An eminent physician has discovered that the nightmare in nine cases out of ten is produced by owing a bill for a newspaper, and that the best cure is to pay up on one.

Godey's Lady's Book for September is at hand. It is filled with choice reading, and its Fashion Plates are superior to those of any other magazine. Address L. A. Godey, 323 Chestnut St. Philadelphia.

We have on hand a copy of the American Exchange and Review. It is a very interesting work, and we take pleasure in recommending it to our readers as both useful and entertaining. Address, Whitney & Co., No. 712 Chestnut St. Phila.

Another Proud Day for Little Potter!

Captain Walton Dwight's Company of Volunteers left Couderdport on Monday, Aug. 18th, to join the Bucktail Brigade now being organized by Major Stone. He took with him more than a full Company—in all one hundred and twenty-nine men. The list of names will be published next week. These men were enlisted in about ten days; a very short space in which to raise so many in a county so sparsely settled. Capt. Dwight's known character as a man of capacity and energy did very much toward accomplishing this result of which we have so much reason to be proud. A number of men were especially active in their exertions to raise this Company, among whom were Lieuts. Johnson and Hoyt, yet all would have been of no avail had not the enthusiastic patriotism of our people more than seconded their efforts.

John S. Mann, Esq., Attorney for the County Commissioners, went as far as Harrisburg with five thousand dollars to be distributed among the men immediately on their being mustered into service, the money having been loaned to the county by Hon. Isaac Benson for the purpose of having an additional bounty. Thus with feelings of sorrow and pride have we been called upon to part with so many more friends, husbands, brothers and fathers who have gone to fight the battles of their country. We feel sure that the blessings of Heaven will attend them and reward their patriotic sacrifices.

Since writing the above, we learn, that the people of Oswayo had a very nice dinner prepared for them on their arrival at that place.

More Men Wanted.

Lieut. R. Z. Roberts and Corporal ALMOND Cuskeno arrived in town Sunday evening, looking and feeling extremely well, and their mission here is one which we trust will prove eminently successful. They have just left Captain Jones' company of the gallant 53d, for the purpose of recruiting to fill the ranks of their Company and Regiment. They are accompanied by Serg'ts Yergey of Company A, and Whitaker of Company I, of the same Regiment. Shall not Potter county respond nobly to such a call? Her own sons who have fought in her behalf on the fields of Fair Oaks and of the other memorable battles before the Southern Capital now call upon us for more men to strengthen their hands and encourage their hearts in this struggle for our national existence. They will not call in vain; there are still heroes and patriots left in Potter county who will gladly leave their homes to stand with their brothers—who have so nobly proved themselves such—in the hour of their trial.

People of Potter County! you have already done well. Your borders have been thinned by enlistments in the adjoining State and counties nearly sufficient for a company—you have sent by Captain Gray a number of men to fill the ranks of your two companies in the 46th Regiment; and now with Captain Dwight one hundred and twenty-nine more—all since the last call for six hundred thousand, and yet you can send more. Let us avoid drafting if possible. Every man we send now makes the number to be drafted so many less, and we feel very sure that by sending twenty or twenty-five more men at this time, we can avoid the draft altogether and enhance the credit of our county.

To enable you to leave your homes feeling sure that your families will be provided for, the county will pay each of you who go a bounty of Fifty dollars.

These Recruiting Officers have distinguished themselves on the field of battle, and are eminently worthy of your fullest confidence. Greet them then as noble patriots—reward their labors with the utmost success—and cheer the hearts of their comrades before Richmond by your timely aid and sympathy.

We have been permitted to make the following extracts from a private letter from Capt. M. L. French, of this place:

CAMP NEAR COUDERSPORT, Va., Aug. 13, 1862.

