

Town and County.

COUDERSPORT, MARCH 1, 1890.

Measles—A mild type of this contagious disease is prevailing in this village. Nearly everybody liable has them, and the cry is "still they come!"

Iron City College, Pittsburgh, Pa.—This popular Institution for the education of business men has, for the last four years, stood pre-eminent for being the largest and most thorough Commercial School of the Union.

We are requested to state that the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society will be held at the M. E. Parsonage, at 7 o'clock to-morrow (Friday) evening. A "Paper" will be read by Miss E. Wright.

The regular annual meeting of the Coudersport Library Association, adjourned from the first Saturday in February, will be held at the residence of the Librarian at Saturday (March 3), at 4 o'clock, P. M. A full attendance is requested, and the election of officers for the ensuing year and other important business will be conducted.

Benjamin Lewis, convicted at the court last week of passing a counterfeit bank note, was taken to the Penitentiary at Philadelphia on Friday last by Sheriff Hart and ex-Sheriff White. He was sentenced to fourteen months imprisonment, and fined $500.

The Supper last Thursday evening, for the benefit of the M. E. Church, realized $50, and led to subscriptions for the fire extinguishment of the Church debt. The Supper, which was prepared and managed entirely by the Ladies of the congregation, was an excellent affair, and all worthy of the reputation of the fair and unsurpassed cooks of our village.

Record Your Deeds.—Reader! have you any deeds which are not recorded? Attend to it at once, as the laws of the State now are such that you run some risk they are not. Deeds executed in Pennsylvania must be recorded within six months, otherwise they are to be deemed null and void against purchasers or mortgages for value unless recorded before the deed under which the purchaser claims. This makes it very important for persons to exercise care in properly securing the title of their property.

We are having a fine run of Spring hats just now, and Sugar-makers are ready for their work. We have just yet seen any new sugar—but will be pleased to see some of our delinquent subscribers on hand soon with the amount they owe us in good maple sugar. We will take 200 lbs. on subscriptions if paid right along.

Our lumbermen are getting their lumber rafted in as fast as possible, and we think that some will leave next week for lower markets, if the water keeps up today (Thursday) we are having a moderate shower of rain occasionally. There is all out of the Allegheny, and we believe there is only a little in the Sinnemahoning in Barclay's pond. The loggers have not yet started their drive, and water not being high enough; but they are getting the logs together in the river to be ready for the first opportunity.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—First under this head comes the Edinburg Review (Whig) one of the ablest of the Quarterlies, and which was the birth-piece of Macaulay, the eminent British Historian recently deceased, and which is re-published in this country by L. R. & Co., of 24 Gold St., New York, and the number before us is the 1st of the 11th Volume of the Review and of the 52d of the American edition.

Blackwood's Edinburg Magazine (Whig) for February, from the same publisher; is also on our table. Its contents are:—Norman Sinclair, part 2;—Diffusion of Taste among All Classes;—National Necessity; St. Stephen's;—Lord Daudonald's Memoirs; Robert Burns; The Luck of Ladsyde;—Part 12; Ode to the first Week of January;—to Messrs. Galen and Glauber; A Visit to the Columbia River, and a Cruise around Vancouver's Island; Fleets and Armies;—England, part 4; Mr. Bull's Second;—The Sly Little Man; France and Italy.

Next on our list of Magazines comes the old favorite, Knickerbocker—the old friend alike of all classes of readers. Its contents are—The Prince of Pickwick; The Leart's Confessional;—

How they manage Lunatics at Gheel; Lives—"If I Die Early"; What happens "Under the Moon"; Remembrances;—Stanzas—"Blindness"; Reminiscences of Napoleon II.; The Shadow Upon Sunnyside; The Iliad of Priam; Threnodies on the Death of an Infant; Chinese Sketches; Epigram—"Everlasting Suits"; The Grave-Creek Mound; Miss-Machinations—a Society Sketch; Literary Notices; Editor's Table; New Publications &c.

After an absence of one year, our table is again bearing up the welcome weight of Harper's Magazine—the December, January, February and March numbers all coming in a heap. We present in another column the annual Prospectus, to which we refer our readers for information as to terms. We will send the Magazine and the JOURNAL together one year for $3.25. The March number of the Magazine is exceedingly interesting to lumbermen, having an article entitled "Among the Loggers," which though written about Maine, is full of interest to all in the trade. This number taken as a whole, is pronounced by able critics to be the best ever published. In the Editor's Table is an able review of "Our Schools," which is worth a year's subscription.

