

was a wife.

Devoted to the Principles of Irus Democraey, and the Dissemination of Morality, Literature and News.

VOLUME XVII.--NUMBER 21.

COUDERSPORT, POTTER COUNTY, PA., TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 5, 1865.

TERMS -- $1.50 PER ANNUM.

THE

POTTER JOURNAL M. W. McAlarney, Proprietor. $1.50 PR YEAR, INVARIABLY IN ABVANCE.

*_ * Devoted to the cause of Republicanism the interests of Agriculture, the advancement of Education, and the best good of Potter county. Owning no guide except that of Principle, it will endeaver to aid in the work of more fully Freedomizing our Country.

ADVERTISEMENTS inserted at the following rates, except where special bargains are made.

1 Square [10 lines] 1 insertion, - - - $1 50 Each subsequent insertion less than 13, I Square three months,

" nine " " " 12 00
Column six months, - 50 00
" " " 17 00
" " " 10 00

per year. 50 00

ddministrator's or Executor's Notice, 3 00 Administrator's or headed and holders of the Business Cards, 8 lines or less, per year 5 00 Special and Editorial Notices, per line, 20 All transient advertisements must be paid in advance, and no notice will be taken of advertisements from a distance, unless they are accompanied by the money or satisfactory

*Blanks, and Job Work of all kinds, attended to promptly and faithfully.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Free and Accepted Ancient York Masons. EULALIA LODGE, No. 342, F. A. M. STATED Meetings on the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays of each month. Also Masonic gatherings on every Wednesday Evening, for work and practice, at their Hall in Coudersport.

D. C. LARRIBEE, W. M. M. W. McAlanney, Sec'y.

JOHN S. MANN, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, Coudersport, Pa., will attend the several Courts in Potter and M'Kean Counties. All business entrusted in his care will receive prompt attention. Office corner of West and Third streets.

ARTHUR G. OLMSTED, ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR AT LAW, Coudersport, Pa., will attend to all busines entrusted to his care, with prempines and Elelity. Office on Sotz-west corner of Main and Fourth streets. ISAAC BENSON.

near the Alleghen; Bridge.

F. W. KNOX, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Condersport, Pa., will regularly attend the Courts in Potter and Thus spoke the the adjoining Counties.

PRACTICING PHYSICIAN, Condersport, Pall upon his honest face as he glanced down that his mother was at the point of death."

PRACTICING PHYSICIAN, Condersport, Pall upon his honest face as he glanced down that his mother was at the point of death."

"That was no excuse. The soldier has youthful face gleamed out still and pale no mother save France; he owes his first from the shadows that more thickless and vicinity that he will promptly respond to all calls for professional services. Office on Main st., in building formerly occupied by C. W. Ellis, Esq. C. S. & E. A. JONES, DEALERS IN DRUGS, MEDICINES, PAINTS Oils, Faucy Articles, Stationery, Dry Goods, Groceries, &c., Main st., Condersport, Pal

D. E. OLMSTED, DEALER IN DRY GOODS, READY-MADE ble sound. Clothing, Crockery, Groceries, &c., Main st.

COLLINS SMITH, DEALER in Dry Goods, Groceries, Provisions Hardware, Queensware, Cutlery, and all Goods usually found in a country Store. Coudersport, Nov. 27, 1861.

COUDERSPORT HOTEL, B. F. GLASSMIRE. Proprietor, Corner Main and Second Streets, Coudersport, Pot ter Co., Pa.

A Livery Stable is also kept in connect tion with this Hotel.

H. J. OLMSTED.

DEALER IN STOVES, TIN & SHEET IRON WARE, Main st., nearly opposite the Court the discipline to which he was subjected House, Condersport, Pa. Tin and Sheet was intended to make him.

Josephine, then in the zenith of her "Let it be so." he said. smiling. "And

WM. H. MILLER. J. C. M'ALARNEY MILLER & MCALARNEY, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,

HARRISBURG, PA. GENTS for the Collection of Clair is A against the United States and State Govérnments, such as Pension, Bounty, Arrent of Pay &c. Address Box 95, Harrisburg, Pa.

