ANDREW G. CURTIN,
OF Bellefonte.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT,
DANIEL AGNEW,
OF Beaver County.

UNION COUNTY TICKET.

FOR ASSEMBLYMEN,
JOHN W. GUERNSEY, of Tioga, ARTHUR G. OLMSTED, of Potter.

FOR PROTHONOTARY,
HENRY J. OLMSTED, Coudersport.

Irishmen! remember that in 1837, George Woodward, the present Copperhead candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, said: "Foreigners have no sym-paties in common with us, they have no qualifications to render them recipients of the high political privilege of voting; and that we do but squander these privileges—the right of voting—in conferring them upon every individual who chooses to come and take them." Irishmen! remember these words, here is a man worse than any Know Nothing, asking you to vote to place him in a position where he can carry out these principles of disfracchisement. Will any Irishman, or the son of an Irishman vote that the halter shall be put around their own necks?
Will the sons of Irish patriots who suffered for centuries at the hands of such gentlemanly aristocracy, vote for a man who thus wishes to crush them and make them equal with slaves? Never! Let every Irishman be at work earnestly energetically, that this hydra-headed Know-Nothing may be sent back to his hole in disgrace at the wrath his unchristian and unprincipled course has evoked.

MAINE ELECTION.

The election in Maine has resulted in a most overwhelming defeat to Copperhead and Secesh sympathizers. CONEY, the Union candidate for Governor has about 20,000 MAJORITY! This is simply an index of what must surely happen in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Ohio will give about 150,000 for Brough, and Pennsylvania about 80,000 for Curtin.
The North is yet in her strength. As the hopes of the Rebels are fading away into imaginative aid from the French, blows, not only in the field, but at the ballot-box, should be dealt out fast and strong. Three months more should see the outlines of the "bow of Peace," spreading themselves over the whole country. The theory that a free people can govern themselves and maintain their integrity will soon become an axiom.

A letter captured by Capt. W. H.
Gibbs, at Natchez, Miss., from among the papers of Jeff. Davis, written by Frank Pierce to the arch traitor in January, 1860, shows clearly that the Northern Democracy were at that time pledged to secession, and that this ex-President was to be one of the leaders of the Northern Rebellion. This single letter, independent of the other proof exhibited to the public within the last few months, should be sufficient to brand upon the foreheads of the leaders of the Democratic party of the North, the foulest epithet ever applied to man, and sink in ignominy and shame the character, lives and memory of the men, who while sworn to obey the laws and observe the Constitution, could yet thus coolly plot their treason. We will publish the letter in our next.

Representative Conference.

The Representative Conference of Tioga and Potter Counties met at Coudersport Sept. 22, 1863.

Tioga—H. S. Johnson, H. W. Williams.

Potter—Maj. J. M. Kilbourne, L. Bird.

The Conference unanimously endorsed the nominations of JOHN W. GUERNSEY and ARTHUR G. OLMSTED, as candidates for the Assembly at the coming election.

H. W. WILLIAMS, Pres't.

J. M. KILBOURN, Sec'y.

We have news from Charleston Harbor to Wednesday, the 16th inst., by the steamship McClellan. Gen. Gillmore was mounting heavy guns on the upper part of Morris Island for the purpose of bombarding Charleston, and although Fort Sauter was still held by the Rebels, the siege was progressing favorably. The fire from the Rebel works on James Island had proved somewhat annoying to the working parties, but casualties were few.

Gen. Gillmore had issued an eloquent congratulatory order to his troops, and a copy is to be placed in the hands of every living officer and soldier who has participated in the campaign on Morris Island.

On the morning of the 15th, the Magazine of one of the Rebel batteries on Sand Point, near Fort Johnson, exploded with terrible violence, destroying the battery, magazine, guns, &c. One hundred Rebel prisoners, taken on Morris Island, came North in the McClellan.

COUNTY POLITICS.

