Remember that after the 1st of January the price of the JOURNAL will be One Dollar and Fifty Cents.

According to a custom prevailing quite generally among country publishers, there will be no JOURNAL issued from this office next week.

The McKean Miner has ceased publication, owing to the advance in printing materials and the failure of subscribers to pay. Printers can't live on nothing.

Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State, is reported as having resigned.
The news has not been confirmed. No hint is given as to who his successor will be.

In the late battle at Fredericksburg, Capt. Jones' Company lost twenty-two in killed and wounded. We have no news of sufficient certainty to mention names.

D. C. Larabee entered upon the duties of his office as Sheriff, last week.
That he will make a good officer, none who have any acquaintance with his business capacity can reasonably doubt. Shif.
Burt retires after a remarkably active term, during which his duties have been faithfully performed.

LIBERAL OFFER.—The publishers of the Sunday School Times are prepared to furnish specimen copies of their paper, with very liberal inducements to Superintendents, Teachers, and others, who will aid them in extending its circulation during the coming year. This opportunity should not pass unimproved. Now is the time to act. Address J. C. Garri-gues & Co., 148 S. 4th Street, Phila. Pa.

The Democrats in Congress are doing their best to prevent legislation by long speeches about the Constitution, rights of the President, war power of the Generals, and every other side issue which will serve to distract the Country, divide public opinion, and leave a favorable impression in favor of the Rights of Rebels. They hope to make this session nothing, as regards law and government, but hope they will have a majority in the next with which to arrange matters to suit their peculiar belief.

Those who have subscribed for the "Atlantic" and who will yet subscribe will please note the following letter from the publishers and act accordingly:

"The rapid advance in the price of paper and all bookbinding materials has compelled us to increase the price of the "Atlantic," to Dealers and Clubs. After this date our terms of clubbing with newspapers will be $2.50 per year instead of $2.00, as formerly. Ticknor & Fields, Publishers of the Atlantic Monthly.

A NOTABLE PRONOUNCEMENT.—In our columns to-day, that sparkling pleasure to all eyes, the elegant and entertaining New York Mercury, proclaims its intentions for the New Year of 1864. It is a charming "Guide, philosopher and friend" for everybody, and enables the mind, "Formed by its converse, happily to steer From grave to gay, from lively to severe."

To do without the Mercury for a week would be like missing the face you loved best for a year, and its army of subscribers for '63 is likely to outnumber that of the Union.

Court Proceedings.

The greater part of the week was occupied in the trial of Commonwealth vs.
Com. vs. John H. White, of Harrison, indictment: Larceny—horse stealing—Convicted as an accessory. Rule entered to show why new trial should be granted.
Com. vs. Henry W. May. Bill of indictment returned ignoramus.

Com. vs. Randolph Widger, Wm. D.
Widger, Paul Howard, James Gross, Edward Howard and Jerry Burrell. A true bill for larceny against all except Ed.
Howard was returned by the Grand Jury.
Upon the trial the Jury found the first four named guilty and the Judge sentenced them to two years and ten months in the Eastern Penitentiary, to return or pay for the stolen goods, and to pay one dollar fine, costs of suit &c.

Com. vs. Thomas Elliott. Stealing Sheep. Found guilty. Sentenced to fourteen months imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary.

John Brownlee, John Kitzmeyer and Frederick Wm. Sandbach, were admitted to citizenship.

Wm. B. Graves, Esq. was duly qualified as District Attorney, vice L. F. Maynard, term expired. Several cases were postponed until the next term of Court.
Bail having been entered for the appearance of Defts.

Battle of Fredericksburg. Four Days' Fighting.

Only at Pittsburg Landing, along the Chickahominy, at the second Bull Run contests, and at Antietam or Sharpsburg, has this Slavery War witnessed as severe hostile meetings as from Thursday to Monday.

Thursday witnessed the triumph of the effort to cross the river at Fredericksburg, which was most skillfully done in the teeth of the foe.

Friday, there were frequent skirmishes, and the complete passage of our men and arms were effected.

Saturday, systematic plans were put in operation to carry the unknown lines of entrenchment, south of the city, commanding in part, and in the way of our army going Southward. No fault of generalship, of soldiers, or lack of courage and materials, is alleged. The fight was awful. From 9 in the morning, the gallant Unionists hurled themselves, regiment after regiment, against the stronghold of the Rebels. Our men displayed pride of valor, and won some important points, (a mile at the easterly line), gaining a part of the first line of entrenchments. It is probable the enemy lost less than we, as they were almost invisible in their woods and rifle pits and behind their intrenchments. At night, the fire slackened, and our men lay upon their arms.

