

PITHY BREVITIES,
(OR, THINGS MORE MIGHT BE SAID ABOUT.)

Did we but strive to make the best of troubles that befall us, Instead of meeting cares half-way, They would not so appall us. Earth has a spell for loving hearts; Why should we seek to break it? Let's scatter flowers instead of thorns— The world is what we make it.

Sin has its uses.

There are men who chew misfortune as asses chew thistles.

Satan lurks in honeysuckles as well as behind marble pillars.

Law is the buoy of the good citizen—the rock of the bad one.

We clap Vice in fetters—and then call it Virtue.

How much we owe to our poets! Homer's Achilles has made a thousand heroes.

Instead of fighting Misfortune we too often make it prisoner.

It is when the work is finished that we feel how unfinished is the workmanship.

"Still water runs deep," but are not muddy waters mosty still?

Reformers are too apt to tear up the floor of a raft to erect jury-masts.

To tell a boy what books he shall read, is like telling a bee what flowers it shall suck.

Praise is sometimes as powerful as censure. It is as bad to be blown into the air as to be cast into a pit.

Terror is the strongest when undefined. If we know what Death was like, men would as soon die as sleep.

The example of a ruler should have the force of law, and all the laws of a ruler should be enforced by his example.

In the best of us, our sins toss about like ships at anchor; in the worst we slip the cables and let the ships run free.

An infidel only call upon God when, at the last moment, God designs to call upon the infidel.

The religion of some folks is a mere matter of ornament, like the stone goods which rich men set up in their gardens.

The shepherd has quite gone out of modern poetry. Let us hope the wolf has left the modern poet's door.

A great fault in the books and conversation of some men is, that the mind appears to be always watching itself.

The law is the wall of a state, and when a prince shows his head above it he deserves to have it taken off.

Public applause is even jealous of its own verdict, and thus the men who have been most abused have been generally those who have been most praised.

We aspire and aspire and then give in. Life in this particular is like a coffin, which widens up to a certain point and then tapers off again.

To bear evil-speaking and illiterate judgment with equanimity, is the highest bravery. It is, in fact, the repose of mental courage.

A shame attaches to Venice for losing the art of making ruby glass greater than the merit which is due to her for discovering it.

Do ninety-nine favors for a man and refuse the hundredth, and he hates you ninety-nine times more than if you had never done him a favor at all.

Many a virtue is locked up, like Ginevra in the oak chest, until it becomes a mere skeleton of itself. Virtue, like everything else, rots and wastes if not used.

Great men pay this tribute to Fame—they must always be great. If they remove their laurels for an instant, Stupidity plumps upon them; as the falling tortoise struck the head of the old philosopher and dashed out his brains.

There is a man down east, rather a facetious fellow, whose name is New. He named his first child Something; it was Something New. The next child was Nothing; it being named Nothing New.

It is a proof of the high estimation which the world, after all, places upon intellect, that every mother would rather know that her child was clever than comely. They fall back on the comely when the clever is out of the question.

What a terrible thing is this crusade against fancy and brilliance! Would my style write any the worse because there was a diamond at the top? Would my sword strike the less deadly if the hilt were jewelled? Is Pictolous necessarily shallow because it is golden?

If you would be known to all the world, you must know all the world. If you live only for yourself, there shall be no memory of you when you are no more.—Men are great in their work and in their life just as they look upon themselves as small.—as they modestly understand how small a part is theirs in a play of a thousand-million characters.

Old folks become precise and methodical, because, feeling that life is drawing toward its close, they desire to make the best of the remnant that is left, and the most of everything they do. Youth thinks it has so great a future before it, and plans so many grand achievements for the coming "morrow," that the common duties of the day are slightly and slightly discharged.

WE'LL PUT IN.—At a printer's Festival at Boston, a short time since, the following capital toast was drunk: THE EDITOR—The man that is expected to know everybody, tell all he knows, and guess at the rest; to make his own good character establish the reputation of his neighbors and elect all candidates to office; to blow up everybody, suit everybody, and reform the world; to live for the benefit of others and have the epitaph on his tombstone, "here he lies at last." In short, he is a locomotive running on the track of public notoriety; his lever is his pen, his boiler is filled with ink, his tender is his scissors; whenever he explodes it is caused by the non-payment of subscription.

CO-OPERATION OF THE WIFE.—No man ever prospered in the world without the co-operation of his wife. If she unites in mutual endeavors or rewards his labors with an endearing smile, with what confidence will he resort to his merchandise or his farm, fly over the land, sail upon seas, meet danger, if he knows that he is not spending his strength in vain, but that his labor will be rewarded by the sweets of home! Solitude and disappointment enter the history of every man's life, and he is but half provided for his voyage, who finds but an associate for happy hours, while for his months of darkness and distress no sympathizing partner is prepared.

A letter from one of Wilson's Zouaves, at Pensacola, says they are sleeping in luxurious spring beds and upon pillows of the softest down, upon which the fair daughters of Seccasia have been wont to close their languid eyes. The Zoo zoos lounge upon curved sofas, survey themselves through splendid mirrors, and revel in the rich libraries for "books to read." They stroll upon verandahs, and pluck oranges and lemons in gardens scented by magnolia and olandiers. Plenty of stray chickens, geese, ducks, pigs, etc., yet remain, and beef in abundance.—Verily, the Zoo-zous are in clover.

Gold seekers find their labor most productive as they work up toward the source of the stream; the heaviest particles being of course carried the shortest distance. A large nugget is seldom found down the stream. So it is in every thing—asend, continually, toward the source.—The pure gold of knowledge—truth and happiness—must be sought at the fountain-head.

"Is anybody waiting on you?" said a polite dry goods clerk to a girl from the country. "Yes, sir," said the blushing damsel, "that's my feller outside. He wouldn't come in."