BROOKLAND, Pa., Sept. 18, 1863.
At the primary meeting for choosing Delegates to the County Convention, held this day, DANIEL OLMSTED was chosen President. A committee of one in each school neighborhood was chosen to see that all loyal voters not now assessed, are assessed at least ten days before election, and that those needing it, be provided with means to ride to election.

Friends of your Country! see to it that every man who will support the Loyal Candidate for Governor is on hand. Have your two years' returned soldiers paid a tax in two years? Are all assessed?— Will you allow CURTIN to lose a vote because some man is indolent and has no way to ride to the election? L. BIRD.

Union County Convention.

The Convention was called to order by Chairman of County Convention.

On motion, G. A. BARCLAY, of Wharton, was called to the Chair, A. J. ROSE ham, E. D. Leet, Wm. Fyng, L. Bird.

nard.

The Convention then proceeded to the transaction of its appropriate business.

On motion of Maj. Kilbourn, Hon. A.
G. Olmsted was unanimously nominated as Potter County's candidate for Assembly.

On motion, Resolved, That in nominating candidates the Convention vote via voce.

For the office of Prothonotary the names of H. J. Olmsted, H. H. Lyman, and Dan Baker were presented. Before balloting the name of D. Baker was withdrawn. On the first ballot H. J. Olmsted had 44 votes and H. H. Lyman 8.

On motion, the nomination of H. J.
Olmsted was made unanimous.

On motion, Dan Baker was unanimously nominated for the office of Register and Recorder.

For the office of County Commissioner the names Jerome Cheesbro, R. L. Nichols, Benj. Renneke, G. H. Olmsted, and H.
H. Hendrix were presented. R. L. Nichols, of Sharon, was nominated on the 3d ballot by a majority of 3 over Jerome Cheesbro (former Commissioner) of Os-wayo township.

For the office of County Auditor the name of S. H. Martin, of Pike, was presented, and on motion, the nomination was made unanimous.

On motion, Resolved, That the Chairman appoint two delegates to represent the county in the Representative Conference to meet in Coudersport, Sept. 22, 1863, to nominate candidates for the office of Representative for this Representative District. Chair appointed J.
M. Kilbourn and L. Bird as such delegates.

Maj. J. M. Kilbourn presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we owe a profound debt of gratitude to those noble men who have periled their lives on so many bloody fields in defence of that Government we so fondly call our own, and as a fit acknowledgment of that debt, we hereby pledge our most cordial and persevering efforts to secure the re-election of our noble Governor, Andrew G. Curtin, a self-sacrificing patriot, and the soldier's most devoted friend.

Resolved, That Hon. Daniel Agnew, the nominee of the Pittsburg Convention for Judge of the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth, is well worthy of, and shall receive our enthusiastic support.

Remarks were made by Maj. J. M.
Kilbourn, Capt. N. J. Mills and H. W.
Williams.

The Resolutions were then unanimously adopted.

Adjourned sine die.

G. A. BARCLAY, Pres't

C. S. JONES, Sec'y

On a train with drafted men going from Williamsport, a vote was taken for Governor. If Woodward had had a majority in that crowd, we wouldn't have cried, but Andy G was ahead again!

We have not seen one Copperhead paper that has the honor or courage to let its deluded leaders truly see the result of the California election?

FROM THE SOLDIERS.

CAMP NEAR KELLY'S FORD, VA., Sept. 13, 1863.

ED. POTTER JOURNAL: One of the few and far between visits of the POTTER JOURNAL was welcomed, as is always the case, a few evenings ago, and as copy received visited every tent inhabited by Potter representatives until it was quite worn out in its exertions to satisfy and please all by a visit. This particular copy however contained the communication from our Quarter Master, Lieut.
REES, and upon reading it all exclaimed, "Bully for Rees!" The Lieutenant showed me your private letter wherein you state that some there are who are disposed to dispute Rees' claim to the authorship of said letter. All of us are aware that there are many among the "stay at homes" who are only too ready and willing to find fault with such straight forward, common sense, sentiments, but finding fault does not make them any the less his, and ours and the heartfelt and out-spoken sentiments of every true son of Pennsylvania. And if these are the feelings of all of us, why should Lieut. Rees hesitate to express them more than any one else. That letter I know he wrote, for I saw it before it was finished and read it before it was forwarded for publication. And in regard to the author, Lieut. Rees, let me say that whatever were his politics before he joined the army, that was among the parts and parcels that he left at home.

