THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.

Let soldiers sing of the windy deep,
Let soldiers praise their armor,
But in my heart this toast I'll keep,
The Independent Farmer.
When first the rose, in robe of green,
Unfolds its crimson lining,
And round his cottage porch is seen
The honey-suckle twining;
When banks of bloom their sweetness yield,
To bees that gather honey,
He drives his team across the field,
Where skies are soft and balmy.
The black bird creaks behind his plough,
The quail pipes loud and clearly,
You orchard sides behind his bough
The home he loves so dearly;
The gray old barn, whose doors unfold
His ample store in measure,
Here rich than hoards of hoarded gold,
A precious, blessed treasure;
But yonder in the porch there stands
The wife, the lovely charmer,
The sweetest rose on all the lands—
The Independent Farmer.

PLANT PEAS DEEP.—The theory recently advocated of planting peas very deeply in the earth, in order to prolong the bearing capacity of the vines, has been well tested, and found to be correct. A farmer ploughed a furrow beam deep, then scattered the seed peas at the bottom, after which he turned a deep furrow upon them with his plough, covering them, if possible, to the depth of twelve or fourteen inches. They pushed their way up through the thick mass of earth very soon, and instead of turning yellow at the bottom and dying after the first gathering, they blossomed and bore until he was tired of picking the pods. If such a result will uniformly be realized from the plan, pea culture may be made more profitable than hitherto.

LOCUST YEAR—Anno Domini 1860. according to entomologists, is locust year. The red eyed cicada, a member of the Homoptera, or half-winged order of insects, has proved itself in its visits to New York State, so much like the genuine oriental ravager, that it has always gone by the name of locust. A peculiarity of its natural history is, that the usual length of time which it requires for completing its growth, and the perfect regularity with which every generation, numbering many millions of individual, attains maturity, cause the infliction of its presence unfailing at the end of every seventeen years. The last appearance of its greedy insectship, it is said, was in 1843; so if there is any faith to be put in evoking entomological prophets, we are in for it again this year of grace. There is no great cause of alarm, however, for the marauder is usually confined to the forest; he is hardly ever found on lands that have duly yielded harvests during the seventeen years of his absence. So that in the steady onward march of civilization, it seems even the seventeen years locust must fall into line, and there is room for hope that in time he will cease his ill mannered invasions altogether.

Interesting Varieties.
Burning fluid is a mixture of alcohol and camphene in the proportion of four gallons of alcohol to one of camphene. Camphene is simply spirits of turpentine re-distilled.
Mr. Gould, of Hudson, N. Y., stated, in one of the New Haven lectures, that there are 3,000 species of grass. —Daniel Webster once said that all over the world, and in all times, the agricultural regions devoted to grazing were more prosperous than the grain-growing districts.

A correspondent of the Ohio Cultivator, who is a tile-maker, says he can make and sell 3 inch solid tiles for 20 cents per rod, and that he can dig, haul, lay the tile and fill up a drain 2 feet 10 inches deep for 6 cents per rod, making the tile drains cost 26 cents per rod. He also says that the owners of mule plows charge 15 cents per rod for making drains 3 1/2 feet deep.
Dr. Hayes, of Arctic fame, in his recently published work, expresses the opinion, based upon experience, that to men living on a short allowance of food, in a cold climate, where special stimuli are required, there is nothing so valuable as coffee. Tea is not much prized by explorers in frozen regions. To Arctic travelers, the doctor adds, spirits in any form are in almost every case worse than useless, while coffee is always grateful and always beneficial.

Cheap Roofs.
The simple mode of roofing out-houses by nailing thin boards on light rafters, may be introduced to very great advantage, particularly in the country. It is only to subject the boards, before using, to the action of fire by way of thoroughly seasoning them. Nail them on immediately, and cover them with sheathing paper and a coating of tar; and a covering almost as cheap as the usual one may be calculated upon. The rafters, three inches deep, one-and a quarter thick, straightened on the edges and closely nailed.

The following composition for covering such a roof was employed at Wickham twenty years ago, and is at this present time as good as when first laid. The roof is nearly flat, having a run of an inch only to the foot, the boards being securely nailed and covered with a course of sheathing paper, such as is used under the copper sheeting of ships, made fast by copper nails: To eight gallons of common tar, add two gallons of Rome cement, five pounds of resin and three pounds of tallow; boil and stir the ingredients so as thoroughly to incorporate them, and lay on the roof while hot, with a brush, spread on very evenly; then sprinkle it cold, with tar and sand as before; after which, a single coat of tar once in five or six years will preserve the roof for an age.

To the above may be added an incombustible, impenetrable wash, prepared according to the following directions: Slake stone lime with hot water in a tub, covering it to keep in the steam; pass six quarts of it through a sieve, it being in the state of fine dry powder, and add to it one quart of fine salt and two gallons of water, boiling and skimming it. To every five gallons of this boiled mixture, add one pound of alum, half a pound of copperas, and by slow degrees half a pound of potash, and four quarts of fine sharp sand. The mixture will now admit of any coloring mixture that might be preferred, and is to be applied with a brush. It looks better than paint, and is as durable as stone. It will stop leaks in the roof, prevent the moss from growing and injuring the wood, rendering it incombustible, and, when laid on brick-work, causing it to become impenetrable to rain or moisture.—Farmer's Cabinet.

SOMETHING NEW—E. T. BABBITT'S BEST MEDICINAL SALERATUS.

Is manufactured from common salt, and is prepared entirely different from other Saleratus. All the deleterious matter extracted in such a manner as to produce Bread, Biscuits, and all kinds of Cakes, without containing a particle of Saleratus when the Bread or Cake is baked; thereby producing wholesome results. Every particle of Saleratus is turned to gas and passes through the Bread or Biscuit while baking; consequently nothing remains but common Salt, Water and Flour. You will readily perceive by the taste of this Saleratus that it is entirely different from other Saleratus.

It is packed in one pound papers, each wrapper branded, "B. T. Babbitt's Best Medicinal Saleratus"; also, picture, twisted loaf of bread, with a glass of effervescing water on the top. When you purchase one paper you should preserve the wrapper, and be particular to get the next exactly like the first—brand as above.

Full directions for making Bread with this Saleratus and Sour Milk or Cream Tartar will accompany each package; also, directions for making all kinds of Pastry; also, for making Soda Water and Seidlitz Powders.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.
It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of good common sense, they may be able to regulate the system so to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enables the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid action of the stomach or bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhea, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other; and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs; can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind, then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters as a preventive of disease and strengthening of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medicinal science.

Fever and Ague.—This trying and prostrating disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in a direct form, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Mothers should try all means to this remedy for all cases of debility, and before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtues of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

Caution.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.
