Local and General.

Democrats, read the comments of the Nashville (Ky.) Union on the Vallandigham address. See first page.

Thanks to John S. Mann, Esq., for a dish of very fine strawberries—averaging two to four inches in circumference.

Another large trout was caught in the Allegany river above this place, last week, by Ben. Maynard, which weighed one pound and nine ounces. Bully for our "imp!"

Wool is selling at 44 @ 50 cts per lb., cash, in this county. Will our farmers bear in mind this fact. Sheep-raising cannot help being profitable. An old wool-grower in Vermont gives as his opinion that during the next four or five years wool will command higher prices than it has ever before done.

Sergeant Stephen F. Hamilton, wounded by a rifle ball in the ankle, and Asa Tombs, wounded in the side, have returned home on furloughs. We are sorry to see the Sergeant on crutches.

Young Cavanaugh of Ellsburg, taken at the defeat of Banks, is in Saalsbury, N. C.

Capt. J. H. Graves, of the 46th Reg't, is home on the recruiting service. He is in fine spirits and good health and is anxious to have twenty Potter county men to fill up his company.

We have heard nothing from the companies that went from this county since the last great battles commenced.

Thanks to our fair young friend for that beautiful bouquet. "May her shadow never grow less."

Court Week was the most active business week we have had for two years past. A large number were attracted by the Land Sales of the Treasurer and Sheriff. Considerable interest was enlisted by the presentation of seven cases of selling liquor without license—all of which true bills were returned. Twenty-three bills of indictment were presented to the Grand Jury—seventeen found to be true bills, Six ignored.

The following cases were disposed of: W. T. Jones for use of H. Cobb, admr of S. S. White's estate, vs G. W. Tyler. Verdict for Defendant.

A. D. Cory vs Wm. Corey. Verdict for Plaintiff. Jas. O'Brien vs John Lannan. Verdict for Deft.

Comth vs Ira Potter, convicted of larceny, and sentenced to nine months in the Eastern Penitentiary—Where he has since been placed by the Sheriff.

Comth vs Jeremiah Burrell, charge of stealing, found not guilty.

Many of the Commonwealth cases were carried over to the next term.

Capt. N. J. Mills returned home last week, in good health. He reports the following in reference to his company:

Sick in Hospital—Clarendon Darling, Geo. Heister, R. M. Post, G. A. Post, Nicholas Palmiter, James Roberts, Jas. Ryan, Benj. P. Bishop, Chas. Schwantz, Henry Foster, Luther Quinton, Wm. Smith, Sylvester Bolden, Henry Skyleson, Philip Jones, Hannibal Cronck, Albert Reed, D. B. Lowrey, Robert Ross, Pasco Miller, S. R. Green, Anson Cone.

Prisoners—J. B. Baker, Wm. Ross, W. James, Sergeant Austin, A. J. Ward and G. W. Barr are buried in an old church-yard about a mile and a half miles from Hancock Md., in a westerly direction and in the borders of Pa.

John Peet is buried in the church-yard near Danastown, Md. Seth McMillan at or near Winchester, Va.

Of the many educational enterprises which have been introduced in this country, there is none which at present occupies a more prominent position than that of Messrs. Bryant & Stratton, in establishing their chain of Mercantile Colleges. Step by step this scheme of education has been developed by the most untiring energy, until it has become at once the most extensive and perfected system known at the present day.

The course of instruction pursued in them, through the agency and skill of the great number of teachers employed, has been brought to a wonderful state of utility, such as was hitherto unattainable by any means, save long and laborious apprenticeship.

While the present unfortunate state of the country has been disastrous to all the educational enterprises of the country, we are pleased to know that these Colleges have been well sustained, and that the one located in this city is receiving a most liberal patronage. —Buffalo Christian Advocate.

Fullon applied steam to the great practical uses of the age; Morse has brought Galvanism to be the daily servant of millions of men. Newton unraveled the mazes of the stars and made their motions the mariner's guide on the trackless ocean. What these men have done in their departments, Dr. Ayer does in medicine. He turns the great discoveries in Science and Physics to use in the cure of disease, and makes the occult discoveries of the great chemists available for the wants of every day life. His medicines for the low prices at which they are sold, bring within the reach of every man the best wisdom and the best skill of modern times. —Wilmington, Del. Statesman.

The Celebration at Oswayo.

A large crowd of people in the old fashioned spirit of patriotism were assembled for the appropriate celebration of our Nation's Birth-day at the pleasant and thriving village of Oswayo.

In the order of exercises a procession was formed at 1 o'clock P. M. and under the conduct of the Marshals of the day were conducted to a beautiful grove near the church. The President of the day, George Estes, Esq., announced in succession the order of exercises.

