

Local and General.

Eleven Thousand pounds of Wool wanted at Jones'.

The McKean Miner appears again with a new editor at its head, Capt. L. ROSS. Hope he may succeed—they very much needed a loyal sheet in McKean.

Court is in session this week. Nothing of very great importance transpiring. We will give a report of the proceedings next week.

On Monday morning, June 1st, while Judge Wilmet was riding down Main-street, on a spirited horse, the animal becoming fractious, and in attempting to manage him the saddle turned, precipitating Mr. W. to the ground, cutting his head severely. We are happy to state that his injuries are not considered dangerous.—Reporter, Towanda.

The Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company having leased the Sunbury & Erie Railroad, now control the Northern Central Railroad, the Shamokin Valley & Pottsville, and also the Williamsport and Elmira—together with the whole route through Buffalo to New York. In addition to this they have under their control the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad. There is no other Railroad Company in the world that now commands the same commercial influence.

Rev. J. F. CALKINS, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of this borough, having been commissioned chaplain of the 149th P. V., left home on Thursday last, to assume the duties of the position. He carried with him the best wishes of the entire community for his health, success and safe return. We regard him as peculiarly qualified for the position, and make no doubt that he will accomplish great good.—Agitator.

A. R. BICE.—Thomas Howard shows us a button, dug up among the ruins of the elder Mr. Dale, which was burned down (in Buffalo Valley) over forty years ago. It is larger than a half dollar, made apparently of copper and brass, and ornamented with the figure of an eagle, surrounded with the words—"Fourth of March, 1789—memorable era." It was probably manufactured and worn to commemorate the entrance of Washington upon the untold duties of the Presidency.—Union Co. Star & Chronicle.

E. O. AUSTIN, writing to the Wellsville Free Press, gives the following account of the brave services of one of the new freemen.—Instances of this kind are occurring daily and yet copperheads claim that the negro has no courage:

"There is an attack of this office, a black man, who may always be seen sitting on the stone north, who is now a part of our country. When the pilot was killed on board the steamer 'Resort' on our excursion to this place, he took the helm and run her safe through blockades and batteries, although she was struck 18 times, and he, the pilot, had one of his arms shot off. He saved Gen. Foster and the city to us. He is now under the General's wing, and waits in little things, on your humble servant."

LOCAL OR DROP LETTERS.—The rate of postage fixed by the new law, for local or drop letters, has rendered it necessary to provide a new stamp of the proper denomination, namely, two cents. As after July 1st, all letters delivered or collected for the mail by carriers, are to be free of charge beyond the legal pre-paid rates, namely, two cents the half ounce or fractions thereof, on "drop" letters, and three cents per half ounce or fraction, on those passing through the mails, the extra penny stamp now required on mail letters deposited in lamp post or pillar boxes, will be dispensed with. The portrait of Gen. Jackson has been adopted as a design for the new postage stamp above mentioned. Stamped envelopes of the same rate for circulars, are to be provided.

CAPT. OVERTON.—Since our last issue we have received letters from friends in Washington, who speak encouragingly of the situation of Captain Overton. One says: "I have visited Capt. Overton generally twice a day, and am glad to say that there are strong hopes that no amputation will be required. The bone above the knee is badly smashed but not entirely severed. His recovery, however, will be necessarily slow, and it will be a number of months before he will have the use of his limb again." This correspondent also mentions the fact that Capt. O. has been six times honorably mentioned for gallant conduct in the field, and expresses a hope that the authorities will not pass him by without a fitting reward. We join with him in this expression, and trust that the Captain may have a majority at once. They have made many brigadiers upon far less meritorious service.—Toga Agitator.

A DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.—Some loafers went to the house of a colored barber, in Shippen, the other day, insulted his wife, and conducted themselves as rowdies usually do on such occasions. Word reached the barber's ears as to the proceedings going on at the house. He at once repaired thither, in company with a young man by the name of Ellsworth.—Upon the approach of the two to the house the rowdies skedaddled, hotly pursued by the barber and Ellsworth, the former armed with a shot-gun and the latter with a shillalah.—Ellsworth caught his man and gave him a severe pummeling, but the barber, finding that his legs were not quite long enough to overtake the man he was after, delivered the contents of his gun at him, literally filling his back with shot but not injuring him seriously. Both parties were arrested and all were bound over to Court.—McKean Miner.

