

FOR GOVERNOR:
GEN'L J. W. GEARY,
Of Cumberland county.

We are indebted to Hons. S. F. Wilson, Glenn W. Spooner, and Gen. Moorhead, for valuable documents.

The Borough of Milton furnishes the lime gratuitously for all its inhabitants to whitewash every board, stick, tree, and all loose timber generally.

Mr. Seward has made a long speech at Auburn, in which he seeks to show that Congress and the President differ only in non-essentials. Poor old man, his days are in their ebb and yellow leaf.

The weather last week was cold and dry. On Wednesday well formed snow flakes were in the air, Saturday evening it began to rain, and we are now in a fair way of having water enough.

Don't forget the Soldiers' Convention on Thursday of this week. We would like to have every township represented. All honorably discharged soldiers will be entitled to a seat.

Geo. Berger has at last been removed from the Postmastership at Harrisburg, and Gen. Knipe appointed in his stead. As Gen. K. was a brave soldier, and supports Geary for Governor, we don't know as we have any very serious objections to make—only its generally best to "let well enough alone."

We publish on our fourth page the charge of Judge Underwood of the United States Court at Norfolk, to the Grand Jury, which afterwards found a true bill against Jeff Davis, for treason. It commends itself to the attention of all who think that Congress is acting without reason. Read it.

A band of outlaws went to the house of a man named Genter, in Overton county, Tennessee, one day last week, and on some frivolous pretext took him into the woods, stripped and were unmercifully whipping him, when his daughter seized a hatchet, rushed to the spot, and succeeded with heroic bravery in killing two of the ruffians, and wounding others. She and her father have since been driven from the county.

A meeting was held at the Court House last evening for the purpose of organizing a Union League. The attendance was large and the spirit manifested by the people was unusually cheering. A Committee on Permanent Organization was appointed, a Hall and Reading-Room will be opened, and the issues involved in the present campaign will be discussed and presented to the people for their judgment, through pamphlets, speeches and newspapers which will be procured. Our friends are invited to call at the Rooms when visiting the village, where they will always find the latest Daily papers.

There is not a Journal published in the lately revolted States which advocated rebellion as a duty and secession as a right, which has not expressed the opinion that if the South were not exhausted by four years of war, she would be to-day still engaged in the struggle to sever her connection with the North. Yet in the face of these facts, the Democratic leaders of the North insist, and an apostate President demands, that "the Southern people are well and loyally disposed." "My policy" is the incentive to a state of feeling in the South which only needs quartermaster and commissary stores to make it open treason.

Another Veto of "My Policy."
The election of Gen. O. S. Ferry, to the United States Senate, for six years from the fourth of March next, by the Legislature of Connecticut, is another rebuke to the policy which seeks to control the country by the influence of public patronage. It was expected by the Copper-Head party to play the same game in Connecticut that Baltimore money accomplished in New Jersey, and their failure is another evidence that all virtue has not deserted our political organizations but that there is sufficient left to defeat the mad schemes of the renegades from all sections who are now seeking by political strategy to accomplish that which they failed to obtain by a resort to arms. Gen. Ferry is a Radical Republican—the Tribune calls him an advanced Republican.

Public Notice.
The Color Sergeants, Color Guards, and Color Bearers, of Pennsylvania Regiments, who served in the late Rebellion, from the counties of Lycoming, Clinton, Potter and Cameron (comprising the 11th Military Division) are hereby requested to send their names and P. O. addresses to me at Lock Haven, Clinton county, Pa., to enable me to procure transportation for all who are desirous of attending the Celebration at Philadelphia, to be held on the 4th of July next, for the purpose of returning the flags borne by them, to the State. Col. C. A. LYMAN, Com. on transportation for the 11th Military Division.

Maj. Jno. M. Killborne has opened a country resort for those who desire to fish for trout and health. The Major, who we have no doubt, will make it not only pleasant but profitable to all lovers of fine scenery, a healthy climate, and delightful sport. His hotel is on the road leading from Coudersport to Wellsboro, five miles west of Vermilye's and eight miles north of Coudersport.

An Outspoken Rebel.
There is little doubt that the conciliatory policy of the President toward the conquered enemies of the Union meets with contempt on the part of the recipients of his unexpected bounty, however much their interests lead them to applaud it. Occasionally an outspoken rebel has the frankness to free his mind on the subject. Henry A. Wise is one of these. In a speech the other day at a banquet in honor of Stovewell Jackson, he said: "If I had triumphed, I should have favored stripping them naked! Pardon? They might have appealed for pardon, but I would have seen them damned before I would have granted it." That these are the sentiments of every honest and thinking rebel in the South, there can be no doubt. The leniency of Johnson is unexpected, unappreciated, and in failing to take advantage of the rewards of victory, is an evidence of imbecility as inexcusable as it is ruinous. "If we had triumphed, we would have favored stripping them naked! They might have appealed for pardon, but we would have seen them damned first." These are the honest sentiments of Johnson's paroled rebels.

