General Orders state that every soldier who hereafter enlists either in the regular army or the volunteers for three years or during the war, may receive his first months pay in advance, upon the mustering in of his company into the service of the United States, or upon his joining a regiment already in the field.
One of the most striking proofs of the unparalleled extent of our national resources is in the fact that the government credit is not in the slightest degree impaired by the events of the past few days. On the contrary, our national securities are firm, and the subscribers to the five-twenty loan are more numerous than ever before.
The Union Convention of Iowa nominated Colonel William M. Stone for Governor. Col. Stone is a lawyer by profession, and was Judge of the Sixth District Court when the war began. He enlisted as a private, was elected as Major, captured at Shiloh, held a year in rebel prisons, finally exchanged, appointed Colonel of the Twenty-second Iowa, and has since been twice wounded, the last time before Vicksburg.
Although the enrollment is now in progress, it will not be necessary for any one to take measures to establish his claim to exemption until he receives a printed notice that he is drafted, when he has ten days before he is required to appear at the office of the board of Enrollment, where all cases of bodily infirmity, etc., will be duly considered.
How often, in a transient riot, martial law is proclaimed! how often, rioters, disobeying the authority, are shot down in the streets "without trial by jury or habeas corpus." Yet now, when the tens of thousands of men have been in riotous rebellion for two years, the President is denounced because he puts fomenters of the trouble where they can do no harm. Now, can Mayors and Magistrates do more in time of peace, than the Commander in Chief of Army and Navy can do in time of war? Preposterous—silly—absurd!

The Harrisburg Telegraph of Thursday morning, 17th inst., says:
"After a boisterous session last evening, Judge Woodward, a regular copperhead, received the nomination for Governor. The last ballot was as follows:
Woodward 75
Clymer 53
This George W. Woodward is perhaps the greatest aristocrat in Pennsylvania—yet plausible, witty, educated, talented—in short, a most dangerous man. In the Convention that framed the Constitution of Pennsylvania, Woodward showed his contempt of the better class of emigrants then reaching our shores. He loves Slavery and the South. He is one of the Supreme Court Judges who disfranchised the soldiers. From the first, he has acted with the Rebel sympathizers, and in his private manifestations has expressed the most bitter hatred of the Administration in its attempts to thwart the Rebels. If elected Governor, his natural instincts or perversity would lead him to place Pennsylvania under the feet of the Slave power. Such is the 'new man' who the leaders have imposed upon the party.
Lowrie, who decided the soldiers should not vote, was re-nominated for Judge of the Supreme Court.
The Convention prudently recommended Woodward not to resign his seat as Judge but hold to it—on the principle, that 'a bird in hand is worth two in the bush.' They dare not risk vacating his seat. So the copperheads have two Judges of the Supreme Court running for office."
The following deeds were acknowledged during the June Term of Court, by Sheriff Larrabee:
A tract of land in Clara township to Joseph Mann and R. L. Nichols for $85, sold as the property of F. P. Brooks.
A tract in Hector to R. G. White for $90, sold as the property of C. W. Hanville.

A tract in Oswayo to Lewis Lawrence for $50, sold as the property of Joseph and Abigail Stevenson.
A tract in Sweden to John S. Mann for $105, sold as the property of C. Aylesworth.

On the arrival of the Rebels at Hagerstown, a lieutenant and five men wearing the federal uniform, crept out of a house where they had been hiding, and gave themselves up to be paroled. They told Gen. Jenkins that they did not wish to fight any longer against their Southern brethren. The reply of the General must have greatly astonished the cowardly traitors. He indignantly rejected their claim of brotherhood; told them that if he had a twenty-fifth cousin as white lived as they were he would kill him and set him up in his barnyard to make sheep own their lambs, and concluded by detailing six "good lusty fellows with thick boots," to "parole" the recreant federalists by vigorously kicking them out of the camp to the west border of the town. It is said that the Rebel soldiers were highly tickled with the scene, and loudly expressed their approval of "Jenkins's mode of paroling cowards." The six miserable poltroons who were so energetically booted must have felt very differently. What an encouraging prospect for deserters.
The Pennsylvania Copperhead State Convention, held at Harrisburg, adopted resolutions violently denouncing the war policy of the government, but failed even by so much as an implication to condemn the invasion of Pennsylvania by armed insurgents, leaving the public in doubt whether, after all, the "Democracy" did not expect and desire the presence of Jenkins and his rough-riders at the State Capital, as preferable to Gov. Curtin and our local soldiery. The Convention also denounced, with especial vehemence, that part of the national policy looking to the employment of negroes in the national defenses, and subjection of slavery in all its relations to the risks and penalties of the war it has evoked. Yet at that very hour stout negro arms were building, within sight of the place where the convention met, fortifications for the defence of the Capital, and a company of colored citizens from Philadelphia, embracing men of character and means, were asking at the hands of Gen. Couch, permission to fight for the preservation of the lives and property of these very "Democrats."

Yours Local Passes—It is the pride of Americans that in proportion to our population we have more than double the number of newspapers of any other country in the world. This is fitly regarded as an evidence of the higher intelligence of our people. It is not claimed that our first scholars are better educated than are those of the Old World; but it is claimed that the great body of our people are more intelligent than are the working classes of Europe; and if this newspaper press is not the cause, it is an evidence of the fact in ordinary times newspapers are cheaper here than there, and every family not on the list of paupers may enjoy its weekly visits, and we do know that families in which the paper is a regular visitor, are more intelligent, virtuous, and respectable than they would be without it. Hence we urge upon all readers to "support your local paper;" do not let "hard times," the war, nor the high price of paper cause a suspension of its regular issue; better do without some luxury than drop your local paper. Are you poor? Then save the amount from off your back, and put it in your head.