Pension Bounty and War Claim Agency.

PENSIONS procured for soldiers of the wounds received or disease contractracted robe, as if to arrest her progress.

while in the service of the United States; and Poor Marie | during her long and lonely will do just as well, if not better." present war who are disabled by reason of while in the service of the United States; and pensions, bounty, and arrears of pay obtained for widows or heirs of those who have died of the little speech, by which she had hoped girl, casting upon him a look of sorrow where she lay.

"Surely you jest, sire," said the young stantly spurred his horse to the spot of hose who have died the little speech, by which she had hoped girl, casting upon him a look of sorrow where she lay.

"Miss Addie" was a man! of course the dyspeptic by continual stuffing with can-mail of a statement of the case of claimed, as he inquiry promity answered, and on receipt by manager and her crowd of admirers were dies and sweet cakes, as are the majority of the win the kind heart of the Empress to ful surprise. "No one can take Henri's will forward the necessary nearest to the person of the special or and the statement of the case of claimed. The pity and aid her, but as she knelt there, place in my heart. For the love of the special or and the statement of the case of claimed. The statement of the case of claimed the person of the special or and the statement of the case of claimed. The statement of the case of claimed the statement of the case of claimed. The statement of the case of claimed the statement of the statement of the case of claimed the statement of the statement of the case of claimed the statement of the statement of the case of claimed the statement of envelopes, free of charge. Address, Dr. J the Emperor never pardons."

Claim Agent Couderport Pa.

June 8, '64.-1y

HOWARD ASSOCIATION;

SKILLIN HOUGHTON, Howard Association No 2 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE WELL-DIGGER.

AN OWER TRUE BALLAD. BY JOHN G. SAME:

Come, lision all, while I relate What recently befel Unto a farmer down in Maine, While digging of a well. Full many a yard he dug and delved,

And still he dug in vain; "Alack!" quoth he, "e'en water seems Prohibited in Maine!" And still he dug and delved away. And still the well was dry; The only water to be found .

Was in the farmer's eye. For by the breaking of the bank That tumbled from its station, All suddenly his hope was dashed Of future liquidation!

And now his sands were running fast, And he had died, no doubt, But that just when the earth caved in, He happened to be out!

"Aha!-I have a happy thought!" Exclaimed the wicked man-To dig anew this cursed well I see a pretty plan:

"I'll hide me straight, and when my wife And e'en my neighbors know What's happened to my digging here, They'll think that I'm below! "And so to save my precious life, They'll dig the well no doubt, E'en deeper than t'was dug at first, Before they find me out!" And so he hid him in the barn

Through all the hungry day, To hide the digging of his well In this deceitful way. But list what grief and shame befel The false, ungrateful man, The while he slowly watched to see

The working of his plan: The neighbors all with one accord Unto each other said . "With such a weight of earth above, The man is surely dead."

And then his wife with pious care, All needless cost to save, Said "Since the Lord hath willed it so E'en let it be his grave !"

THE ROYAL WAGER.

"The bell for vespers has just rung and the Empress will pass around the ATTORNEY AT LAW, Condersport, Pa., will corridors in the course of ten minutes. attend to all business entrusted to him, with She will be attended by the princess care and promptness. Circe on Second st., Hortense and two ladies in waiting, but you will readily recognize her, for she is should be granted; but as it is, it is imtaller than the others, and will walk a possible."

Thus spoke the tall and herce looking stances in this case," pleaded Josephine; gentlarme, a good natured look of concern the poor fellow had just received news than words.

her thanks, but they gave forth no audiguard, as his quick car caught the sound another husband. of approaching footsteps.

ners of the corridor, trembling in every limb, "the good Empress is like a mother and took a pinch of snuff. to her people."

though he was the mere machine that her to do."

the French creole.

one knee, laid her hand upon Josephine's vide you with another lover, and bestow upon her face.

mail of a statement of the case of claimant I pity and aid her, but as she knest energy place in my heart. For the love of the statement of the case of claimant I pity and aid her, but as she knest energy, place in my heart. For the love of the statement of the case of claimant I pity and aid her, but as she knest energy, place in my heart. For the love of the statement of the case of claimant I pity and aid her, but as she knest in morey, spare his life!"