NORTHUMBERLAND, Feb. 25, 1890.—The ice is moving in the north branch of the Susquehanna, and the railroad bridges are endangered in consequence of it. The west branch of the river is clear of ice, and the water is falling.

WASHINGTON, FEB. 25, 1890.—Mr. Keitt, Member of Congress from South Carolina, received a dispatch yesterday, announcing that his elder brother, a physician, residing at Palatka, had been murdered in his bed by some of his negroes, who almost severed his head from his body. He was at the time confined to his bed by illness.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A CAT.—One day last week, a man named Stephen Hamel, of Cincinnati endeavored to drive some cats from a garret, and struck one of them several blows with a stick, when suddenly the cat leaped upon him with the ferocity of a tiger, and, before he could free himself from its grasp, scratched and bit him about the face in a terrible manner. The next day he grew delirious, and his head swelled up to twice its natural size. In this condition he lingered till the 17th ult., when death came to his relief.

The Chicago Times, Mr. Douglas' organ, publishes a very significant article upon the platform which is to be laid down at Charleston for the Democratic Convention. It charges Mr. Bright with the intention of constructing this platform so as to kill off Mr. Douglas and declares that no man nominated upon Mr. Bright's platform can win the Presidency, and furthermore declares that no man can be elected President who does not adhere to the doctrine of Popular Sovereignty. The whole tone and bearing of the article points to the conclusion that Mr. Douglas' friends mean to "bolt" from the nomination if they are not permitted to have their way in the Convention.

DIED:—In this village, February 27th ultimo, of bronchial consumption, after a lingering illness, Appleton H. Butterworth, Esq., late Register and Recorder of this county, aged 47 years and 10 months.

TAGGART.—On Wednesday, the 22nd inst., at the residence of Mr. J. P. Taggart in Eustalia township, Mrs. Elizabeth Taggart, aged 86 years and 9 months.

The deceased was born in the town of East Sudbury, Mass. May, 1773. She was married at the age of 19, and went to the State of Vermont where she resided until 1816, when, with her husband and children, she removed from that State to the place of her death. During all her days she has been characterized by uncommon activity and industry, a peaceful disposition, a benevolent heart, and a charity that knew no bounds. The many trials and difficulties incident to pioneer life, through which she was called to pass, she submitted to without a murmur. The companion of her youth, who for nearly half a century had walked with her along the rugged pathway of life, was suddenly taken from her side—several of her children she had been called to resign to Him who gave,—which afflictions she patiently bore, submitting her all to the kind care and keeping of her Heavenly Father, firmly believing that all things would work together for good, to them that love God. For sixty years she has been an active and consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and those who were with her during her last illness, and witnessed her triumphant death must know of a truth, that she had been with Christ and learned of Him. She leaves four children, three daughters and one son, to mourn the loss of a pious and devoted mother, and many children's children who have listened for the last time to the affectionate counsel and advice of an aged and beloved grandmother. Yes—her pilgrimage upon earth has closed. She has fought the good fight, she has kept the faith, she has finished the course. Calmly and peacefully did the wearied spirit go to its rest, "leaving a halo of sweetest memories lingering behind," and now joins with angel-choirs in singing the praises of God and the Lamb forever.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.
The most popular Monthly in the World.—New York Observer.
No Magazine in Europe or America is so well known; none has half as many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a tribute of admiration from the cultivated classes, that delight in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical literature. It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fire-side never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more entertaining friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).
Twenty-five cents buys it—the cheapest, richest, and most lasting luxury for the money that we know. Three dollars secures it for one year, and what three dollars ever went to do for? Put the same amount in clothes, eating, drinking, furniture, and how much of a substantial thing is obtained? If ideas, facts, and sentiments have a monetary value—above all, if the humor that brings a pleasant smile, and the passage of a truth to your brain, and the happy combination of the real and the imaginative, without which no one can live a life above the animal, are to be put into the scale opposite to dollars and cents, then you may be certain, that if Harper were three or four times as dear, it would amply repay its price. It is a Magazine proper, with the idea and purpose of a Magazine—not a book, not a scientific periodical, nor yet a supplier of light gossip and chatty anecdotes—but a Magazine that takes every form of interesting, dignified, and attractive literature in its grasp.
—Southern Times.
The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading, such as can not be found in the same compass in any other publication, that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
Unquestionably it is the best sustained work of the kind in the language; that is to say, in the world. The splendid monthly essays from the Editor's Table are above price.—N. Y. Christian Advocate and Journal.
We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine, a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies, in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American people, and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of interesting matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the rare monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the creation and dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Traveller's Guide to American Literature, London.
