AN INVALID'S PLEA.

Walker's religion Jouquin is right. He called himself a Roman Catholic, for political purposes, but he was really a Baptist in Tennessee. He probably had a firm understanding of the Roman church, for every line of Miller's description of tropical scenery is false.

John Adams on the Boston Tea Party.

John Adams on the Boston Tea Party. "Winthrop writes to the Boston Advertiser, communicating the following interesting letter from John Adams, which he claims has never before been printed: 'Boston, Dec. 17, 1773. The people passed the river and cut away the tea, and I was in the harbor. This is the first time that I have ever seen the tea being carried away, and I was very much interested in the scene.

Erskel Perkins's Hat.

Erskel Perkins's Hat. The following story is told of a general and festive lawyer of the old time, by name Erskel Perkins—a well-to-do bachelor, who was always welcome at social gatherings, and was very popular. His weakness was too great a fondness for good wine.
