfactorily.

Gen. D. K. Jackman, Senatorial Delegate from this district to the late Leocompton Convention, voted against the Lecompton Convention. He considers himself capable of thinking and acting for himself, and will not allow the wool to be pulled over his eyes by Buchanan and his party. Right-Belleville, Mo.

And we say right. What a blessed thing it would be for justice, and honor, and "popular sovereignty," if D. K. Jackman now occupied the seat in Congress which Allison White has disgraced.

We are indebted to Hon. Simon Cameron, of the U. S. Senate, for a copy of Hon. Wm. H. Seward's great speech on the Kansas question. We propose to give copious extracts as soon as our columns become less crowded. We also acknowledge from the same hands a copy of Messrs. Collier and Wade's minority report on the Kansas question.

THE HIGHER LAW.

MR. EDITOR: I would like to ask why the Higher Law can be recognized by certain individuals, when they suppose their immediate neighbors have sinned against it, and why said individuals do not recognize it when it comes in conflict with the delinquencies of Slavery? "The institutions of our country" are prayed for, and among these is Slavery, which separates and "puts asunder" thousands and tens of thousands of Christians "whom God has joined together."

I would like to ask, too, why some ministers can pray loudly for thieving, lying John Buchanan, but don't care to ask any favors for our own Sambo? Or would praying for our own poor niggers endanger the perpetuity of the Union?

In the State Senate, Messrs. Gazzan, Gregg and Shaefter, the minority members of the Kansas Committee, have made a lengthy report. The report is doubtless from the pen of Dr. E. D. Gazzan, and its firmness, facts and logic, are characteristic of the man. Mr. Buckalew's cold unnatural logic in behalf of the damning scheme which is receiving the open aid of the National Administration, is completely overwhelmed by the incontrovertible arguments of our good friend from Pittsburgh.

A LUCKY FELLOW.—L. T. PARMELEE, Esq., who went to the Harrisburg Convention as Senatorial delegate for the district composed of the counties of Tioga, Potter, McKean and Warren, and voted to endorse the Lecompton Constitution, has returned home with a commission of an Inspectorship in the Custom House at Philadelphia. We congratulate friend PARMELEE upon his good luck. He is fully capable of filling the position satisfactorily.

Gen. D. K. Jackman, Senatorial Delegate from this district to the late Leocompton Convention, voted against the Lecompton Convention. He considers himself capable of thinking and acting for himself, and will not allow the wool to be pulled over his eyes by Buchanan and his party. Right-Belleville, Mo.

And we say right. What a blessed thing it would be for justice, and honor, and "popular sovereignty," if D. K. Jackman now occupied the seat in Congress which Allison White has disgraced.

We are indebted to Hon. Simon Cameron, of the U. S. Senate, for a copy of Hon. Wm. H. Seward's great speech on the Kansas question. We propose to give copious extracts as soon as our columns become less crowded. We also acknowledge from the same hands a copy of Messrs. Collier and Wade's minority report on the Kansas question.

THE HIGHER LAW.

MR. EDITOR: I would like to ask why the Higher Law can be recognized by certain individuals, when they suppose their immediate neighbors have sinned against it, and why said individuals do not recognize it when it comes in conflict with the delinquencies of Slavery? "The institutions of our country" are prayed for, and among these is Slavery, which separates and "puts asunder" thousands and tens of thousands of Christians "whom God has joined together."

I would like to ask, too, why some ministers can pray loudly for thieving, lying John Buchanan, but don't care to ask any favors for our own Sambo? Or would praying for our own poor niggers endanger the perpetuity of the Union?

In the State Senate, Messrs. Gazzan, Gregg and Shaefter, the minority members of the Kansas Committee, have made a lengthy report. The report is doubtless from the pen of Dr. E. D. Gazzan, and its firmness, facts and logic, are characteristic of the man. Mr. Buckalew's cold unnatural logic in behalf of the damning scheme which is receiving the open aid of the National Administration, is completely overwhelmed by the incontrovertible arguments of our good friend from Pittsburgh.

A LUCKY FELLOW.—L. T. PARMELEE, Esq., who went to the Harrisburg Convention as Senatorial delegate for the district composed of the counties of Tioga, Potter, McKean and Warren, and voted to endorse the Lecompton Constitution, has returned home with a commission of an Inspectorship in the Custom House at Philadelphia. We congratulate friend PARMELEE upon his good luck. He is fully capable of filling the position satisfactorily.

Gen. D. K. Jackman, Senatorial Delegate from this district to the late Leocompton Convention, voted against the Lecompton Convention. He considers himself capable of thinking and acting for himself, and will not allow the wool to be pulled over his eyes by Buchanan and his party. Right-Belleville, Mo.

