(From the St. Paul Press.) NOT SO EASY, LITTLE MAC.

"Thus conducted, the work of reconciliation would have been easy."-See McClellan's Letter of Acceptance.

No, not so easy, Little Mac, For I was there to see : You may have had an easy time, But it was hard for me.

I shall remember. Little Mac, E'en to my dying day, How in Virginia's miry swamps Week after week we lay.

Your stars shone brightly, Little Mac, Your gloves were white as snow : But we, poor soldiers in the mire, Were floundering to and fro.

The Rebs. laughed at us, Little Mac Who could their mirth condemn' We toiled like muskrats in the mud, The negroes toiled for them.

'Twas k'adness in you, Little Mac To set no negro free, 'Twas kindness to your Southern friends,

But rather hard on me. 'Twas manly in you, Little Mac, To leave our foes their slaves,

They doubtless needed them to dig, Their tranches and their graves

But 'twas not so easy, Little Mac, For us, worn out with toil, To meet such foemen as we met Upon the sacred soll.

They fought us fiercely, Little Mac-Had nought to do but fight: Our guns were rusty with neglect Our spades alone were bright.

And you remember, Little Mac, That famous "change of base; To us who fought that seven-days' fight, It was no pleasant race.

You say 'twas easy, Little Mac ; But I remember well, 'Twas hard to see friends fall so fast, And leave them where they fell.

And all who fought there, Little Mac, Will tell, and tell you true, That it's no easy thing to save Freedom and Slavery too.

No, not so easy, Little Mac, For I was there to see; And when you try that work again, Pray do not call on me.
