STRANGÈRS YET! From Thackeray's Cornhill Magazine.

Strangers yet 1 After years of life together, After fair and stormy weather, After travel in far lands. After touch of wedded hands,-Why thus joined? why ever met?

Strangers yet 1 After childhood's winning ways. After care, and blame, and praise, Counsel asked, and wisdom givell, After mutual prayers to Heaven, Child and parent scarce regret When they part-are strangers yet.

Strangers yet! After title of old friends. After passion fierce and tender, After cheerful self-surrender. Hearts may beat and eyes be wet, And the souls be strangers yet.

Strangers yet! Strange and bitter thoughts to scan All the loneliness of man! Nature by magnetic laws Circle only touch when met, Never mingle-strangers yet.

Strangers vet l Will it evermore be thus-Shall we ever fairly stand Soul to soul, as hand to hand? Are the bounds eternal set To retain us strangers yet?

Strangers yet ! Tell not love it must aspire Unto something other-higher. God himself were loved the best, Were man's sympathies at rest; Rest above the strain and fret Of the world of strangers yet! Strangers yet!