The President and Cabinet were serenaded the other evening by the Union Johnson Club of Washington, and from the speeches delivered and letters written on that occasion we find according to the Washington Chronicle, the Cabinet divided on the question of the President's Policy as follows:

For "My Policy":
A. Johnson, State Department, Treasury Department, The Navy.—4.

Against "My Policy":
The Interior, The Post Offices, The Law.—4.

The speeches, with the exception of that of Mr. Stanton, were mere flashes of congratulation and stump oratory. "Very much obliged; thank you." The President, very much to the surprise of everybody, failed to "come to time," and only said "Thank you, in about a dozen lines. The serenade failed to accomplish that whereunto it was sent.

The President and General Grant.
The Washington correspondent of the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat, under date of Washington, May 13, writes as follows:
"Leading Democrats assert that the President has determined not to nominate Lieut. Gen. Grant to the position of General until that soldier shall give his adhesion to the policy of the White House. I mention this because the persons who repeat it are persons supposed to have the entire access to the Executive Mansion."

It will be remembered that the law creating the rank of General was designed by Congress especially as a token of respect and gratitude for the eminent services of Gen. Grant. We shall soon know whether the report of this correspondent is true or not. It seems hardly possible that the President can so far forget the duties and dignities of his position, as to insult the nation and its honored military defender in the member charged. Such a case would be infamous: the last degree, and we shall not believe it possible until we know it to be true.

BUFFALO AND WASHINGTON RAILWAY.—Mr. H. B. Allen and party, have been for several days engaged in this vicinity in surveying the preliminary line of the Buffalo and Washington Railway. Their line crosses the Erie Railway near the west end of the switch at the Depot, passing south to the west side of the village cemetery, and thence to Alleghany River, crossing that stream just below the river bridge, and thence up the river in direction of Portville. The survey is to be completed at once to the State line, and the party will return to Yorkshere and make a level and profile of the line between the two points named, and then continue the survey to Emporium. We are informed by Mr. Allen who is familiar with the entire line from Buffalo to Slippen, that the route is more than ordinarily favorable for the construction of a road, no very difficult grades occurring anywhere, the heaviest being on the southern end of the line of but 60 feet per mile, and no other exceeding 52 feet, and these short. It is expected that the road will be completed from Buffalo to Aurora the coming fall.—Ocean Times.

SENATOR SCUMER declared from his seat in the United States Senate, on Friday last, that to try Jefferson Davis for treason before a circuit court composed of a jury selected from the people of Virginia, at this time, when public sentiment in that State is unreservedly in favor of his unconditional release, can only result in the humiliation of the Government and the profit of traitors. A military commission only should be delegated to try Davis. Unless thus tried he will never receive justice.

While on this subject it is proper to state that the best informed and most impartial men in the city of Washington do not hesitate to declare that President Johnson is conniving with the Virginia traitors to secure the release of Davis. It is hinted that when Mrs. Davis was in Washington, she received the assurance that she would never be compelled to blush for the conviction of Jeff. as a traitor, but have the satisfaction of soon embracing him as a vindicated patriot and a re-enfranchised citizen of the United States.

New York WEEKLY MAGAZINE.—This very excellent periodical, published by Frederic S. Hill, 79 Nassau street New York, has commenced its second volume with a new story by Mrs. Wood (authoress of East Lynne)—entitled LADY ADELIA'S OATH.
This story—judging by the opening chapters—promises to be as full of dramatic intensity as the earlier work of that famous writer. The New York WEEKLY is decidedly the cheapest and best weekly now published in this country. The price is only ten cents a copy or $4 per annum. See the advertisement in another column.

"Johnson's Bread and Butter."
Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, in his place the other day, stated that in explaining an action concerning a post-master in his State, "the Assistant Postmaster-General had remarked that no man should eat President Johnson's bread and butter who did not support his policy." The intimation is that official patronage is the personal property of Mr. Johnson, and that federal officers are his servants. Mr. Randall ought to understand that Presidents and department clerks are themselves only the servants of the people. They eat the "bread and butter" provided by the tax-payers of the country. It is sheer insolence to talk as Mr. Randall did, and deserves to be signally reprimanded. Fortunately this is yet a government of law and popular institutions. We have not yet reached a point where even official holders hold to the President the old feudal relations of serfs to their chief. The official "bread and butter" is not the President's at all; it is furnished by the loyal people, and they will should control its recipients.—Republican.

The joint resolution exempting crude Petroleum from the Revenue Tax having passed both Houses may now be considered as a law. It will prove a great relief to the oil interest, and could not have come at a more opportune time.

Mr. Seward's home organ, in a carefully prepared leader, formidable both in manner and matter, and disclosing the pen of no ordinary writer in its authorship, recently stated that the President would use military force to give the Southern delegations seats in the next Congress, provided such a proceeding would secure a certain majority for his Policy in the Houses. Mr. Seward was interrogated by a friend concerning this suggestion. He answered with the interrogatory, "Do you think we are damned fools?" Mr. Seward is a diplomatist, who does not deem it wise to say the thing he means.