We have once more been before the enemy, and like all other battles we had ten thousand opposed to thirty thousand, and the consequences were we had to fall back and wait for re-enforcements. The 46th Regiment met with heavy loss. The two companies from Potter were badly cut up. It was a hard fought battle, commencing at 1 o'clock and lasting till nine in the evening. I met some narrow escapes that day; once I was within fifty yards of their Infantry. The 2d Battalion, to which I belong, was cut off from the Regiment, but we did not know it until the battle was nearly over. We were put on the left flank to watch for the enemy in that direction, when they commenced firing right opposite to us, and we were so near them that we could hear their commands. We thought the battle was going in our favor until about dark, when Col. Barrows thought it was near time to receive some orders, so sent me to find the Regiment, rather a ticklish job I soon found, as we were clear in the rear of the Rebs, so I had to pass through their lines to get to our army, but I did not know it then. When found Col. Jones he told me our army had fallen back while the enemy had advanced, and said I could not get back to Col. Barrows. I told him I should try it; and after riding like fury for half an hour I got to him. The whole Battalion gave me the credit of saving them. We have now had two night rests in twelve days, so we feel pretty fresh. My company had a fight on the picket line the other day with three Rebel companies in which we drove them back across the river. I have seen Tom Mills, Orlando Rees and Chesbro, since the fight; they are well.

THE very best medicines in use among us are those prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell. He is a graduate of the Penn. University, whose connection with that celebrated College of Medicine has conferred more distinction upon it, than its Diploma has upon him. His remedies have become household words not only in this country, but in almost every region of the earth inhabited by man. Their extraordinary fame has arisen from their extraordinary virtues, and these are certified by men of the highest station. We publish in our issue to-day, a document signed by the Mayors of the great cities in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Peru, Chili and Brazil, each of whom certify that the physicians and druggists of their respective localities have given their assurance of the uniform good effects and superior virtues of Dr. Ayer's preparations. This is evidence which should satisfy the most sceptical, of their efficacy, and we beg our readers to refer to it. Especially do they speak with glowing praise of his Sarsaparilla—the beneficial effects and truly remarkable cures that have been realized from its use.—N. Y. Sunday Times.

BRECKINRIDGE'S WINCING.—George Berger, the publisher, and Wien Forney, the editor of the Harrisburg Daily Telegraph, one of the most fearless and patriotic war journalists in the United States, were on Tuesday last held to bail for uttering certain alleged libels against Barrett and MacDowell, the publishers of the Patriot and Union, the notorious Breckinridge organ of the same place. Bar was promptly entered on the charges preferred, which consisted, in the main, of comments upon the daily manifestations of sympathy with Secession in the columns of the latter journal. A somewhat disqualifying sequel to this threatened prosecution is the subsequently-discovered fact that the prosecuting parties in this case are the owners of the establishment in which were printed handbills calling for a negro meeting in Harrisburg, at which recruits were to be raised for General Lane, of Kansas—the whole proving to be a base canard to deter white men from enlisting in the army of the United States! A beautiful pair, truly, to bring a suit against a loyal paper for showing that they are what they have thus abundantly proved themselves to be—enemies of their country.—Har. Telegraph.

The Christian humanity of the Rebels was characteristically manifested at the great fire in Charleston. The jail of that city was crowded with Union Prisoners. Every house and everything in the neighborhood of the jail was on fire, and the yard was filled with brands coming from the burning buildings. While the fire was raging in full fury, the prisoners, instead of being given a chance to save themselves from burning, were confined in separate cells. The fire destroyed everything around the jail, and it was a miracle how that building escaped without sharing the same fate. It certainly was not the fault of the chivalrous citizens of Charleston that these unfortunate men were not roasted alive. The persons in charge of the jail certainly intended they should be.

ONE OFFICER LOYAL TO FREEDOM.—Colonel Halbert E. Paine, of the Fourth Michigan volunteers, now at Baton Rouge, was arrested by order of General Williams for disobedience of orders. The General had commanded all negroes to be turned out of our lines. Col. Paine wrote him a note, stating that by act of Congress any officer aiding in returning a fugitive slave would be cashiered, and that this excluding of negroes from our lines was virtually restoring them, as their claimants were ready to seize them on the instant. He therefore could not obey the order, and must abide the consequences.

Legal representatives of Smith P. Finch, Sheldon M. Gibbs and Abel C. Card late members of Capt. Jones' Company, can obtain the papers necessary to institute proceedings for the recovery of bounty, back pay, &c., by calling on me at Glassmire's hotel. R. Z. ROBERTS. Couderdport, Aug. 18 1862.