Sunday, the Unionists awaited an attack, but the enemy would not come out for a general engagement.

Monday, finding the enemy's position too strong to be taken unless at immense sacrifice, our men being worn by four days of offensive labor and the pontoon bridges being in danger, it was deemed expedient to remain on the south side of the river. And as Washington at Long Island escaped during the storm and fog, so Burrows, amid the rain and wind of Monday evening and Tuesday morning, brought back everything moveable out of danger.

When, on Tuesday, the Rebels found their hoped-for prey had escaped, they were astonished and angered—but, as our guns command the city, they keep a respectable distance.

The result is a sad loss of life, and therein a cause of discouragement. But a movement was demanded by the loyal people, and the blow inflicted on the cautious foe must satisfy them how strong and how earnest is the Union spirit. No censure can be attached to the Army or to its Generals. On the contrary, though repulsed, the survivors have won immortal honor, and the fallen dead will be ranked with those of Bunker Hill and of Germanstown.

The delay of the army in reaching the Rappahannock, and of the pontoons in arriving in time to bridge it, gave the enemy and their slaves ample time to make more strong a good natural position. On such "little things" hang great results.
Perhaps no one is so crucially to blame, and these may rank among the unfortunate "accidents of war." Official reports of our losses in the battle make the number less than has been reported, being less than 1,400 killed and 8,000 wounded. A large portion of the wounded were only slightly hurt. We lost 800 prisoners, and took about as many.

Rich Developments.

Oxford, Mississippi, (ately occupied by a Union force) is the home Jacob Thompson, the Secretary of the Interior who stole the Indian bonds. His house was occupied, and some of his papers found. Among them was a copy of a letter written by him, in Nov. 18th 60, to a friend at home, from which we take the following paragraphs:

"My allegiance is due to the State of Mississippi, and her destiny shall be my destiny. I believe she ought to resist, and to the bitter end, Black Republican rule. I hope our State will call a convention to provide new guards for our future safety, and in the event of a call of a convention, I want, if I can, to be a member of that convention."

"Difficulties accumulate upon us here.
As long as I am here, I shall shield and protect the South. Whenever it shall come to pass that I shall think that I can do no further good here, I shall return to my home. Buchanan is the truest friend to the South I have ever known from the North. He is a jewel and a man. But my duty now is to the South.

"The successful, unresisted installment of Lincoln, is the beginning of the end of Slavery. The North is dependent on the South for its prosperity. The South is not dependent on the North for anything necessary to her material welfare." This precious scoundrel proves that they were bent on Disunion at any rate, and thought Buchanan a "jewel friend of the South," as he doubtless was, at the expense of the Union.

EMANCIPATION IN MISSOURI.—Senator Wilson has prepared and will introduce, a bill in aid of emancipation in Missouri. Inasmuch as the Constitution of that State forbids emancipation without compensation, and as it is deemed of the utmost importance to secure the State and the interests of the people on the side of Freedom and against the Rebellion, it is proposed to give the immediate pecuniary aid of the government toward emancipation as a military measure. The bill will offer a first instalment of $10,000,000 for this purpose, with suitable provisions to insure the accomplishment of its purposes.

No snow as yet for the holidays.
Plea-seekers will be compelled to use rough roads this year.

GREAT WASTE OF MONEY.—The amount of money thrown away annually in the United States in the purchase of flour to be made into heavy and unwholesome bread, would endow all the colleges of the Union. This immense waste is lessening year by year, as the celebrated Chemical Saleratus comes to be known, and wherever it is known, our word for it, no other will be used. It is made and sold at wholesale by D. B. DeLand & Co.
Fairport, Monroe Co., New York, and sold by first class grocers everywhere.

ILLUSTRATED SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. The Best Mechanical paper in the World.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

VOLUME VIII.—NEW SERIES.

A new volume of this popular Journal commences on the first of January. It is published weekly, and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information, and from five to ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries, all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.
To the Mechanic and Manufacturer.—No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of "doing without" the Scientific American. It costs but six cents per week; every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which cannot be found in any other publication.

