COUDERSPORT, POTTER COUNTY, PA., TUESDAY AUGUST 21, 1866. A MAN'S A MAN FOR A' THAT A NEW TERSION.

man's a man," says Robert Burns, "For a' that and a 'that,"
But though the song be clear and strong:
It lacks a note for a' that.
The lout who'd shirk his daily work, Yet claim his wage and a that, Or beg when lie might earn, his bread, Is not a man for a that.

1.

If all who dine on homely fare
Were true and brave, and a that,
And none whose garb is "holden grey,"
Was fool and knave and a that,
What has that share our time The rice and crime that shame our time Would fade and fail and a that, And ploughmen be as good as kings

III: You see yon brawny, blustering sof, Who swaggers, swears, and a that, And thinks, because his strong right arm Might fell an ox and a' that, That he's as noble man for man, As duke or lord, and a' that:

And churls as earls for a' that.

IV. A man may own a large estate,
Ha e palace, park, and a that,
And not for birth, but honest worth Be thrice a man for a' that;
And Donald herding on the muir,
Who beats his wife, and a' that,
Be nothing butla rascal boor,
Not half a man for a' that

He's but a brute, beyond dispute, And not a man for a' that!

v. It comes to this, dear Robert Burns-The truth is old, and a' that—
"The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gold, for a' that,"
And though you'd put the minted mark On copper, brass, and a' that— The lie is gross, the cheat is plain And will not pass for a' that.

VI. VI. For a' that, and a' that, Tis soul and heart and a' that, That makes the king a gentleman, And not his crown and a' that; And man with man, if rich or poor, The best is he, for a' that, Who stands erect, in self-respect, And acts the man for a' that.