Dr. Hurd's MOUTH WASH, TOOTH POWDER, and TOOTHACHE DROPS cannot be sent by mail, but they can probably be obtained at any Drug or Periodical Stores. If they cannot, send to us for the Dental Treasury, price, One Dollar, which explains them.

ARE DR. HURD'S PREPARATIONS GOOD?
The best evidence that they are, is that their firmest friends and best patrons are those who have used them longest. Dr. WILLIAM B. HURD is an eminent Dentist of Brooklyn, Treasurer of the New York State Dentists' Association, and these preparations have been used in his private practice for years, and no leading citizen of Brooklyn or Williamsburgh questions their excellence, while eminent Dentists of New York recommend them as the best known to the profession. Without the aid of advertising, dealers have sold them by the gross.
The Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Times says: "We are happy to know that our friend, Dr. Hurd, is succeeding beyond all expectations with his Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder. The great secret of his success rests with the fact that his articles are precisely what they are represented to be, as we can testify from their long use."
The well-known P. T. Barnum writes: "I found your Tooth Powder so good that I immediately used it all up. We find it the best Powder for the teeth that we ever used. I shall feel obliged if you will send me another supply at the Museum at your convenience, with the bill."
But their cost is so small that every one may test the matter for himself.
Beware of the ordinary Tooth Powders. Dr. Hurd's Tooth Powder contains no acid, nor alkali, nor charcoal, and polishes without wearing the enamel. Use no other.
WHAT DOES DR. HURD'S REMEDY EFFECT?
Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will give young ladies that finest charm in woman—a sweet breath and pearly teeth. Try them, ladies.
Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder will cleanse the mouth from all foul exhalations, and if used in the morning, will make the breakfast taste sweeter and the day begin more pleasantly. Hundreds of persons can testify to this. Try them, gentlemen.
Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder are the best preparations in the world for curing BAD BREATH and giving firmness and health to the gums. Hundreds of cases of Diseased Bleeding Gums, Sore Mouth, Canker, etc., have been cured by Dr. Hurd's astringent wash.
Dr. Hurd's Mouth Wash and Tooth Powder give an additional charm to courtship, and make husbands more agreeable to their wives and wives to their husbands. They should be used by every person having ARTIFICIAL TEETH, which are liable to impart a taint to the mouth.
Dr. Hurd's Toothache Drops cure Toothache arising from exposed nerves, and are the best friends that parents can have in the house to save their children from torture and themselves from loss of sleep and sympathetic suffering. Farmers and Mechanics! you cannot well afford to neglect your teeth. For a trifling sum, you can now get preservatives, than which Rothschild or Astor can get nothing better. Remember that Dyspepsia and Consumption of the Lungs often originate in Neglect of Teeth. Send for the Treatise on Teeth, and read Dr. Fitch's observation on this subject. If too late to arrest decay in your own teeth, save your children's teeth.

Neuralgia Plasters.
Dr. Hurd's Neuralgia Non-adhesive Plasters are the most pleasant and successful remedies prescribed for this painful disease. The patient applies one, soon becomes drowsy, falls asleep, and awakes free from pain, and no blister or other unpleasant or injurious consequences ensue. For Earache and Nervous Headache, apply according to directions, and relief will surely follow. Nothing can be obtained equal to Dr. Hurd's Plaster for Neuralgia. Try them. They are entirely a novel, curious, and original preparation, and wonderfully successful. They are of two sizes, one small, for the face, price 15 cents, and the other large, for application to the body, price 37 cents. Will be mailed on receipt of price and one stamp.

WHAT ARE THE PEOPLE DOING?
The American people are intelligent enough to appreciate preparations that contribute so much to the happiness of those using them, and they want them. Every mail brings us letters, some ordering the Treatise on Teeth, some the NEURALGIA PLASTERS, and not a few enclosing 37 cents for the MOUTH WASH, to be sent by mail; but to those we are compelled to reply that it is impossible to send a half-pint bottle by mail. The people want these Remedies; Who will supply them? Now is the Chance for Agents.
Shrewd agents can make a small fortune in carrying these articles around to families. The Dental Treasury is the nearest article that men or women can carry around. Send for one and see, or, better, a dozen, which we will sell as samples for $7. WM. B. HURD & CO. Tribune Buildings, New York.

That remittances may be made with confidence, W. B. H. & Co. refer to the Mayor of Brooklyn; to G. W. Griffith, President Farmers' and Citizens' Bank, Brooklyn; and to others.

A NEW SINGING BOOK FOR DAY SCHOOLS, called THE DAY SCHOOL BELL is now ready. It contains about 200 pages of choice Songs, Rounds, Catches, Duets, Trios, Quartets, and Choruses, many of them written expressly for this work, besides 25 pages of the Elements of Music. The Elements are so easy and progressive, that ordinary teachers will find themselves entirely successful in instructing even young scholars to sing correctly and scientifically, while the tunes and words embrace such a variety of lively, attractive and soul-stirring music and sentiments, that no trouble will be experienced in inducing all beginners to go on with zeal in acquiring skill in one of the most health-giving, beauty-improving, happiness-yielding, and order-producing exercises of school life. Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.
DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb. 1861.
SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and local practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic ever employed. Their purgative action on the liver is quick and delicate; consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangement of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to their agency.
Fraternally yours,
ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital,
Boston.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CRUP, ASTHMA, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it almost known. Few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the most dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antitoxin yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the influenza which so often settles upon them unperceived. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumption it prevents than those it cures. It is safe in every age, and every constitution; it does not excite the stomach, and it does not produce any of the deleterious effects of other cough remedies. We need not do more than to assure them it is still more the best it can be. We spare no cost, care, no toll to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
