his son, V. M. Seagers, in Westfield, after a painful liness, Vine Seagers, aged 54 years. One of our most valued, charitable, and kind heart-ed citizens, and an early pioneer of Tioga county, has passed away. The announcement of his death will cause unexpressable pain and regret to all those nor-merous friends: and acquaintances to whom he had become endeared by his many kind acts and his hon-orable and upright life. Mr. Seagers was born in Massachusetts, Dec. 5th, 1788, where he grew up, married, and had one child.— He served as teamster in the war of 1812. In 1815 he came into this county, making the journey with his family, in the them usual manner, with or team and wagon; and settled in Charleston, near Wellsboro, which then contained only two houses. For some time he was compelled to go to Tioga to do his milling over a read almost impassable even for oxen. He raised ten children who lived to marry and become heads of families, nine of whom arcj now jiving, and being a man of great energy, industry and robust con-stitution, he laboured faithully, and cheerfully endured the hardships and privations of a pioneer life. In 1844 ho renoved to the town of Westfield, and has, since loaling his wife in 1859, resided with his son, Vine M. Seagers. He was much pleased by a ride over the new railroad last Autumn, while on a visit to one of his daughters living in Charleston, also visiting one of his great_grano-daughters who is married. A men-ber of the Baptist church, he was a zealous and con-scientious Christian, and loved, venerated, and full of years as he was, he has passed from the places of 7his love to the home of his hone. Yee, orn sged father scientious Christian, and loved, venerated, and full of years as he was, he has passed from the places of his love to the home of his hope. Yes, onr aged father has fallen! His work is ended. We shall hear his voice no more. With full assurance of faith and con-idence in his Saviour's love and power he passed from "this earthly tabernacle" to that "building not made with hands, sternal in the Heaven."
