And as to her husband, he never knew before how many other committee men in addition to their regular salaries as Senators, their board and drink at the hotel, & ..., is rather too "liberal" pretty little speeches he could make. Without any notice beforehand whatever, they seemed to come from somewhere inside, all ready made, packed up, and directed, ready to be delivered "with care, this side up," to his wife, whilst the contents of these said parcels or sentences generally brought a vorite champagne in the dog days. These Greeley said: smile on Mrs. Wedge's face, and made her as lively as a cricket for some time to come. And if this new state of things brought happier days to Mary, Will was no less bencfitted by them. Not only did she return his love with interest, but it prompted her to do many loving deeds, the fruits of affecion, which can make the humblest home a little paradise.

kindness and giving-presents, which, without them, he might seldom or never be able to give at all." Wedge's road now lay in a different direction from his friend's, so they parted com-pany, Joe Spark putting a couple of snow-drops into Will's hand, supposing he would know well enough what to do with them.

Wedge turned the snowdrops over in his hand and looked after Joe, who had nearly turned the corner. What could the man mean by giving him the snowdrops and nevcient. The facts developed leave little room er saying a word? He couldn't have known what had just happened, at the hall; yet it seemed strange that he should come up and say all this about presents just when Wedge for doubt that he was in the scheme last winter to put Col.