The soldier is more capable of knowing who is his friend than any one out of the army. When they are satisfied with any thing or any person they want no changes.
That they are satisfied with Gov. Curtin is true beyond a doubt. They want no one else to look to their wants, and could they be consulted, as they ought to be, they would have no one else. "Give us Curtin and to hell with Woodward," is the unpolished exclamation that greets one on every side in a Pennsylvania regiment.
There is no need to ask you to let your paper do its duty; we know it will.

But I am writing more than I intended.
I wished merely to lend testimony to fact; not only that that letter was written by Lieut. Rees, but that we ALL endorse the sentiments. Yours very truly,

DENNIS H. CHEESBRO.

Dispatches to the Philadelphia Press state that the Army of the Potomac was unexpectedly in motion on Thursday—"our advance will not have rest on this side of the Rapidan. For two days our army had to live without fire, as it would have attracted the enemy's shells upon a discovered position. Kilpatrick made several feints to cross the Rapidan, but it soon became evident that he could not live a moment on the other side. On Wednesday the Rebels, who seem in doubt concerning the strength and sincerity of the movement, crossed the river near Racon Ford, and drove 150 men at the post away; but two regiments of our cavalry, armed with revolving rifles, dismounted and drove them back in confusion. We lost about 30 men. On Thursday morning, according to an important rumor, the Rebels crossed again at Racon Ford in a strong force, and captured 100 men of a New York Regiment of military. The latest news from the army is that all was quiet, the relative positions remaining unchanged.

An official dispatch from Gen. Steele, dated Sept. 10, says: "We have just captured Little Rock, Arkansas. The cavalry under Gen. Davidson is pursuing the enemy, who are in full retreat South."

The only times the word "Confederacy" is used in the holy scriptures, are not favorable thereto. They are:

"Say ye not A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy; neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid."—Isa. viii. 12.

"All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border; the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee and prevailed against thee; they that eat thy bread have laid a wound under thee; there is none understanding in them."—Ob. 7.

Gen. Rosecrans writes, to a Committee in Ohio, that he is entirely in favor of allowing soldiers to vote, and they shall, as far as he can secure it, be permitted to vote just as they please. The General can not permit stump speakers to hold forth in his army, but every reasonable facility will be given for the distribution of papers, tickets, &c., provided that "when any publication appears among us so licentious, lying or scurrilous, as to endanger the morality, or be likely to impair the spirit or vigor of this army, I feel bound by reason, justice, and duty to my country, to use my authority to prevent its circulation."

Gen. Butler was serenaded in Philadelphia on Friday evening, and in response made a brief speech, alluding to the important part taken by Pennsylvania in the war for the Union, and hoping she will be on the side of the Union, in the contest in October. The General will enter immediately into the canvass in Pennsylvania in favor of the re-election of Gov. Curtin. His first speech will be made at Harrisburg.

The Hanover Gazette is issued in the heart of the German Democracy of York Co., Pa., and has been rather censorious in its bias. But the late Rebel raid in that region seems to have opened its eyes to the necessity of sustaining the Government, and it has accordingly come out boldly and manfully for Curtin and Agnew.

A Soldier's Opinion.

[The following stirring, patriotic letter, is from Capt. HARRY FORSTER, a son of Capt. John Forster, of Millburg.— Harry has commanded a Company, from Centre county, in hard service during most of this War, and was severely wounded, but is now again with his Company, in the grand Potomac Army. For fifteen years he has been a personal and political friend of Geo. W. Woodward. These facts attach much importance to his views, as given in the following extract from a private letter to a family and party friend.—Union County Star & Chronicle.]