"Can it be that the signature. Fees in Pension cases as fixed by But those white, quivering lips, the important of the case of claimant I pity and aid her, but as she knest in morey, spare his life!"

"He has committed an unpardonable blundered!"

"She has only ploring expression in those lifted eyes offence," was the stern reply; "the pen-G. Olyszen, J. S. Mann, Esq., F. W. Knox, looked down upon them, she understood Unless, indeed." he added in a lower llaving his hand upon her wrist a heart representation of the part of a woman, spoke volumes, and when Josephine alty of which is death. He must die! said father Godefroy, bending over her, in which guise his fair and pleasing looks looked down upon them, she understood Unless, indeed." he added in a lower llaving his hand upon her wrist a heart representation of the looked down upon them, she understood Unless, indeed." all she would say.

Signing the other ladies to proceed, in his stead."

the young girl, imploringly. "The good morrow, and be shot in his stead?" in ferings are over! The Emperor was but - Cleveland Herald.

It was to see his dying mother, and after her face. every other means had failed !"

Still the Empress shook her head. "It life, willingly, gladly, sire!" was the fer-is a hard case," she said, "but it will be vent response.

she lay still and pale at her feet.

"Do you know her?"

that she has rest and refreshment, and if pemp and circumstance of a military exeing of satisfaction, that she held closely free choice was to take his place, made in her hand the little roll of paper, while the crowd unusually large. her countenance had a thoughtful aspect.

Napoleon was seated alone at the table nance had a pleased, almost exultant look. which the culprit belonged. The door opened, and Josephine en-

She paused a moment upon the threshold, giving his countenance a furtive learned so well to read.

"Welcome, my good Josephine," said the Emperor, holding out his hand to her. Josephine saw that this was a propitious moment, and playfully sinking scene with an air of indifference. down upon one knee, she kissed his hand, it back to her, saying !

"But there are extenuating circum-dark, lustrous eyes, which had a sad, lent. She has traveled on foot from the time to retract." beseaching expression, more eloquent village of L-since daybreak, to plead

The Emperor shrugged his shoulders. "We must try to console her," he said, "Hist! she is coming!" exclaimed the dryly; "by seeing if we cannot grant her

"Courage, mon entant," he added, as Josephine, with indignant emphasis. Domestines the young girl leaned up against the cor- "She would sooner die with her lover!" every respect, to the one thou wilt lose, feet. Her smiles were by judiciously lowering a window, and at the young, for gray hairs were by judiciously lowering a window, and at

"My doar friend, such things may be his post, and when the Empress made I'll wager most anything you like that able. Neither distract by vain and Young America, and men of family, and When this is the case, the window of the her appearance, was pacing backwards she would much prefer living with some worldly thoughts the soul, that is fixed widowers, and brainless fops, and boys further room should be left open, and the and forwards with his monotonous tread, young, good-looking man, and which I steadfastly upon that country it is so whose chins had not even made acquaint- door between the rooms likewise open. a stolid look upon his countenance, as should find little difficulty in persuading soon to enter.

charms, was attired with her usual ele- now suffer your young protege to be sum. submitted. gance in a robe of black velvet, whose moned, and I will soon put the truth of artless beauty of the suppliant, no less the pitiful sight. As she reached the spot opposite to than by her unfeigned sorrow: where the girl stood, she stepped out "I am sorry, my daughter, that I can-

Emperor's heart is ever open to you! quired Napoleon, looking steadily into testing your love. He has pardoned me, "If there is no other way to save his to make us one."

useless for me to attempt to obtain his The Emperor's stern, impassible face gave no token of the feelings that filled As Josephine said this, a stifled moan his heart, as he looked upon the counteheroic soul.