To the Inventor.—The Scientific American is indispensable to every inventor, as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come out, but each number contains an Official List of the Claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous; thus giving a correct history of the progress of invention in this country.
We are also receiving, the best Scientific journals of Great Britain, France and Germany, thus placing in our possession all that is transpiring in mechanical science and art in these old countries. We shall continue to transfer to our columns copious extracts from these journals of whatever we may deem of interest to our readers.

A pamphlet of instructions as to the best mode of obtaining Letters Patent on new inventions, is furnished free on application.
Messrs. Munn & Co. have acted as Patent Solicitors for more than seventeen years, in connection with the publication of the Scientific American, and they refer to 20,000 patentees for whom they have done business.

No charge is made for examining sketches and models of new inventions and for advising inventors as to their patentability.

Chemists, Architects, Millwrights and Farmers.—The Scientific American will be found a most useful journal to them. All the new discoveries in the science of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the architect and carpenter are not overlooked; all the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to these pursuits being published from week to week. Useful and practical information pertaining to the interests of millwrights and mill-owners will be found in the Scientific American, which information they can not possibly obtain from any other source.
Subjects in which farmers are interested will be found discussed in the Scientific American; and most of the improvements in agricultural implements being illustrated in its columns.

TERMS.—To mail subscribers: Three Dollars a year, or One Dollar for four months.
The volumes commence on the first of January and July. Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.
Western and Canadian money or Post-Office stamps taken at par for subscriptions. Canadian subscribers will please to remit twenty-five cents extra on each year's subscription to prepay postage.

THE PRIDE OF NEW YORK.

Grand Mirror of American Genius.
"Correct with spirit eloquent with ease, Intend to reason, or polite to please."

The New York Mercury.

FOR THE NEW YEAR.

It is with no fear of War's effect upon their literary fortunes, that the publishers of the New York Mercury acknowledge the unwar-ring loyalty of the two hundred thousand subscribers, and announce to them and to all, that the New York Mercury for this year (1863) will be richer in every luxury of Polite Literature than ever before. It is no apparent speculation, no temporary "sensation," but a first-class literary weekly, which has been familiar to the United States for a quarter of a century; and while the wishy-washy prints of yesterday are cutting down their talent even while they raise their subscription price, the New York Mercury maintains all its great Staff of Romancers, Poets, Humorists, Essayists, Story-Tellers, and Editors, and promises to make it still greater for 1863.

It is the one paper for every home. Its fortunate columns of reading-matter per week constitute an unparalleled conservatory of the entertaining, and its Novels, Miscellaneous Tales, Beauties of Verse, Gossip, Fecundities, Broad-sides of Humor, and Political Editorials combine to epitomize all the charms of wit and sentiment! The husband reads it to his wife, the mother to her children, the lover to his sweetheart, the soldier to his comrades, and the village schoolmaster to the circle around the stove. It is familiar to the sight of every man, woman, and child in our country, and has regular subscribers in several countries of Europe. The New York Mercury is also identified with the grandest patriotism of the age, for several members of its brilliant Staff hold high rank in our noble army, and have made themselves as famous with the sword as with the Pen. The great illustrating artist of the New York Mercury, the inimitable Darley, gives the paper the highest attributes of Fine Art; and yet this largest literary weekly of the day promises to surpass itself in all these respects during the New Year!

The first New York Mercury Noletto for the New Year, to be commenced in the issue of January 3, 1863, is called VICTORIA; or The Heiress of Castle Cliff. By Cousin May Carleton, Author of "Gipsy Gower," "Sybil Campbell," "Ermine," "La Masque," &c., &c.

The productions of this distinguished au-thress need no eulogy. Public opinion long since pronounced them superior to any other nolettes published on this side of the Atlantic; and the true test of their merit is found in the fact that they are eagerly reproduced, after their publication in the Mercury, by the English press. We may add that the new tale, "Victoria," is fully equal in interest and depth of plot to either of those which have secured so large a share of public approval, and we can earnestly recommend it to all story-readers.

The New York Mercury is sold by all newsmen and periodical dealers in America. To subscribers it is regularly mailed every Saturday morning, for $2 a year; three copies for $5; six copies for $9; eight copies for $12, with an extra copy, free, to the getter up of the club. Six months' subscriptions received.
Always write plainly the name of your Postoffice, County and State. We take the notes of all solvent banks at par. Payment must invariably be made in advance. Specimen Copies sent free to all applicants. Address all letters and remittances, post paid, to
