When these are within their natural limits, our health is good; but when they are in excess, pains, rheumatism, gout, debility, costiveness, diarrhea, dysentary, crysipelas, &c. &c., affict us. The reason alleged for this request is, that if the present position of the British Government is allowed to stand as a precedent, it will af-ford an opportunity for inflicting upon the commerce of that nation in future wars, much greater damage than was sustained by American shipping during the late rebellion.

The arrangements for Telegraphing are far in advance of anything of the kind ever offered to the public. A regular Telegraph Line is connected with the Institution with twenty branch offices in various parts of the city, where public business is transacted, and in which students of this Institution are permitted to practice. Young men are cautioned against the deceptive representations of those who, without any such facilities, pretend to teach Telegraphing.
