The following, from the pen of James G. Percival, is one of the most touching peems in the English language. It, moreover, tells the story of many a breaking heart:

THE DESERTED WIFE.

He comes not-I have watched the moon go But yet he comes not. Once it was not so. He thinks not how these bitter tears do flow The while he holds his riot in that town. Yet he will come and chide, and I shall weep And he will wake my infant from its sleep, To blend its feeble wailings with my tears.