The Richmond Enquirer says: "The students in the University of Virginia are remarkable for a ripe age. About half of the two hundred and thirty of the present members are said to be thirty years old—some of them have families of children. Ministers who officiate before the students should know that they are said to be very averse to scientific and belles-lettres sermons, and to be best pleased with the plainest and simplest preaching—the sincere milk of the word."

Colonel Forney is turning his double barreled gun upon Secretary Seward. He says in connection with the announcement of a third party movement in Pennsylvania:
"Mr. Seward's dream is the Presidency. He expects when the work of shame has been accomplished, that the congenial organizations defeated by our armies in the South and our people at the ballot-box in the North, will discard Johnson and take him up as their candidate! There have been hallucinations before but none so far as this; and yet those who know Mr. Seward insist that some such glamour has mystified him."

The Baltimore Gazette says that in all indictments now prepared in the Maryland criminal courts, where a negro is accused of crime, the word "negro" is ignored, and the word "yeoman" inserted, precisely as in an indictment against a white man.

A Pittsburger, who has in his possession the cork leg captured from Santa Anna in the Mexican war, said to have decided to return it to the old soldier.

A gold mine has been discovered near Titusville, which, it is thought, will put the oil wells of that region in the shade.

The Journals in the South which supported armed rebellion while it had force to resist the national authority, now insist that the people of the lately revolted States have lost none of their rights under the Constitution, but they have lost only money, which the Government of the United States must reimburse, by assuming the debt of the Confederacy. The first step to this reimbursement is to assist in the victory of the Copperhead party. Clymer's election as Governor of Pennsylvania would at once enhance the value of Confederate bonds.

Maximilian has a fit of retrenchment on him. He has given orders to reduce the expenses of his household, and has at the same time voluntarily cut down his personal expenses to half a million dollars. As the salary of the President of the United States is only $25,000, payable in greenbacks at that, the severe economy of the Mexican Emperor does not strike us with astonishment.

The Copperhead organs continue to speak of the National Legislature as "the Rump Congress." If there is a smaller rump anywhere than the Copperhead remnant of the once powerful Democratic party, we should like to have somebody inform us of its locality so that we may point towards it a telescope, and be enabled to discover this infinitesimal asteroid.

An intelligent lady friend, resident in Arkansas for many years, in a private letter, says:
"The condition of affairs in Arkansas is not as favorable as six months ago. The rebels who, at the time of the surrender, would have accepted any terms from the government, would take nothing from it now, and are clamorous for power. I often ask what the end of all these things will be."
This altered tone is the legitimate fruit of My Policy.

Brookland, Pa., May 22, 1866.
Mr. Editor: In the matter of the Church at Raymond we "report progress."
A contract has been made to complete it "from the stamp," to be finished by January 1, 1867, to be set on ground near the school lot, donated by Mr. Wm. Cobb, of Spring Mills, N. Y. The Trustees have made this contract considerably ahead of their subscription trusting to the liberality of friends to make up the amount. The contractor has bought and engaged lumber and seems disposed to do his part of the work, and it is hoped the pay will be equally prompt.
It is hoped those who have subscribed will be ready "on demand" to pay up. Or even if they don't wait for "demand" so much trouble saved to us. The amounts may be paid to the Building Committee, or to E. W. Benton, Treasurer, or to me.

But we want a little more than is yet subscribed. We are thankful for the response made to a former appeal, and we now ask for "more." May we not receive a few, ten or fifty yet from those who favor a move for public good?
The building is to be 30 by 43 feet. The front room "entry" 12 and 30 with seats and stores. The principal room 30 and 28. The posts to be 16 feet; roof 2 pitch, and it is the intention that it shall be so finished as to be an ornament; to be neat and plain, yet substantial and in taste.

We should be glad to have suggestions as to color, the question of color being left wholly to the discretion of the Committee. The inevitable glaring white, with green blinds, is a little too good for a country church. How about a slate or drab, with blinds of pine, varnished and left to show the natural fine color.

Next to foundation and roof, we apprehend the important point in a good building with reference to best appearance and durability is the paint, and we don't want to make any mistakes in this respect. Shall the seats and the interior wood-work be stained or plain? We propose chestnut, simply varnished.

Thanks to Dr. Munson for correcting my statement of the number of churches in the county. Truly yours, LUCIEN BRAD.
P. S. The contractor informs me that he wants a good mechanic to commence about August 1. Application may be made to me. L. B.

The unconditional Union men of Virginia met at Alexandria, last week, John M. Botts presided. An address was delivered by Ilracc Maynard, of Tennessee. The resolutions were of the genuine radical stamp, and call on Congress to protect them against the rebel plan of reconstruction which is being carried out by Andrew Johnson.

While the Richmond Republic recently died for lack of sufficient support, a new paper likewise named the Republic makes its appearance in Pittsburg, Pa. Its first number is dated Wednesday, May 23. It is to be an Administration paper.
