$10 Reward—Our young friend, T. Sahr, of Germania, lost his pocket watch, containing about $41 in bank notes and gold, last Sunday. He was going to this place to act as a juror, and left at the Kimball Stand for dinner, after paying his bill there, had no watch on him until the next morning when on looking for it could not find it. It is a large, square, black turkey-egg watch, with a rubber-ribbon band and it. Ten Dollars will be paid to any person finding and returning it and contents to him at Germania, or to the publisher of this paper.

Mr. Brown has heretofore neglected to notice our fellow-citizen, Mr. D. B. Brown, who has a fine telescope which he made himself in Philadelphia the past winter. It is the only instrument of the kind, as far as we can learn, that has ever been brought into the county. The focus of the tube is 45 inches, and the diameter of the glasses three and three-eighths inches. It gives a fine view of the planets and their moons, and enables one to partially comprehend the magnitude of the astronomical system. It costs nearly $200, and will compare in finish with anything of the kind produced by regular opticians. Mr. Brown takes great pleasure in adjusting it for those of his neighbors who will take the trouble to go to his house and look through it.

Prof. Maxson lectured on the subject of Temperance last Tuesday evening to a large audience of our most intelligent citizens, who were delighted with the literary entertainment to which he treated them. He commenced by arraigning the great crimes of the social system—Intemperance and Slavery—before the bar of public opinion; and proceeded to argue the case of the first-named crime night and the other the next night. He argued the case with entire success, and convincing to every hardened sinner, and commanding the attention of every who would rather not believe the cause of his cause—"the cause of all ills." As our paper goes to press we are obliged to defer a notice of it until next week.

Singular Freak of Lightning.—During the thunder storm last Friday night, a fine house in Pleasant Valley town, belonging to A. M. Benton Esq., and occupied by his brother, Samuel Benton, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed, and yet not set on fire. The lightning entered the upper plate of the building at the north-west corner and followed the plate to the opposite corner where it seems to have divided into three or four, one going down into the chimney, another to the kitchen, and the other passing down and out of the end of the building to the ground, where it tore up the turf for some distance. Mrs. Benton and her children, together with Mr. Benton's mother, were in the kitchen; and Mrs. B. was shocked so badly by the lightning that she was rendered insensible for several hours, and is still very weak, though going about the house. The children were slightly benumbed. A firkin of butter standing in the buttery, was tipped of the hoops and staves, leaving a solid cake of butter otherwise undisturbed. A gun standing in the corner of the chamber where the lightning entered the building is supposed to have been struck by it. The building is a complete wreck. A shawl was set on fire but was distinguished by a man who was present.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

One of the most interesting and useful publications which comes to our sanctum in the Scientific American, a weekly publication, devoted to popular science, new inventions, and the whole range of mechanic and manufacturing arts. The Scientific American has been published for fifteen years, by the well-known Patent Solicitors, Messrs. Munn & Co., 37 Park Row, New-York; and has nearly increased in interest and circulation, until it has attained, we understand, nearly 30,000 subscribers, which is the best of evidence that the publication is appreciated by the reading public.

To those of our readers who may not be familiar with the character of the paper, we will state some of the subjects of which it treats. Its illustrated descriptions of all the most important improvements in steam and agricultural machinery, will commend it to the Engineer and Farmer, while the new household inventions and shop tools which are illustrated by engravings and described in its columns, with the practical receipts contained in every number, renders the work desirable to housekeepers, and almost indispensable to every mechanic or smith who has a shop for manufacturing new work, or repairing old.

The Scientific American is universally regarded as the inventor's advocate and monitor; the repository of American inventions, and the great authority on law, and all business connected with Patents. The Official List of Claims, as issued weekly from the Patent Office, in Washington, are published regularly in its columns. All the most important Patents issued by the United States Patent Office are illustrated and described on its pages, thus forming an unrivalled history of American inventions.

It is not only the best, but the largest and cheapest paper devoted to Science, Mechanics, Manufacturers, and the Useful Arts published in the world. Hon. Judge Mason, formerly Commissioner of Patents, is not only engaged with the publishers in their immense Patent Agency department, but as a writer on Patent Laws and Practice, his ability is forcibly portrayed in the columns of this paper.

