Coudersport, Wednesday Evening, July 23, 1862.

Local and General.

A Barber Shop has been opened under Sanberg's Boot and Shoe store.

We see by the arrival of Paymasters at Harrison's Landing that the 53d Penna's Volunteers are to be paid off.

We are indebted to Hon. David Wilmot and Hon. Jas. T. Hale, for interesting and valuable public documents.

CONSOLIDATED.—The 64th Regiment from this vicinity has been temporarily consolidated with the 53d Penna's Regiment.—Olean Times.

The Post Offices of Hector and Pike Valley have been consolidated and the mail matter for these two offices now go to the Sunderlinville post-office.

Godey's Lady's Book for August.—This interesting and valuable magazine is now before us. It is, as usual, filled with choice fashion plates, miscellaneous matter, &c.

We have received a complete copy of the "Tax Bill" recently passed by Congress. It is a pamphlet of 32 pages, published by the "Tribune Association" in New York. Price 6 cents.

Cherries are so plentiful this year that bushes of them are rotting on the trees. They are worth from three to five cents per quart, delivered at the door.—Lock Haven Press.

Report says that two bold and daring robberies have recently been committed on the Oswayo: One of $200 from Capt. Graves and one of $1200 from Mr. Kenyon.

As there is some question as to where Gens. Heintzelman and Reynolds belong, it may be well to say that Lancaster county, Penna., has the honor of claiming both.

The time for holding the Courts is again changed. They now meet on the Third instead of the Fourth Monday of the month. The next Court will meet on the 15th of September.

Stories detrimental to the good character of Capt. N. J. Mills being in circulation, it is but right and proper for us to say that we have seen the official document granting him, upon his resignation, an honorable discharge.

A soldier in the Fortieth New York was saved from death by his wife's picture in his breast pocket. A rifle ball was repelled by the iron plate, and though the concussion doubled him up, he was not seriously injured. Moral: Keep your wife's face next to your heart.

Pupils desirous of entering the Coudersport Academy the present term, but who are now engaged in teaching or otherwise, would do well to commence on Monday, the 11th of August. Classes then formed will be continued, without interruption, the subsequent term, if desired.

Henry Sherwood, of Wellsboro, has received a draft for $1500 from the boys of one of the Tioga companies. The Agitator publishes a long list of those killed and wounded in the last battle. Capt. Niles is only wounded and a prisoner; he was first reported killed. Capt. Sturrock, formerly co-partner with Mr. Cobb in the publication of the Agitator is among the killed.

Capt. J. H. Graves sent off the following named persons to fill up Co. G, 46th Penna's Regiment: Jay Cheesbro, Hiram Cheesbro (brothers), C. M. Cole, Noah G. Armstrong, C. R. Byam, John Hay, Jr., N. Bradley, James Kenyon. They started on the 9th inst. There are quite a number more who it is expected will leave with Capt. Graves the last of this month. He will rendezvous at Oswayo village on Wednesday next week, the 30th, at which time all who wish to join him should be ready.

RALLY! RALLY!—Wanted: one thousand Volunteers for three years or during the war. $25 bounty and one month's pay on the mustering of the Regiments into the United States service. Lieut. John Harder, late of Campbell's Artillery, has established a Recruiting Station at Millport, Potter Co., Penna., where those who are willing to serve their country in this her time of peril, can enroll their names and be sent to Camp Curtin for instruction, &c., as soon as sufficient numbers are raised, where they will be formed into new Companies and Regiments and will not be sent to fill up old Regiments already in the field. Now is the time to show your patriotism; not by words, but works. JOHN HARDER, Lieut. and Recruiting Officer.

Capt. Brown, of Allegany county, New York, who was, some time since, sentenced by a Court Martial to three years in the penitentiary for buying of a bay Confederate mule on which to carry the baggage of some of his sick men, has been released by President Lincoln. He is now at his home in Angelica and intends returning to his command in a short time.

