must be directed to the Editor, and contain

Local and General.

Court this week. Nothing of importance yet completed. Will report in the next issue.

Quite a number of the boys of the 4th Regiment who were wounded and missing have arrived at home during the past week.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK.—According to a custom prevailing to a considerable extent among printers there will be no JOURNAL issued from this office next week.

The National Horse Fair will be held in Williamsport this Fall. This will afford a fine opportunity for the exhibition of the "blooded" stock in this vicinity.

As there will be no exercises of any kind in Coudersport on the coming 4th of July; those who feel like celebrating it in the old-fashioned way can be accommodated at Oswayo Village or Harrison Valley.

A Good Hit.—In Duffey's Tremont news room, Chicago, is displayed a sign which might be advantageously posted in the houses of very many subscribers who pay for newspapers that many others may read them. It reads as follows, a large sponge being hung over the space enclosed in brackets:

"Gentlemen are requested not to [ ] their Reading."

LOCAL NEWS.—The local news market is decidedly dull—yet everybody glances at the local department, and if it contains nothing the editor is lazy. If he speaks of things as they are, he is mad. If he glosses over, smooths down the rough points, he is bribed. If he calls things by their proper names, he is unfit for the position of an editor. If he does not, he is a rattlehead, lacking stability. If he condemns the wrong, he is a good fellow, but lacks discretion. If he lets wrong and injuries go unmentioned, he is a coward.
If he upholds a public man, he does it to gratify a spite—is a tool of a clique, or belongs to the "outs." If he indulges in personalities, he is a blackguard; if he does not his paper is dull and insipid. Who wouldn't be an editor?

Gen. Lew. Wallace has taken command at Memphis, and is enforcing strict discipline. The Argus, a Secession paper, is reformed, and the correspondents of The Tribune and The Herald are appointed censors for that and all other newspapers. Persons hauling down Union flags will be shot. About 400 took the oath on the 17th Boats northward go full of freight and passengers.

The Congress act meets with the hearty approval of the soldiers at Manassas. Democrats, as well as Republicans, are in favor of the most radical means, and all they fear is that Congress will treat the Rebels too leniently.

The President has approved the bill securing the freedom in all the present, as well as the future, Territories of the United States.

A prisoner of war captured near Mc-Clellan's lines on Thursday informs a Philadelphia correspondent that Beauregard is positively at Richmond, and is second in command to Gen. Joe Johnston.
It was generally understood in the Rebel camps that a number of his troops had arrived, and were, with them, opposed to McClellan.

Arkansas will soon furnish a Union regiment. The 1st Cavalry is rapidly filling up, and hundreds are repairing to the recruiting rendezvous, from the western and north-western counties.

Among the prisoners taken at the recent battle on White River, a Western dispatch names General Hindman, of Arkansas. We trust the story may be true, as Hindman would be a valuable prize.

Col. Slack, Provost Marshal of Memphis, has ordered that the Mayor and all other city officials shall take the oath of allegiance within three days, or be arrested and treated as traitors.

LATEST NEWS.

[From the Tribune of Monday.] Despatches from Gen. McClellan's headquarters, up to 8 o'clock last night, state that all was quiet yesterday. Skirmishing continued all day on Saturday, and at night everything indicated that a general engagement was at hand. A dispatch from Montgomery, Ala., dated last Tuesday, is published in Richmond papers, saying that Beauregard and his staff had arrived at Montgomery, on their way to Richmond, and that a large portion of the army of the Mississippi were to follow, Bragg holding back enough to keep off Halleck's vandals. So many stories are told of Beauregard's movements that no one knows what to believe; but this one is likely to be true. Beauregard could not afford to have his communications with Richmond cut off, as threatened by Gen. Morgan's movement into Cumberland Gap; there is literally no chance for the Rebels in the Valley of the Mississippi, unless to make here and there a dash, which, however successful at the moment, could be of no ultimate advantage; so the rumor that Beauregard is trying to re-enforce Johnston is at least exceedingly probable. His personal presence is of very little consequence either way, since his mastery inactivity and perpetual retreats have destroyed among his own men the prestige won by the bombardment of Fort Sumter.