"Yes, Madame; she is Marie Duval, The next morning rose clear and cloud- future conduct, to prove yourself worthy the betrothed of Henri Laferve, who is to less. At the first streaks of dawn, the of her! I give you a month's furlough, passionalely. "Take her away, good paling, and in every available place were france, as a dowry to your bride. At the Jenon," she added, as the girl began to crowds of spectators, eager to view what expiration of that time, return to the show signs of consciousness, "and see is so dear to every Frenchman's heart, the she be sufficiently recovered, bring her an cution; and in this instance, rumors that hour hence to my private apartment." had reached the people, that it was not The Empress passed along, but the the real offender that was to be executed,

Circumstances indicated that it was to be the scene of more than usual display. The Emperor himself was present, attendcovered with papers and maps. A con- ed by his staff. His tried and faithful of her protege. rier had just left him, who was evidently body guard were drawn up in long array, the bearer of good news, for his counted together with the whole regiment to

At the appointed hour, Marie made her appearance, attended by a priest, and murmur of mingled pity and admiration that I would not gladly do for thee!" look, whose ever varying mood she had ran through the crowd as they noted her the platoon of soldiers detailed to fire the Marie's beautiful countenance was pale "I have a petition, sire." fatal spot with a light firm step. Yet, as Napoleon took the paper she held out her eye fell upon the coffin, that was arto him, but as he understood its purport, ranged so that it would receive her body the smile died from his lip, and he handed as it fell, a visible shudder convulsed her frame. But it quickly passed away, and "If it was for any other offense, it her countenance regained its former expression of holy serenity. Closing her eyes, her lips moved a few moments in voiceless prayer, then she signified that she was ready.

than to live without him !"

"She would never accept one!" said The Emperor empowers me to offer to coquette, and thus had a smile for each manuer that she provides and regulates "Courage, mon enfant," he added, as Josephine, with indignant emphasis.—thy acceptance another lover, equal, in and every one of the crazy orew at her their night covering, or any other requis-Napoleon again shrugged his shoulders and a bridal dowry. Rush not from so fair a prospect to so cruel a death."

the firm reply; my resolution is immmov-

Josephine, then in the zenith of her "Let it be so," he said, smiling. "And told that it was indispensable, quietly

During these proceedings a profound ed upon her bosom, and in the heavy The Emperer listened attentively to crowd of people, and when the signal to silk gaiters, and several pairs of Alexanbraids of her dusky hair: a costume which the touching plea, broken by tears and fire was given, every heart stood still; der's best, while Master So-and-so gave cradle to the parlor, to dress, to sit still well accorded with her rich tropical sobs that Marie poured out at his feet. Even the rough, stern soldiers accustomed her an order for a new bonnet. Then, and look pretty. No, they are treated as well accorded with her rich tropical sobs that Marie poured out at his feet, even the rough, etern soldiers accustomed beauty, and she moved along with that Then bidding her rise, he said gravely, to view death in its most cruel forms, too, scarcely a day passed that she was children should be. During childhood graceful, undulating motion neculiar to but kindly for he was children should be. graceful, undulating motion peculiar to but kindly, for he was touched by the involuntarily turned their eyes away from and when the smoke cleared away it was punch, &c. from the shadow, and sinking down upon not grant your petition. But I will pro- discovered that Marie had fallen forward tone, "some substitute be found to suffer Yet, though the muskets were leaded looks as much like a woman when dressed nose? Noise. with blank eartridges, so that not a hair in male attire as when dressed bonnet and she took the roll of paper from her hand. Marie caught eagerly at the hope con- of her head was injured, for some min- gown. In New York he played the part But as her eye glanced over it, her coun veyed by these last words. Again she utes Marie lay as still and deathly as of "pretty waiter girl" at a Broadway soon ask for pardon, that he may go to threw herself upon her knees, bathing the though life had indeed departed. When Varieties, remaining there until the wait- Europe and take a position in the French and father Godefroy is even now waiting escaped from the poor girl's lips, the con-nance of the speaker, every feature of them. Overcome with gratitude and joy, their prejudices and animosity forever vulsive grasp upon her robe relaxed, and which was instinct with the fervor of her they would have knelt at his feet, but he afterwards. revented them. "I have somewhere read," says the "No thanks are due me," he said, ad-author of Bridal Greetings, "of a brideprevented them. Alarmed, the Empress beckoned the "If you desire it, certainly," he said, "No thanks are due me," he said, ad-author of Bridal Greetings, "of a bridated after a moment's pause. "But remember dressing Henri. You owe your life nei-groom who gloried in eccentricities. He gendarme to approach.

