Gold is 24 cts. premium in New York. Read the New Advertisement of G. H. Simmons. He has just returned from New York with a large and well selected assortment of Fall Goods.

Drafted men will take notice of the order published in another column. There is no need of reporting at Williamsport until the time specified.

The men of Condorsport and vicinity are requested to meet in the Cemetery below the village on Saturday next, at 8 o'clock a. m., with pick shovels, and scythes. Necessary work will be assigned them. Let there be a good turn out.

The fall of Fort Sumpter is now daily expected. The town of Lawrence, Kansas, has been sacked, burned, and men murdered in their beds. The draft is taking place in New York. Everything is quiet. There is nothing of importance from the Potomac Army. Drafted men are joining the army at the rate of 2000 per day.

Claims to the amount of several millions of dollars have been sent in to the city officers of New York for losses sustained during the riot. Another evidence of the despotism of "Lincoln Government," say the copperheads. As long ago as January last it was prophesied by a neutral commercial paper of that city, that a certain party were endeavoring to "hatch out" anarchy. We have had it. The blame, however, is put where all honest men feel that it belongs. Wood, Seymour, Brooks & Co. have done what they have done. A day of reckoning will come. Wars do not last forever.

One of the greatest curiosities of a snake kind we have ever seen was witnessed by us the other day. On Wednesday while the Snowshoe train was on its way to this place, one of the brakemen discovered a young copperhead with a small blacksnake about half swallowed; they evidently had had a fight, and the copperhead had succeeded in swallowing about half the blacksnake, when the latter commenced an attack on the inside of the copperhead and succeeded in eating a hole clear through him. We would venture to say a similar instance has seldom been seen.—Bluffton Press.

Hon. Meredith P. Geary, late member of the Confederate Congress from Tennessee, surrendered himself voluntarily to the Federal Commander at Shelbyville the other day. Mr. Geary was a whig politician of considerable note, a member of Congress during Polk's administration, and was the known Nothing candidate for governor in 1855 against Andrew Johnson by whom he was defeated.

Diphtheria is raging at a fearful rate in Western Illinois, and baffles the skill of the most celebrated physicians. In the town of Moline over one hundred children have died from its effects. Parents in a panic have shut their children into the house to keep them clear of it; but it was observed that those who were housed were victims soonest, while those who "roughed" out of doors invariably escaped.

Governor Aiken of South Carolina.—According to a statement from the Baltimore correspondent of the New York Commercial, Ex-Governor Aiken of South Carolina has been incarcerated in the Libby Prison at Richmond for refusing to submit to the traitor tyranny of Jeff. Davis. Gov. Aiken was one of the most wealthy men and the largest slaveholders in South Carolina, and according to this writer has laid "his three thousand slaves on the altar of his country as slaves no longer, but as free men, and adheres to the star spangled banner."

A Good One.—In one of the townships of McKean county, there dwells a father and several sons, who belong to that class of citizens who always vote the ticket labeled democratic, and who still believe that Gen. Jackson runs every four years for the Presidency. When the enrolling officer came around recently, the sons of this family ridiculed the officer, and annoyed him as much as possible while in the discharge of his duties. Just as he was leaving, one of the boys spoke up, as follows: "Hold on, there, you hav'n't enrolled the old dog yet," referring to a dog lying by the side of the house. "Well," says the officer, "I have all his pups down, and they'll answer for the first draft!" The boys collapsed.—McKean Miner.

COMPASSIONATE OPINIONS OF THE NEW YORK BROTHERS.—Seymour says they are his immediate constituents and "friends." Justice McCann calls them "those innocent people." The Daily News calls them "the populace," the Herald "the people." The Express characterizes them as "enraged and outraged conspirators." The World describes them as the laboring population. The Boston Courier says they are "exasperated fellow citizens" and "misguided persons," who should not be regarded as "mere enemies of law and order." The country regards them as murderers and rebels, against whom, offenders as they are against law and order, every penalty of the law should be directed.

A Great National Cemetery.

A grand and beautiful idea has been conceived by our patriotic citizens since the great battles of the 1st, 2d, and 3d. It is the proposition to establish a National Cemetery upon the battle-field, and gather into it the bodies of our heroes from all the States, who fell fighting for Liberty and Law on the bloody field of Gettysburg. There has been two sites selected for this object, and contracts entered into with the owners for the purchase of the land at $200 per acre. Which one of the two will be chosen has not yet been fully determined. The one is the high ground east of the Baltimore pike and immediately opposite Evergreen Cemetery. The other is the ground adjoining the cemetery on the south-west, and the very spot where the enemy repeatedly attempted to turn what is known as the left centre of our line, and failed with such immense slaughter. The first location, from its elevated position, would seem to be the most desirable spot of the two. Upon this point of view a full view of almost the entire battle-field. The other is not so prominent, but has advantages which seem to point to it as the more appropriate spot. Being more secluded, beside a thickly wooded grove, and upon the very ground where the hardest fighting occurred, and where the tide of battle was turned in our favor, and a glorious victory secured. Both locations are admirably adapted for the purpose. The plan has not been fully matured, but we conceive it to be this: In order to secure the success of this noble work, it is suggested that the people of the States to which the heroes who are buried at Gettysburg belong, contribute to defray the expense of the enterprise, and that Pennsylvania take the lead to secure success. The Governors of all the loyal States have been telegraphed to on the subject, and so far as heard from, a favorable response has been received. Eight States have already united with Pennsylvania in this noble work. The grounds will be laid off, and each State assigned a separate department. Into this will be gathered the bodies of the fallen from the respective States. They will be decently interred, and their graves marked with a headstone and inscription. A list and directory will be prepared for the benefit of visitors, and those who may come to seek after their friends. Another department will be assigned to those who cannot be recognized as belonging to any particular State, and whose names may be unknown. These will be gathered into one enclosure, and an appropriate monument erected over their remains. We heartily commend this enterprise to the consideration of the patriotic people of the Union. The men who fell at Gettysburg will need no monument to commemorate their valor. Like the Spartans who fought at Thermopylae, those who struggled at Gettysburg, in the cause of liberty, will be remembered while liberty has a friend on earth. But we owe it to future generations that we in some way prove our gratitude to the dead, and show that those who survived to reap the reward of the victory at Gettysburg, were not unmindful of what was due to their brethren and fellow-citizens who fell in that fight. While the object is invested with its present interest, we trust, at least, that the conductors of the press of Pennsylvania will give their hearty support, and that the people will not rest satisfied until all who fell at Gettysburg, and whose bones are still scattered over and bleaching on that vast battle-field, are gathered into one enclosure, over which shall rise a monument as proud as their deeds, to commemorate their valor and to point as a signal to the blessed abode of the heroes in heaven.—Gettysburg Sentinel.