1. Prayer, by Rev. J. H. Rogers.
2. Reading of the Declaration of Independence, by Dr. H. H. Munson.

3. Oration, by Rev. Mr. Drake, late returned Chaplain from the army.

The orator in happy and felicitous style referred to the early settlement of the country—the "May Flower" specially guarded by Divine Providence as it was wafted over the Atlantic in 1620, with its precious cargo, destined to plant the seed of true liberty and christianity in the virgin soil of the New World, and thus establishing the germ of a mighty Empire, which under Providence was to be the light of the world. Tracing forward the rapid and unparalleled growth of our country up to the present time.

The orator, in his strong faith, then drew the inference that the same Divine Providence would take care of its own, and that notwithstanding our beloved country was now darkened by the clouds of civil war, that above the storm-cloud was the serene blue of the heavens, and that the storm would at length pass away, giving place to a clear sky and auspicious peace, the integrity of the country remaining entire.

The orator was listened to with marked attention and at times highly applauded. The oration having been concluded, the President of the day announced that after the refreshments prepared at the hotels in the place had been partaken of the people would again assemble at the grove at 3 o'clock P. M. to listen to the reading of "Toasts" and such accompanying remarks as might be made applicable to the peculiar crisis of the country.

On repairing to the hotels the merits of an excellent dinner was enjoyed at the house of O. H. Perry, and also at the house of P. P. Story.

After dinner the procession was reformed and again marched to the grove. Speech-making again being or seeming to be in order, L. F. Maynard, Esq., was called upon, who responded to the call in some remarks deemed appropriate to the peculiar condition of the country, now in a state of civil war. The real cause of the war was prominently brought forward and exposed. The Arch Traitor of the Country, the great and always enemy of the Republic, Slavery, received some telling and deadly blows. It was, said the speaker, a gratification to all patriotic hearts to know, that as one of the first fruits of the war our National Capitol, Washington, was trod by the footsteps of Freemen alone—that the fearful incubus of Slavery which had so long rested with its dark wings over the heart of the Nation, over the citadel of our liberty, had been removed by an act of Congress, moved and influenced to that righteous conclusion by the stirring events and logic of war. This was progress, for which God be thanked. Another great fruit of the war was the act of Congress, declaring "Freedom as the law and rule in all our National Territories now forged or hereafter to be formed," and in connection with this the speaker suggested that if Congress would further declare by act "That all the seceded States now confederated and in armed rebellion against the United States Government, had by their treason justly forfeited their State Governments respectively, and should hereafter be treated, governed and held as simply Territories, until such times as the people, by making manifest their true loyalty and fealty to the United States Government, might safely be permitted the organization of new State Governments for admission again into the Family of the Union," such an act of Congress would meet the exigency of the times, and the vindictiveness of the treason we have to conquer. And once the rebellious States are declared to be in the condition of Territories—then the great law of Freedom in the Territories declares the emancipation of every Slave, thus cutting at a blow the Gordian knot of our difficulties. It was further suggested that we could have no reasonable hope of any lasting peace concluded upon any other basis than Freedom, absolute Freedom, that public sentiment must ultimately ripen to the conclusion, that to have a permanent peace, Slavery, the great foe of peace, civilization and christianity, must first be put down.

The Rev. Mr. Potter being called upon, made some excellent remarks in warm and hearty style.
Captain Graves, of the 46th Regt. P. V. (on furlough from the army), being present, was called out. The Captain related his experience in the army, and bore evidence to the bravery of the 46th Regt. and its gallant Colonel Knipe as a brave and true officer. Captain Graves stated that his men, "the Potter Boys" had been under fire, and that they stood to their duty like brave and true men, that he, the Captain, was recruiting for his company, and he wanted Potter county men, and that he was bound to have them if he could get them—that we were fighting in a good cause, and that it was a proud honor to be a soldier in such a cause. After some further remarks the Captain retired amid the plaudits of the people.

The following sentiments in the form of toasts, were received with hearty applause:

By L. F. MAYNARD.
Slavery—The mask has fallen: All men see that it has ever been the enemy of the Republic. Let it speedily die the felon's death, without mourners.

By Rev. H. H. LYTAN.
The Southern Confederacy—An imaginary castle originating in the smoky brains of Southern fire-eaters; its foundation, Slavery; its superstructure, premeditated treason and villainy; may its shadow grow less and less until it disappears forever before the sunlight of American liberty!

The following by Rev. J. H. ROGERS.
American Liberty—May the worthy labor of freeing our country from tyranny and oppression, begun in 1776, be now prosecuted until every vestige of human Slavery be swept from our land forever! Abraham Lincoln—A worthy model of manual industry, official integrity, and administrative justice. May he live to enjoy the fruits of his labor in a united, prosperous and happy nation, and be esteemed worthy of the honored title of second Father of his Country.

General Fremont—The Pathfinder, having found the path to the liberties of the oppressed, and to the hearts of his countrymen, may he find the path to a high official position in the Nation.
