MUSIC ABOUT MUSIC.

When Orpheus went down to the regions below Which men are forbidden to see. He tuned up his lyre, as old histories show, To set his Eurydice free.

All hell was astonished that a person so wise Should rashly endanger his life. And venture so far, but how great their surprise When they found that he came for his wife.

To find out a punishment due for this fault. Old Pluto long ransacked his brain; But hell had not torments sufficient, he thought So he gave him his wife back again.

But pity succeeding soon vanquished his heart, And pleased at his playing so well. He took her again in reward of his art, Such magic had music in hell.
