The argument of the demurrer before the General Term of the New York Supreme Court in the cases of the Tammany thieves, Tweed, Connolly and Fields, took place last week. The point of the demurrer is that the people of the State are not the proper parties plaintiff; that the action should be rought by the Board of Supervisors of New York county. After hearing the arguments the Court adjourned until September, when the decision will be announced. Then the question will go to the Court of Appeals. Meanwhile the thieves hold the spoils, and support Greeley and Gratz. A little while ago Horace Greeley had a great deal to say because a certain political gentleman had been engaged in real estate speculations with Tweed of Tammany Hall. He thought it was strong evidence of cor of having been undeviating in devotion to to corroborate them. At any rate, they are in a business way. Raphael Sommes, the first-class pirate, who a few years since made the ocean red with burning American merchantmen, de livered a speech at a Greeley ratification meeting in Mobile last Saturday week, in which he welcomed Horace Greeley to the deck of the Alabama. He is reported in the Mobile Register, a leading Greeley organ, as

"The cloud—at the ho bigger than man's hand—kept gathering until it burst at Cincinnati. We all looked toward it with anxiety and hope. The platform of principles adopted there was halled with delight In due time the Baltimore Convention met and adopted the same principles. So that into adopted the same principles. The editor of the Catskill (N. Y.) Recorder isn't feeling first-rate this warm weather. He is sadly cast down-in fact, humiliated. He has been doing something he is ashained of-something he will regret as long as he lives. This is the way he confesses the disgraceful act (the italics are ours):

"For nearly twenty-five years we have adhered to the fortunes of the Democratic party, participating in its triumphs and de-feats, with unswerving and unfaltering devotion; but to day we perform the most disturbed ful and humiliating act of our life in placing at our mast head the names of Horace Gree-ley and B. They are nice men to prate about "tyran ical rings"—these Democratic editors, who confess themselves the unwilling tools of a there were cries of "Right!" This was a niscrable faction that they hate and despise.

Mr. Greeley is now the regular Democratc candidate for the most important office in en pains to assure us that the Democracy are not converted from their old heresies and villainies, but that in nominating him they were more Democratic' than ever before .-What that means those who have read the Tribune for the last few years hardly need to be told. Of all the christian churches none were more loyal than the Methodists. Hartley was a member, and he along with others got up a strife in that church on account of its loyalty to the Union, separated from it, and for a long time, under the ministrations of that old sympathizing friend of the traitors, Rev. S. Kepler, held meetings in the court house.— After Kepler left for the South with other congenial spirits, Hartley joined the Episco pal Church. The bad feeling, shooting and murder in that county were all attributable to the teachings of Hartley and the other sympathizers with treason in that place.— Well do we remember threats, made in our presence, by the present assistant editor of to his home, to hang Hartley and others for their outspoken treason and treasonable teachings.
