Curing Hay.

matico, would hasten this result.

With their carefully prepared roots and lerbs, many of our mothers, or grandmothers, could as well alleviate the ills of hu manity as can many of our college bred M. D.'s; but note with what care those roots and herbs were gathered and prepared.—That they might retain all their virtues, they were invariably cured in the shade. Now, we as farmers, may learn from this a lesson of wisdom and practical utility, as applied to the hay field. Cure in the shade versus make hay while the sun shines .-Now the question arises, which of these two antagonistic principles of maxims shall we follow? Certainly, after due reflection, we Emil Presented to the Present Draw of the Present Draw will admit that hay made in the shade is superior to that cured in the sun, whereas the former method requires more labor than the latter. In answer to the above interroga tions, both the price of hay and the price of labor must be taken into consideration; therefore, in general, we reply, that if labor is plenty and lany commanding large prices—cure in the shade; but if labor is high and hay is at low figures-cure in the sun. There are also other matters to be taken into

Thus a large crop of clover should invar-lably be cut, and partially wilted, gathered up in languages of suitable size and allowed to sweat a day or two; then open the same and after an hour's exposure to the sun it will be in a most excellent condition to store away for winter's use. Therefore cure clover in the shade, or cock, not simply because the sweating process is so highly beneficial to this particular grass, but because, if the crop be large, it will require, to cure it sufficiently, at least one or two days' exposure to the sun, and as a matter of necessity, exposing it to the night dew, and possibly to an unexpected rain storm. Now, as a hot sun is particularly injurious to clover, and moisture, as dew or rain, far more so, then clover, at least, should be treated in the manner above described, or cured in the shade. Avoid the very common and injurious practice of overcuring the hay.—

Setting Out Fruit Trees.

A friend of mine, experienced in the culture of fruit and flowers, has furnished me with the following hints in reference to setting out fruit trees. The success of his plan is demonstrated by the fact that the trees he his editorial position at the same time. set out in the fall bore fruit the following summer. On the first of September, 1867, having some trees he wished to transplant, he dug holes two and a half feet in diameter, and two feet in depth, carefully laying the top soil on one side, and the clayey soil on the other. Some virgin soil, or wood's earth, was then hauled in, and, all things being in readiness, during the last of September, the holes having been half-filled with the wood's earth, he had his trees, (peach, apples and plums) taken up, being very particular to prevent any injury to the small course the larger (week were ent of with roots; the larger roots were cut off with a spade, and afterward trimmed smoothly with a knife. The trees were top dressed very closely. They were then set in the holes to the depth at which they originally grew, and the top soil placed in among the roots, the balance of the wood's earth being frois, the chance of the wood's earth being drawn in until the holes were filled. The time of transplanting was about ten days before frost, the leaves not having fallen from the trees. Four of them had been bearing trees, and, when summer came, they yielded their fruit. The second summer they did not look quite so their irra before but trees, and found that the larger roots he had previously trimmed were full of small, tender roots at the end, an abundance of fi-bre having grown out also on the other parts. This tace also bore fruit the following summer. During the season they had maden top growth of nearly four feet.—

It with, a saving of about one hundred thouse labeled with a squash and more delicate then is better than squash and more delicate than and dollars per annum. Go on with the the egg-plant, prepared in the same manner; can be stewed, fried or stuffed, and, above all, can be par-boiled, mashed up in batter and fried as fritters, more pleasant and easily prepared than any other vegetable or fruit. When a cucumber becomes just too old to be used raw or for pickling, it is then at its best for cooking, and may be used for that purpose even until the seeds become hard. A raw cucumber is for meet nor hard. A raw cucumber is, for most persons, an indigestible abomination, however much they may admire its flavor and odor.

FILLING LAMPS.—Scarcely a week passes but we read accounts of frightful accidents from kerosene lamps exploding and killing or scarring for life, men, women and children. A simple knowledge of the inflamable nature of the liquid may put a stop to nearly all the accidents. As the oil hurns down in the lamp inflamable gas gathers over the surface. When the oil is nearly consumed, a slight jar will inflame the gas, and an explosion follows. If the lamp is not allowed to burn over half way down, accidents are almost impossible

How they Prow in England.-Various oninions still exist there us to the required depths. This operation must be regulated according to the nature of the soil and the kind of crop intended to be grown. For instance, for the wheat crop the depth varies from five to six inches; brane and peas, six to eight to five inches; beans and peas, six to eight inches; and for mangold wurzel, turn ps, kohl rabbi, carrots, paranins, and cabbages depths. The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical and Pharmasentical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nanseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most vincole roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Polici represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for eale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most scarc hing and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating cathartic.

In explanation of the remedial power of my Pursative Fellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the unimal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair them; their sugar-coaling and being enclosed in glass bottles preserve their vittues unimpaired for any leggth of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the pills found in the drug stores, put up in cheap wood or paste-board boxes. Grateful thousands proclaim Vinegar Bitwest the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: There is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms, it is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminities, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Dischanical Diseases. Persons engaged in Mechanical Diseases. Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, will be subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS once or twice a week, as a Preventive.

Hilous, Remittent, and Intermittent Fovers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannal, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal visceral. There are always more or less obstructions of the liver, a weakness and irritable state of the stomach, and great torpor of the bowels, being plagged up with vijiated accumulations. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the Same time stimulating the secretions of oaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions o the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Scrosula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goiter, Scrothlous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. (In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters

able cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vineger Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters are Aperient, Diaphoretic and Carminative, Nutritions, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Conner-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters are the best safeguard in all cases of eruptions and malignant fevers, their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect his humors of the fauces. Their Sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, either from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc. Their Counter-Irritant influence extends throughout the system. Their Diureuc properties act on the Kidneys, correcting and regulating the flow of urine. Their Anti-Bilious properties stimulate the liver, in the secretion of bile, and its discharges through the biliary dutts, and are superior to all remedial agents, for the cure of Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with Vinegar Bitters. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus forearmed. The liver, the stomach, the bowels, the kidneys, and the perves are rendered disease-proof by this great invigorant. Directions.—Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wine-glassfull, Eat good nourishing food, such as beef steak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirit.