after a moment's pause. "But remember luressing Henri. Low owe your file the grown was deserts, nor" he added, requested the bride to accompany him

"She has fainted," he said, as he bent that I am not trifling with you. One of ther to your own deserts, nor" he added, requested the bride to accompany him big over very like hindly man blooker he into the garden a day or two after their over her. "And no wonder; she has you must die! You will have ample time his eyes resting kindly upon Marie's hap- into the garden a day or two after their walked from the village of L—full between now and the dawn of day to depy face, "to any elemency, but to the hewedding. He then threw a line over the role courage and devotion of her you have roof of their cottage. Giving his wife just called wife. Endeavor, in all your one end of it he retreated to the other The next morning rose clear and cloud- future conduct, to prove yourself worthy side, and exclaimed-"Pull the line." be shot to-morrow morning for desertion." large square in front of the palace was in which to enjoy your honeymoon; to She pulled it, at his representations and the Emprese, com-"Pull it over."

> leaves his post of duty." The meaning of this scene was not long bride to pull over the line, so long as her service of your country; and remember, of "Viae'l Empereur l" little alcove, where, secure from observa- labor when we pulled in opposition to each

"You have you," he said, smiling .better than I'"

"I judged her by my own heart sire escorted by a guard of siz soldiers. A This lovely peasant girl has done nothing be, there is sound philosophy. Husband and throne, wrote to him for permission domestic circle. but composed, and she walked to the to share his exile, did Napoleon receive another proof of that self-sacrificing devotion that is seldom found save in the heart of woman.

A FEMALE GUISE.

upon his honest face as he glanced down upon the slight form at his side, whose youthful face gleamed out still and pale from the shadows that were thickly gathfrien, and whose singular beauty was readered more conspicuous by a pair of wife. site. I know your heart would rerendered more conspicuous by a pair of wife, sire, I know your heart would redark, lustrous eyes, which had a sad, lent. She has traveled on foot from the "Tell the Emperor that I thank him, apace in her own right, and managed to crowded sleeping rooms without proper han words. for her lover's life. Poor girl! I fear father," returned Mario calmly; but that

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!"

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!"

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!"

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!"

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!"

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!"

The pale lips moved, as if to express that she will not survive it!" "But bethink thee, daughter," Persisted besiege her in droves, so that often the will not retire to her own room for the the good priest, "this is a terrible fate, eigar stand would draw better than the night without having provided a sufficien-Life is sweet, especially to the young stage itself. She was an accomplished cy of air for her children, in the same found worshiping at her shrine, as often another time by leaving a door wide open "Urge me no more, holy father," was as the fair locks of youth. Among those this end may be attained. In many houses who would her were old bachelors, and the day and night nurseries communicate. ance with down. And the attentions to Even in severe weather young children which she was treated were by no means can bear this arrangement, if they are soldiers approached to bandage her eyes: confined to the wordy class. No, indeed! not exposed to a direct draft. Family At first Marie demurred, but on being substantials in abundance fell, to her lot. Herald. Old Mr. So and so gave her a new dress, and "old bach" So and so presented her with several pairs of pocket handkerchiefs and fast So and so sent her two pairs of girls do not jump from infancy to young fast nags, with usual accessories of ice ral years, they are plainly and loosely There was a sharp report of musketry; cream, strawberries and dream, Roman dressed, and allowed to run, romp, and play of her appearance at the Varieties, in this way with countless frills and superabund-The Emperor, who had been a passive rosente way, until a few days ago, when ant flounces, so as to be admired for their but attentive spectator of all this, in the astounding discovery was made that clothing. Nor are rendered delicate or

The young man stated that for fourteen PRILADELPHIA, PA.

DISEASES of the Nervous, Seminal, Urinary and sexual systems—new and reliable treatment—in reports of the HOWARD ASBOCIATION—sent by mail in scaled letter supplicant; "desertion is an offence that a supplicant; "desertion is an offence that take his place, then, and suffer for him!"