HEAR THE DEMOCRATIC CAPTAIN.

I have just learned, by the newspapers, that Governor Curtin has been re-nominated by his party friends. To tell you a little secret, at which I do not wish you to be at all surprised, I feel, at present, that I could vote for him, even against so good a man as Judge Woodward, and at the fearful risk of being called an Abolitionist, and not strain my conscience a particle. I am as good a democrat as I ever was, but I must confess, that, much as I have always esteemed Judge Woodward, I firmly believe that his election to the Executive chamber of Pennsylvania, at the present time, would be the most dire calamity that could befall our noble old State, as well as the cause of the Union everywhere. Woodward's extreme Southern views on the Slavery question are well known; and if his sympathies are not with the South in this accursed Rebellion, I do not know that he has ever taken any pains to express them in favor of sustaining the War, or the men engaged in the duty of carrying it on. Bold, able, and independent as he undoubtedly is, how long do you suppose he would occupy the Executive Department of the State without an open rupture with the [National] Administration? And of the consequences to follow such a rupture, who can tell? Let me tell you, (though these who know Judge Woodward as you do not need to be told) that his opposition to the Administration in the prosecution of the war, would not be of the "milk and water" mixture that characterizes the conduct of Seymour of New York. From the character of the man, we might look for something bold, determined, real, and defiant, and unless the Rebellion is crushed this fall—I earnestly hope it may—we who are engaged in the fearful work, at some dark and trying hour, when we most needed cheering and hopeful words of sympathy and support from home, instead of receiving them, might have our hearts crushed almost to despair, by the sad and terrible news of REVOLUTION AND BLOOD-SHED BACKED UP BY THE CHIEF AUTHORITY OF THE STATE! God forbid that anything so direful should happen within the limits of loyal and noble old Pennsylvania! Yet if my estimate of Judge Woodward is correct, and seeing him allied as he is to the Vallandigham endorsers who nominated him, is it an overdrum picture? I think not. I think I may therefore safely say, that were I at home, I do not think my previous admiration for the man would permit me to do so great a wrong to my country and the cause of loyalty to the best Government on the face of the earth, as to vote for him. I am in the field, and I want a man in the Executive chamber of Pennsylvania that will give me his aid and sympathy in the work at which I am engaged, regardless of former political opinions and associations; a man that will give the National Government all proper aid and assistance, in its endeavors to crush out the foulest rebellion that ever cursed a nation; and not one who would give aid and comfort to traitors, and place every obstacle in his power, in the way of a vigorous prosecution of the war, and a final restoration of the Union.— Gov. Curtin is therefore the man I want.
He is able, loyal, and patriotic. He is the soldier's friend. It is safe to say that no man in his position would have done more than he has always done to lighten the hardships and add to the comforts of the men Pennsylvania has sent into the field. His ready aid and sympathy have ever been with them in their trials and dangers, and have always been beautifully bestowed. LET THE PEOPLE OF PENN-SYLVANIA, THEREFORE, RE-ELECT A. G.
CURTIN, IS MY PRAYER.

The Bureau of Deserters was established some time since in the office of the Provost Marshal General, and is in charge of Colonel Chauncey McKeever, an energetic officer. We learn that thro' the instrumentality of this bureau two thousand deserters were arrested the first month it was in operation, four thousand were arrested the second month, and last month (July) six thousand were arrested and returned to duty with their regiments. The almost certainty of arrest and punishment, through the agency of the Provost Marshal-General's Department, has become known throughout the army, and has resulted in a decrease of seventy-five per cent, in the number of desertions.

Gen Sully telegraphs Sept. 4: "Yesterday we surprised over 400 lodges of hostile Indians; fought them and dispersed them; killed over 100; destroyed all their camp and all their property. I have in my hands many prisoners."

The death of Gen. Sam Houston is again reported. The Richmond Whig says that he died on the 25th of July at his residence in Huntersville, Texas. He was 70 years old.