The Olean District Ministerial Association will hold its last session for this Conference Year, at the M. E. Church in Coudersport, commencing Tuesday, July 29, and will not adjourn till Thursday evening. The following Ministers were appointed to preach and lecture before the Association: Rev. E. L. Newman was appointed to preach Tuesday evening, Wednesday evening Rev. J. H. Bayless will lecture on Temperance. Thursday evening Prof. S. R. Thorp will lecture on the State of the Country. The question to be discussed is "The Age of the World." About twenty ministers are expected. Let us give them a cordial welcome, and show by our attendance upon the meetings of the Association, and our hospitality that we are in sympathy with that which is right and good. The Quarterly Meeting exercises will be on Saturday and Sabbath following. Services on Saturday afternoon at Homer and on Sabbath at the church in Coudersport. H. H. LYMAN

The famous Parson Brownlow's book has been issued about thirty days and has already reached the enormous edition of seventy-five thousand copies. It contains nearly 500 pages, printed on fine, white paper, in large, clear type, handsomely illustrated with 12 superior wood-cuts, a fac-simile of a characteristic letter of the author to J. P. Benjamin, Confederate Secretary of War, and a fine steel portrait of Mr. Brownlow. The narrative has the attractive charm of a personal experience. The author vouches for the accuracy of his statements. The public may therefore accept it as not only a reliable but a peculiar chapter in the history of the times; and we are confident that no more significant, startling or instructive memorial of the Rebellion, in its minute personal and special bearings, is now accessible. One volume, 12 mo., fully illustrated, handsomely bound in muslin, upwards of 450 pages, $1.25 Sent free by mail on receipt of price. Address, George W. Childs, Publisher, 638 & 630 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Commendable—the improvements on East and West streets. It was quite time the stagnant water below the Presbyterian church and on the next square had some means of running off; and the board walks and crossings on East street have long been needed. But there are some other "improvements" not quite so commendable—Cutting and burning the second growth of timber on the west-side-hill is a benefit to no one and only tends to give our beautiful little village a barren and scorched appearance. The mania, which exists among so many, for cutting down everything that looks like a shade tree, should be plucked out by the roots and a good dose of common sense put in its place. This would be a hard world if the beauties of nature were not present to cheer and purify us. —There are a few more "frog ponds" which could easily be filled and the "mor-rum" song of those big-headed croakers hushed, without any serious inconvenience to the inhabitants. Why don't our M.D.'s return them as a nuisance?—or the Council itself should act without being forced. —Where is our Pound-master? Is he defunct, or has he only skeddaddled? After putting the tax-payers to the expense of erecting a pound, there should surely be something done to arrest the nightly march of all kinds of cattle, from the calf to the big ox with a bell, and whose bell sounds heavy and solemn enough to give all the sleepers in town the funeral nightmare. Where is our pound master?

The Washington Republic does not believe the statement that the Rebels have more men than the Unionists before Richmond. It attributes the appearance of numerical superiority to the fact that the Rebels brought their full force to bear against the wings of our army. George Apsley, Lock Haven, has a contract for five thousand pairs of army shoes at one dollar and eighty-five cents a pair. The Hon. John Covode of Pa. declines a reelection to Congress. He has been an industrious and useful legislator under Speakers Banks, Orr, Pennington and Grow. The wife of the late Col. Ellet died in Philadelphia on the 9th inst., of anxiety and grief, induced by the death of her husband a few days previously.

Gen. Halleck reports a victory of considerable importance near Booneville, Miss. On Tuesday last Col. Sheridan of the 2d Michigan Cavalry and two regiments, in all 728 men, were attacked by 4,700 rebels, whom he defeated and drove back after seven hours of fighting. We had only 41 killed, wounded and missing. Gen. Halleck was so well pleased that he recommended Col. Sheridan for promotion.

Mobile is now pretty well fortified and the inhabitants affect to believe that it cannot be taken. They have got 10,000 troops, two gunboats, and a ram. Confidence is a good thing; but, has Mobile heard from New Orleans, Vicksburg, Baton Rouge, Grand Gulf, and Island No. 10?

LATEST NEWS.

A complete exchange of prisoners has been agreed upon between the President and the concern represented by Jeff. Davis. Major-General Dix is the commissioner on the Union side, and Major-General D. H. Hill on the Rebel. They had one conference on Thursday, but did not effect their purpose. We learn from a Richmond paper that it has been agreed that each Government should report the number and names of all prisoners in danger, on parole, and wounded, and perform the exchange by giving man for man, and in relation to officers in such ratio as the usages of war have established as just. The movement was initiated by the Federal Government, whose special messenger reached Richmond a few days ago, by a flag of truce, via City Point and Petersburg. Some weeks must elapse before the exchange is consummated.