And we say right. What a blessed thing it would be for justice, and honor, and "popular sovereignty," if D. K. Jackman now occupied the seat in Congress which Allison White has disgraced.

We are indebted to Hon. Simon Cameron, of the U. S. Senate, for a copy of Hon. Wm. H. Seward's great speech on the Kansas question. We propose to give copious extracts as soon as our columns become less crowded. We also acknowledge from the same hands a copy of Messrs. Collier and Wade's minority report on the Kansas question.

THE HIGHER LAW.

MR. EDITOR: I would like to ask why the Higher Law can be recognized by certain individuals, when they suppose their immediate neighbors have sinned against it, and why said individuals do not recognize it when it comes in conflict with the delinquencies of Slavery? "The institutions of our country" are prayed for, and among these is Slavery, which separates and "puts asunder" thousands and tens of thousands of Christians "whom God has joined together."

I would like to ask, too, why some ministers can pray loudly for thieving, lying John Buchanan, but don't care to ask any favors for our own Sambo? Or would praying for our own poor niggers endanger the perpetuity of the Union?

In the State Senate, Messrs. Gazzan, Gregg and Shaefter, the minority members of the Kansas Committee, have made a lengthy report. The report is doubtless from the pen of Dr. E. D. Gazzan, and its firmness, facts and logic, are characteristic of the man. Mr. Buckalew's cold unnatural logic in behalf of the damning scheme which is receiving the open aid of the National Administration, is completely overwhelmed by the incontrovertible arguments of our good friend from Pittsburgh.

A LUCKY FELLOW.—L. T. PARMELEE, Esq., who went to the Harrisburg Convention as Senatorial delegate for the district composed of the counties of Tioga, Potter, McKean and Warren, and voted to endorse the Lecompton Constitution, has returned home with a commission of an Inspectorship in the Custom House at Philadelphia. We congratulate friend PARMELEE upon his good luck. He is fully capable of filling the position satisfactorily.

Gen. D. K. Jackman, Senatorial Delegate from this district to the late Leocompton Convention, voted against the Lecompton Convention. He considers himself capable of thinking and acting for himself, and will not allow the wool to be pulled over his eyes by Buchanan and his party. Right-Belleville, Mo.

And we say right. What a blessed thing it would be for justice, and honor, and "popular sovereignty," if D. K. Jackman now occupied the seat in Congress which Allison White has disgraced.

We are indebted to Hon. Simon Cameron, of the U. S. Senate, for a copy of Hon. Wm. H. Seward's great speech on the Kansas question. We propose to give copious extracts as soon as our columns become less crowded. We also acknowledge from the same hands a copy of Messrs. Collier and Wade's minority report on the Kansas question.

THE HIGHER LAW.

MR. EDITOR: I would like to ask why the Higher Law can be recognized by certain individuals, when they suppose their immediate neighbors have sinned against it, and why said individuals do not recognize it when it comes in conflict with the delinquencies of Slavery? "The institutions of our country" are prayed for, and among these is Slavery, which separates and "puts asunder" thousands and tens of thousands of Christians "whom God has joined together."

I would like to ask, too, why some ministers can pray loudly for thieving, lying John Buchanan, but don't care to ask any favors for our own Sambo? Or would praying for our own poor niggers endanger the perpetuity of the Union?

In the State Senate, Messrs. Gazzan, Gregg and Shaefter, the minority members of the Kansas Committee, have made a lengthy report. The report is doubtless from the pen of Dr. E. D. Gazzan, and its firmness, facts and logic, are characteristic of the man. Mr. Buckalew's cold unnatural logic in behalf of the damning scheme which is receiving the open aid of the National Administration, is completely overwhelmed by the incontrovertible arguments of our good friend from Pittsburgh.

A LUCKY FELLOW.—L. T. PARMELEE, Esq., who went to the Harrisburg Convention as Senatorial delegate for the district composed of the counties of Tioga, Potter, McKean and Warren, and voted to endorse the Lecompton Constitution, has returned home with a commission of an Inspectorship in the Custom House at Philadelphia. We congratulate friend PARMELEE upon his good luck. He is fully capable of filling the position satisfactorily.

WATSON—At Titusville, Crawford Co., Pa., very suddenly, of heart disease, on Sunday morning, 14th inst., Mrs. JOANNA L. WIFE, wife of Mr. JOSEPH WATSON, and daughter of Joseph L. Chase Esq., aged 30 years.

CARTEE—SALLINA CARTEE died in Coudersport, Potter Co., Pa., March 16, 1858, aged 68 years, 7 months and 16 days.

WATSON—At Titusville, Crawford Co., Pa., very suddenly, of heart disease, on Sunday morning, 14th inst., Mrs. JOANNA L. WIFE, wife of Mr. JOSEPH WATSON, and daughter of Joseph L. Chase Esq., aged 30 years.