A comparison has been drawn between old John Brown and Stonewall Jackson.—Both were unquestionably engaged in rebellion, and each is believed to have been an honest enthusiast, bringing a religious faith to the support of the cause for which he fought and died. The difference is that John Brown's cause was that of liberty, humanity, and justice, while Stonewall Jackson's was that of a wicked tyranny. Northern copperheads excrete the name of John Brown, but mourn over the death of the fanatical traitor, Jackson.

During the administration of James Buchanan the following events occurred:
Dec. 10, 1860. South Carolina seceded.
Jan. 2, 1861. Mississippi seceded.
Jan. 16, 1861. Florida seceded.
Jan. 19, 1861. Georgia seceded.
Jan. 31, 1861. Louisiana revolted.
Feb. 1, 1861. Texas revolted.
Feb. 5, 1861. Arkansas revolted.
Feb. 9, 1861. Jefferson Davis was elected President of the Southern Confederacy.
Feb. 19, 1861. Jeff Davis was inaugurated.
Now who got up the rebellion? "Under which King?"

OBITUARY.
Died, at his residence in Kingston, Luzerne Co., Pa., June 1, 1863, Lieut.-Col. GEORGE E. HOYT, of the 143d Pa. Volunteers.

Col. Hoyt entered the service as Captain and was elected Lieut.-Col. at the formation of the Regiment, which he commanded for some weeks when first ordered to Washington. He had spent several years in the South, as a teacher and a civil engineer. Was near Macon, Ga., when the rebellion broke out, but came North the following summer, fully acquainted with the foe we had to contend with. He participated in the operations of the First Corps on our extreme left and near Banks' Ford, in the recent Fredericksburg battle, and his conduct was like an officer and a soldier. But in that seven days' march thro' that terrible storm to Belle Plains and back to near Fredericksburg, his system could hold out no longer; and lung and typhoid fever succeeded a heavy cold; and although carried to his home, even his own physician and the nursing of brothers and sisters could not master, and he gradually sank until June 1st when his spirit took its flight. His mind was firm till near the last, and then it wandered to his men; he was a soldier to the last. But his work is finished—his last battle fought—the last tattoo beat, and Col. Hoyt sank to rest. He now sleeps beneath the sod once stained by the far-famed, blood of Wyoming. Fit resting place for the patriot and soldier! He will sleep undisturbed by the roar of cannon, the din of battle, or the shrill notes of the bugle, until that last great reveille is sounded by that Chief Angelic Bugler, summoning all to their final roll-call; when we hope to find him a member of that glorious Grand Lodge on high, whose infinite Grand Master doeth all things now, and when, and where he pleaseth, and before whom all shall humbly bow.

In him, his Regiment lost its best officer, and the Craft a worthy member. None knew him but to love and respect him; but he sleeps in an honored grave; let his hundreds of friends but drop a silent tear. O.L.H.

MEDICINES THAT CURE.—One of the special peculiarities of Dr. Ayer's preparations is, that they accomplish what is promised for them. Who, in this community, does not know that of all the cough remedies the Cherry Pectoral is by far the best? Who that ever uses pills but will tell you Ayer's Pills are at once the mildest and most searching, most effectual of all? Did anybody ever hear of his Ague Cure failing in a single case? Not an instance has been found where Fever and Ague has resisted the faithful trial of it. This may seem a bold assertion, but we are assured it is true. And still more important are the effects of his Alternative, called Extract of Sarsaparilla. One after another, patients come forth from their leprosy, cleaned and purified into health, by this witchery of medico-chemical skill. Saturated with the accumulated rottenness of years, and poisoned by the corruption of their own blood, they could only live to suffer. This master combination, purging out the foul impurities, has lentified the vigor of health, and restored them to the enjoyment of life again. If these are truths, and they are, should not our readers know it? What facts can we publish of more vital importance to them?—Courier, Princeton, Ky.