Advices from Warrenton say that "the news that Gen. Hatch has reached Charlottesville and cut off the most important source of Rebel supplies, is the subject of great rejoicing in the army." If Gen. Hatch has really taken and holds Charlottesville, the fact is important. It is twenty-two miles beyond Gordonsville, at the intersection of the railroad from Covington and Staunton with the road from Alexandria to Lynchburg. Lynchburg, on the great Southern railway line, is only sixty miles beyond Charlottesville.

CORINTH, July 19, 1862.

Gen. Halleck's departure was unattended by any demonstration. Few were aware of it. He traveled in a common freight car, without any guard. A Special Order, issued before leaving, places Gen. Grant in command of his army and Gen. Pope's old army, together with the divisions of Gens. Kimbly and Mitchell of Kansas, giving him the largest force, next to Gen. McClellan, in the field. The district of West Tennessee, under him, is to include the district of Cairo and Mississippi, and part of Northern Alabama. Cotton is coming out of West Tennessee very freely. Three trains, comprising thirty-seven cars, loaded with it, started for Columbus from points on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, yesterday, and immense piles are awaiting shipment. The people fear burning by the guerrillas, and are anxious to sell. Prices range from 20 to 25 cents. Everything is quiet along the Memphis and Charleston and Mobile and Ohio roads.

Reliable persons from Murfreesboro report that the guerrillas have fallen back toward McMinnville. There were not over 2,000 of them, consisting of the 5th Georgia Cavalry, Texas Rangers, and Star's and Morgan's old troops. Our loss is stated at 33 killed and 62 wounded. Guerrilla loss 50 killed and 100 wounded. The citizens treated the wounded humanely without distinction. The Rebels went off without burying their dead, who were interred by the citizens.

HELENA, Ark., July 12, 1862.

The Army of the South-West is safe! Its advance arrived here this morning; the entire force will be in to-night. All the reports of its starving, capitulating, or scattering, were weak inventions of the enemy. It has been, at times, on three-quarter rations; but Uncle Sam feeds his soldiers so bounteously that a diminution of one-fourth the regular supply causes no serious inconvenience. It has met the Rebels in repeated skirmishes, and routed them every time. It comes in compactly, without a single detachment cut off, or a straggler left behind. The men are somewhat worn down by the fatigues of their unparalleled campaign; but they are in excellent spirits, and the health of the entire command was never better than it is to-day.

Since Gen. Curtis's soldiers left Rolla, Mo., last Feb., they have fought the great battle of Pea Ridge—the most memorable conflict of the war, in which the National troops fairly met and vanquished three times their own number—defeated the Rebels in dozens of skirmishes, and carried the flag further into the enemy's country than any other command in all the armies of the Union.

They have remained for weeks 200 miles from their base of operations, disproving the favorite Rebel' boast that we never dare venture fifty miles from our gunboats. They have shown that there is little to be feared from guerrillas when not supported by great armies in the vicinity, for they have lost but one supply-train of forty wagons, and that was cut off within thirty miles of Rolla, its starting point. They have marched more than 600 miles, over mountains in Winter, through swamps in Summer; undergone fatigue, hardships, hunger, and thirst; and by patient endurance, no less than heroic daring, won fresh laurels for the Young North-West.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 17, 1862.—The correspondent of The Leavenworth Conservative says a recent battle in the Indian Nation, between a detachment of the Kansas Regiment, under Col. Wier, and a force of Rebels, resulted in the capture of 125 prisoners, and a large number of horses and ponies, about 1,500 head of cattle, 36 loaded mule teams, a large quantity of camp and garrison equipage, and 50 stands of arms: Col. Ritchie, in command of a regiment of loyal Indians, has trustworthy information that Chief John Ross was about to join him with 1,500 warriors. Col. Salomon, of the 10th Wisconsin, had captured 40 prisoners.

The death of Gen. David E. Twiggs is announced in the Richmond Whig.