By the Roanoke at this port we have New Orleans dates to the 15th. Gen.
Butler spring a surprise upon his troops on the 13th, but the response was so prompt that he issued a special order complimenting the men upon their alertness, and also upon their general behavior since they occupied the city. The General was serenaded on the 14th by a large party of Unionists. Of course he made a speech, which was well received. A new daily paper has just been started, edited by the great financier, Jacob Barker, now 58 years old. Of course Beauregard is heard from, via New Orleans; he had 30,000 sick men in his army at Corinth, and sick and well were in a deplorable condition. One George Coppel, subscribing himself her Majesty's (Victor's) Acting Consul, had presumed to address Gen Butler a complaint about the oath required of aliens, and asking explanations; whereupon Gen. Butler returned the slightly Hibernian answer that no reply would be made to the note until Mr. Coppel should be recognized by his own Government as its agent.

There has been some lively and credible work—marked by a sad catastrophe—up White River, in Arkansas. Our gunboat expedition found Rebel batteries at St. Charles, 85 miles from the Mississippi, and whipped them speedily and handsomely, after about an hour and a half of brisk work. The Rebels had two strong batteries, defended by 400 to 500 men, under a traitor named Col. Frye, who was once in the United States Navy.
Our boys—of the 43d and 46th Indiana landed and took the works by bayonet; 150 Rebels were killed and wounded, and 50 captured, among the latter Col. Frye.
Gen. Schofield, Union commander in Missouri, has got some ideas about Rebels and Rebel property that do not prevail on the seaboard. Not long since he directed that Rebel guerrillas should be shot at sight, and their friends and sympathizers should also be severely punished. He has now decreed that active and passive Rebels shall be held responsible for damage to the property and lives of loyal citizens or soldiers. For every soldier or civilian killed $5,000 will be assessed on the Rebels; $1,000 to $5,000, for every one wounded, and cent per cent for all property destroyed. The pith of it all is that he has the power to enforce this order, and will do it.

Com. Dupont reports an act so entirely characteristic of Southern civilization, that it is worthy of special notice. Some armed traitors, ascertaining that the Union forces had left Hutchinson's Island, stole over there under cover of night, and gratified their hatred of the Yankees they dared not face by murdering a large number of negroes, who were unarmed and asleep. That is just what might be expected from the cowardly traitors of the Palmetto State.

Advices from Corinth indicate that our forces are progressing into the interior of Mississippi by way of the New Orleans and Northern Railroad. Some of Gen Sherman's men occupied, on Friday, Holly Springs, a place of considerable importance, about 25 miles south of Grand Junction. The Rebels had, of course, removed all their armory machinery, and to make sure that it was safe, did not stop with it until they reached Atlanta, Ga.

The 20th Indiana—the regiment that had such a narrow escape on the Hatters Beach at Chickamaucum—had a smart skirmish with the Rebels in front of the Chickahowiny on Thursday. They held their ground completely, had a lieutenant and three men wounded, and were especially complimented by Gen. Kearney, who never praises unless he means it.

An order was issued from the War Department on Saturday, allowing a premium of $2 for each accepted recruit volunteering for three years or for the war, and permitting one month's pay in advance to all who are mustered into service, whether regulars or volunteers.

Western rumors, vague and possibly groundless, say that Beauregard started for Richmond immediately after the Seven Pines battle; that Gen. Price had also gone thither to hand in his resignation; and that Bragg was in command of the traitor army in the West.

A letter from New Orleans says that Fort Morgan has not been surrendered.

Preaching the gospel of treason has been stopped by Gen. Wallace.

DIED:
In Sharon township, on the 13th inst., very suddenly, Mrs. MARY, wife of Capt. L. H. Kenney of the 85th New York Regiment in Clara, May 13th, EMERANCY, wife of Peter Vanarsveld.
Although she was in the prime of life yet Consumption's hand was laid upon her and she was powerless to resist its fatal grasp.
She was an affectionate wife and mother, and has left a devoted husband and four children together with numerous friends and relatives who deeply mourn her loss. But we trust our loss was her gain.

Gone with the angels,
Gone from our home,
Far through the sunny land, Joyous is roam.
Let not our sorrow now Sadden thy heart;
Happily met we here,
Hopefully part.
Come to our fireside Morning and even;
Tell us thy happiness—
Tell us of Heaven.
So wilt thou win us
From sadness and care,
And bring back the features That joy used to wear. D.R.