The Scientific American is published once a week, (every Saturday,) each number containing 16 pages of Letter-press, and from 10 to 12 original Engravings of New Inventions, consisting of the most improved Tools, Engines, Mills, Agricultural Machines and Household Utensils, making 52 numbers in a year, comprising 832 pages, and over 500 Original Engravings, printed on heavy, fine paper, in a form expressly for binding, and all for $2 per annum.

A New Volume commences on the 1st of July, and we hope a large number of our townsmen will avail themselves of the present opportunity to subscribe. By remitting $2 by mail to the publishers, Munn & Co., 37 Park Row, New-York, they will send you their paper one year, at the end of which time you will have a volume which you would not part with for treble its cost. The publishers express their willingness to mail a single copy of the paper to such as may wish to see it without charge.

TWO VERY USEFUL BOOKS.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of two very valuable works which have just been published by John E. Potter, 617 Sanson St., Phila., Penna.
Of "Everybody's Lawyer and Counselor in Business," by Frank Crosby, Esq., of the Philadelphia Bar, the sale, we are credibly informed, has reached over 10,000 copies a month, and the demand for it is rapidly increasing. It is a handsome 12mo volume containing 884 pages, with an admirably arranged index, facilitating immediate reference to any of its varied contents. It gives full and complete forms calculated to meet almost every possible business contingency. Its directions and advice are not only reliable, but are given in so clear and distinct a style, that it is hardly possible for a misunderstanding to occur. We believe it is the only book of the kind, that is equally adapted to every State in the Union. No man or woman in the country, no matter what their business or profession, or sphere of life, ought to be without it.
"The Family Doctor," by Prof. Henry S. Taylor, contains simple remedies easily obtained for the cure of Disease in all forms. The great charm of this work also, is its complete simplicity, and the entire absence of all medical technicalities. It is appropriately illustrated, and gotten up in excellent style and like the other should be in Everybody's hands. Two Dollars sent the Publisher will secure single copies of each book by return of mail.

Special Notices.

THE GREAT DRAWBACK to persons emigrating to the extreme south and western country, is the fear they have of the Fever and Ague—the most direful of all diseases. Every day we hear of persons attacked by this disease and more helpless in a short time, without any means of affording relief. In view of the great demand for a remedy, Dr. Hostetter has presented his Celebrated Stomach Bitters, whose curative powers for all diseases of the stomach have been universally acknowledged. The Bitters, prepared after a long experience and deep study, have recovered the economies of the most eminent physicians, as well as all classes, from every part of our country. To those who doubt their many virtues, all we can say is to try them, and judge for themselves respectively. Sold by druggists and dealers generally everywhere. See advertisement in another column.

THE WORLD; An Independent Morning Newspaper. In which will be found the Latest Intelligence upon Matters of Public Interest from every Quarter of the Globe. This intelligence is furnished, in some good measure at least, by newspapers already established and ably conducted; but The World has originated in the widely prevalent feeling that the time has come for living Christianity to assert itself in secular journalism, more positively than it has yet done, and will adapt itself to that end, and will accept of no other than the acknowledged want. Neither assuming nor seeking to be a preacher of religious doctrines, it yet will recognize, in all its leading articles upon the practical affairs of life, the authority and efficacy of Christian principles. Its capital has been supplied by members of various religious denominations, and it will do its work, without bias, on the common ground of the great primal Christian truths.

The World will aim to be the first newspaper in the land, in respect to all objects which truly belong to the province of a secular journal. The name it bears will be its true index—taking the word in no dead physical sense, but applying it to all the religious, moral, social, political, literary, and industrial workings that make up the mighty life of this nineteenth century. It will spare no pains or expense to obtain and publish, at the earliest moment, AUTHENTIC news in every department of human activity; and it will employ the best ability procurable to give such intelligence its right interpretation and application. Its Correspondence, both Foreign and Domestic, will be on an unusually ample scale, and will come from residents of the highest intelligence and entirely responsible character. Determined thus to excel in the breadth and variety of its early information, it will nevertheless refuse to pandor to corrupt tastes, and will rigorously exclude every thing unfit to be read in a pure household.

Its Commercial and Financial Department will be conducted by men of large experience and ability, and it will aim, by fullness of marine and commercial intelligence, as well as by strict impartiality and honesty in dealing with financial questions, to be an adequate and trustworthy source of information for the Merchant, the Banker, the Tradesman, and
