THE POTTER COUNTY JOURNAL

Coudersport, Tuesday Evening, August 22, 1865.

Local and General.

See interesting Legal Advertisements.

The Jersey Shore Herald has settled into the lap of copperheadism.

Maj. Mills offers his fine farm at Coudersport, for sale on very fair terms. Here is a fine opportunity for any desiring to purchase.

There is a workman at Ulmsted's Tinsmith shop now, and Marlin says "people can have their ovens lined."

It is proposed to have the Conference for the Districts of which Potter comprises a part, on Thursday, Sept. 7, at this place.

The attention of Sunday School Teachers and others is called to the advertisement of Horace Waters, Music publisher.

Hayti has had eleven revolutions in six years. It is a Catharine-wheel of a country.

Don't forget the Delegate Elections, on next Tuesday, the 29th, between the hours of four and six.

A hundred reports are in circulation as to the whereabouts of John H. Sarrat. The last places him in a Convent in Canada.

The Life of Lincoln has a more extensive sale in France, than the Emperor's History of Julius Cæsar.

The "what-is-it" is dead. "It" was an idiotic negro girl, not a boy as has been stated.

A Cow is to be exhibited at Coudersport, for which the owner has refused $500. He bets $200 she will give more milk than any other cow in the United States.

See the Card of the American Hotel in another column. It has been refitted and is now among the best Hotels of the West Branch valley.

Our columns are crowded so much with new advertisements this week that the notices of the Union nominees are put over to the next issue.

James Jones has revived the Jersey Shore Vedette. It was discontinued four years ago in consequence of Mr. Jones entering the Army. We wish you success pecuniarily and politically.

Horace Greeley receives a salary of $7,500 for controlling the Editorial Department of the Tribune. This is in addition to his dividend of the profits of his interest in the Association.

At present there is not much show for fight in Mexico by Uncle Sam's boys. Our forces in Texas and along the border do not number 40,000, and they are being discharged very rapidly.

A suffering traveler in the oil region writes, that although "old wine needs no bush," it is certain that the Bush Wine, in Titusville, needs old wine.

The rebel Mosby, lately visited Alexandria, but the feeling against him was so strong and out-spoken that he was compelled to flee for his life. The mob were determined to hang him to a lamp-post.

The rats are undermining the foundations of many of the ware-houses in Chicago to such an extent that the merchants have held a meeting to devise some means for self-protection.

At the recent elections in England the rioting of the mobs closely resembled the acts of their brothers in New York. Ignorance, whiskey, and the life of semi-slavery which they lead amply fits them for such work.

A reign of terror is again being inaugurated in Richmond. White Soldiers are fed with whiskey and then incited by the leading Secessionists of the City to abuse black soldiers and women and children.

Indignation (?)

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 10, '65.

MY DEAR MR. MCALABREY: I have been making a tour this Summer—been to Newport, the White Mountains, Saratoga, &c., &c., and consequently, much as I have wanted your valuable paper, it was only occasionally one reached me; but the other day one came with an account of an Old Mad's Meeting. Now I see through the hell thing to once. That notice was just get up to spite me. They know I was always a favorite with the young men when I was there, and they think they'll take advantage of my absence to get their names before the public—they think that attention will be drawn towards them and they will be somebody. Every one of them Old Mad's is dying to get married. I know it. I guess the boys will see through their whole plan and let them alone without my exposing the poor, ignorant critics any more. I tell you, though, I was mad when I first read it!

Maybe you would like to know a little about my journey. As you already know, we left C. about the first of June, and we went directly to New York where we put up at the Metropolitan, a magnificent hotel where you can ride up stairs in a car and have Spring chickens to eat all the year round. While I was in New York I went to Bartram's Museum. I know it was not fashionable, but I told Pa I must see it, so we went one day, and it was just gorgeous. Right at the head of the stairs was a great stuffed elephant with a printed notice below to those who intended "seeing the elephant" to "Beware of pick-pockets." But it would take a year to tell of all the curiosities we've seen there including the snakes and the "fat woman."

From New York we went to Newport, which ain't much of a place only the young gentlemen who are extra nice. I got acquainted with one, and if it had not been for a little difficulty he had with his washerwoman in relation to a small bill, I would not have had occasion to write this letter exposing the tricks of those stay at home old maids, for I should have been a happy wife. It was all arranged when Pa found out about the washerwoman and told Felix (that was his name) that I was too young to marry.

But I have written much more than I intended and the first bell is ringing below for dinner, so au revoir.

GEORGIANA.