But as her eye glanced over it, nor count throw herself upon her knees, bathing the though life had indeed departed. When the came through life had indeed departed. When the came she unclosed her eyes she looked up be or girls were "crushed," when he came wildered into the face that she had never hither. Since the discovery of his ruse thought to see again in life.

Would your majesty indeed accept a wildered into the face that she had never hither. Since the discovery of his ruse thought to see again in life.

Repart of charge Address Dr. J. When the standard over it, nor country throw herself upon her knees, bathing the though life had indeed departed. When the came army.

"Would your majesty indeed accept a wildered into the face that she had never hither. Since the discovery of his ruse thought to see again in life.

"Would your majesty indeed accept a thought to see again in life."

"Marie, my good angel! my savior!"

"Marie, my good angel! my savior!" "O! say not so, royal lady!" exclaimed "What! would you take his place to exclaimed Henri; "look up, all our suf- first." "Truth is stranger than fiction." will not be long before such communica-

A HAPPY HOME.

The first year of married life is a most important era in the history of man and And before Marie could hardly realize wife. Generally, as it is spent, to is this happy change in her prospects she almost all subsequent existance. The wife and the husband then assimilate their As soon as the priest had pronounced views and their desires, or else, conjurthe benediction the Emperor approached ing up their dislikes, they add fuel to

She pulled it, at his request, as far as "I can't," she replied.

"But pull with all your might," shouthereafter, that the brave soldier never ed the whimsical husband. But in vain were all the efforts of the in passing from lip to lip through the husband held to the opposite end. But kind hearted soldier noticed, with a feel-but his affianced wife, who by her own excited throng of people; and as Napoleon when he came round, and they both pullceased speaking, the air rung with shouts ed at one end, it came over with great case. "There," as the line fell from the 100f, But Napoleon quickly withdrew to the "you see how hard and inefficient was our tion, Josephine had witnessed the triumph other; but how easy and how pleasant it was when we both pulled together! It will be so with us, my dear, through life! But how is it," he added, "that you read If we oppose each other, it will be hard the heart of this simple maiden so much work; if we act together, it will be please ant to live. Let us always pull together." In this illustration, homely as it may and wife must mutually bear and concede "My good Josephine!" said the Em- if they wish to make home a retreat of extreme youth and beauty. Every eye peror, pressing affectionately her hand in joy and bliss. One alone cannot make expressed sympathy, excepting, indeed, his, "I believe it!" home happy. There needs unison of both his, "I believe it!" home happy. There needs unison of both A few years hence, when upon a lonely in action, sweetness of spirit, and great fatal volley; they alone regarded the island, forsaken by all his summer friends, forbearance in both husband and wite, to she whom he had ejected from his heart secure the great end of happiness in the

> VENTILATE YOUR CHILDREN'S ROOMS. -Most parents, before retiring to rest, make it a duty to visit the sleeping-rooms of their children. They do so in order to be satisfied that the lights are extinguished, and that no danger is threatening their About two months ago a young girl of little ones. But if they leave the room with oleasing looks and address came here closed windows and doors, they shut in as from New York city. At first she did great an enemy as fire, although his ravaduty as a hotel waiter, and after, through ges may not be so readily detected some means or other, got a situation at Poison is there, slow but deadly. Morning

WHY SO MUCH BEAUTY IN POLAND .--"Because," says Bayard Taylor, "there, lady hood. They are not sent from the ounch, &c. in the open air. They are not loaded Thus things went on from the time down, girded about, and oppressed every threw himself hurriedly from the saddle, their senses; but it turned out that she abundance of sunshine during the whole period of childhood, are the secrets of beauty in after life."

All in your I. What is it that putting its eyes out, leaves nothing but a

Gen. Beauregard, it is rumored, will substitute?" she exclaimed. "Let me thought to see again in life. he has gone on the stage, and appears Repairs to the damaged railroads in take his place, then, and suffer for him!" "Marie, my good angel! my savior!" each evening at the Varieties in 'part Virginia are rapidly progressing, and is tion will be restored throughout the State.