SATURDAY EVENING POST. -- Ma my of our readers desire to have, in addition to the Journal, a good city paper. To such we recommend the Saturday Evening Post. It is a literary and news paper of decided merit. A new story has just been commenced, entitled "The Lady Lisle," which promises to possess unusual depth and interest. Therefore now is the time to subscribe. Terms-$2 per annum in advance, or $3 for two copies, $5 for four, $12 for ten. Address Deacon and Peterson, 319 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE GENESEE FARMER.—The November number of this well known and truly excellent agricultural journal is received. We are not surprised at its immense circulation. It furnishes just such information as every farmer and gardner needs-no matter where he is located. It costs only FIFTY CENTS A YEAR! This is surely cheap enough for such a paper, but we observe that the publisher offers to send the remaining numbers of this year Free to all who subscribe at this time for the volume for 1862! We advise every one of our agricultural and horticultural friends to subscribe at once. Send the fifty cents in postage stamps to Joseph Hansis, Rochester, N. Y., or get one of your neighbors to join you, and send a dollar bill. Subscriptions for the Genesec Farmer are received at the Journal Office.

France and England mary, and imported tobacco is equally productive in a fiscal sense. Cotton is duty-free in England, but there is a duty of 66 cents a pound upon American tobacco. Therefore, upon 26,000,000 pounds, which is the annual home consumption of tobacco in England, the duty exacted by the British Government is $23,940,000 each year. Thus, the Government of France and England are deeply interested in getting a supply of cotton and tobacco. Nevertheless, they will not make matters worse by fraternizing the South.

J. C. Arm & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Eurosparille has done for one. Having inherited a Scroblous infection. I have sufficed from it in various ways for years. Schetines it binst out in Ulcers on my hands and armst solvetimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stangerly. Two years ago it broke cit on my head and covered my spails and ears with one sore, which was painted and I stinous beyond description. I tried nearly medicines and everydary spails and ears with one sore, which was painted and I stinous beyond description. I tried nearly medicines and early with the disorder grew worse. At length I was apposed to read in the Gospel Blessenger that you had prepried an atterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your lequination that any thing you made must be guel. I sent to Cinginantiand got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you fadilyee, in shall doses of a teaspountil over a mouth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to farm under the seah, which after a while fall off. My skin is now dear, and I know by my feeling what I do well and I have being that I feel what I om saying when I to you, that I hold you to be one of the agestles of the age, and remain ever gratefully.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass, any other for the cure of threat and lang complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its traly wenderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Few are the communities, or even families, angong three who have, not some personal experience of its effects—some living trophy in their milet of its victory over the subtle, and dangerous disorders of the threat and laries. As all'know, too, the effects of this remedy, we need not so more than to assure them that it has now all the victors that it did have when making the curis which have won se etrongly upon the combence of mankind.
