THE MAGNOLIA.

By Elizabeth Anna Allen.

The gradual shades of the twilight fall...

A wonderful fragrance, deep and rare...

To these you sweeten the grateful hour...

Queen of the South and love the Sun...

For when the valleys grow dim with night...

I see in glittering moonlight air...

Oh, gentle airs, which so softly blow...

In this the lovely trees which grow...

For if Nature holds in her garden wide...

That when we cross to the other side...

When the green fields smile and the clear waves...

Safe from winter and storm and blight...

Green and deathless it seems to me...

It is this fair dweller in woods and light...

The beautiful, brave magnolia tree!

February Galaxy.
