THE FRESHET LAST WEEK .- The weather of the . than springlike; but the last week of the month brought a a very general break-up. Wednesday night there fell several inches of snow, which melted not very rapidly for the next two days, and early flaturday morning a warm rain begin, and continued steadily and as simes very rapidly until after noon. The inevitable result was the rapid melting of the show and the sudden rise of all the streams. By Satarday noon the flood had raised the two small creeks unning through this village so that they overflowed their banks and flooded portions of the streets. No proved the opportunity to eat warm sugar great damage resulted, however, and in the course of 193. To be sure the returns do not come back the afternoon, with the cossation of the rain and the in big lumps but they surely come, and you reering of the wind to the north, the waters receded, know that and all danger was past for the present, at least.

The W. & L. Railroad was not broken, although the embankment was considerably washed at the point north of this village where it was swept away last sumner. The trains ran north on Saturday, but the night train south did not come through, the old road being submerged near Lawrencaville. He will find that the "Eureka Manufacturing Company" of this village have reduced the making of horse pokes to a perfect system, so that a few hands comparatively, aided by the ingenious machine ry devised for the work, are able to turn out thousands of the completed articles each The Company are now engaged in filling a contract for 20,000 of these odd looking contrivances. Of course in executing such a job it is of the first importance that the work be carried on as cheaply as possible; that the material employed be rigidly economised and that every part of the work that will admit of it be done by machinery which will work rapidly and with mathematical accuracy. Every piece of wood, every spring and even every rivit that goes to the construction of a horse poke is shaped and perected almost entirely by the machines of the Company, manual labor being required only in supplying the machines with the raw mawith the amount due from each, beginning terial and in putting together the implement to-day. It won't do Mr. Democrati They after its several parts have been fushioned.

Of course, not the least important part of the work was the construction of the various necessary machines, and it would seem that more labor and ingenuity were called for in devising and making this machinery than in inventing any number of implements like a -A society is being formed in this place horse poke, although the latter is by itself a whose object will be to enforce the law in contrivance of no little ingenuity, and adregard to the preservation of game in Tioga mirably contrived to accomplish the object county. A meeting will be held at Hugh | designed. But American ingenuity is never Young's office on Friday evening for the at fault in a work of this kind. The manager of the Company, Mr. I. W. Sherwood. has succeeded admirably in the adaptation of means to the end in view, and that part of the Company's shop devoted to this work is filled with busy and efficient evidence of his capacity in that line. The raw material, in the shape of lumber, ron, and brass, is taken into the factory in the rough, and is quickly sawed, cut, planed, turned, bent, bored and twisted by steam power into the several component parts of complete implement. Made in this way, as a matter of course, the thousands of pieces destined to supply any particular portion of the perfected article are all exacty alike, so that when the pokes are put together the workmen are not required to "cut and try," but find each several piece perfectly fitted for the place it is to occupy in the world of horse pokes. In fact the works may run for days and weeks and 'not a single article appear to show a stranger what all the busy din is designed to effect. The visitor will see only great piles of oddly shaped bits of wood and metal evidently fashioned with child is one of the sort who can spell a word care, but of no conceivable use. But on a its own. subsequent visit to the establishment he will find these queer pieces of wood and metal rapidly shaping themselves, under the skill-

They intend hereafter to make many varieties of light agricultural implements, and to enter extensively upon the manufacturing of handles for forks, shovels, &c. The Company is made up of practical business men and workers. C. L. Willcox being President, I.W. Sherwood, Vice President and Manager, and W. C. Kross, Secretary and Treasurer. Their operations will, as a matter of course, be a source of a benefit to the village and, no doubt, of profit to themselves. We wish them the largest meas-

HORNELLSVILLE AND WILLIAMSPORT RAILROAD-A PRACTICAL VIEW OF THE MATTER.-Friend Agitator: At this time, when railroad communication with the outside world is the general subject of conversation, and every newspaper article on the subject is scanned with eagerness, and the conviction grows stronger in men's minds that it takes something besides talk and cider to grade the road and put the rolling stock in successful operation, it will be well for us, as direct and indirect participators in this scheme of a railroad thoroughfare, to likely to accrue from the expenditure of so much money as will be required to put it in

along the route. Along roads now in operation I am informed that the wild land increased in value from thirty to one hundred per cent., and there is no reason why this should be an exception. But, says one, I propose to make a farm out of my wild land. Very well; leaving unnoticed the latent wealth that is sure to be developed by cheap transportation, we will see how much more we have not heard up to this writing. There is still the raw material on an acre of land will be worth with a railroad than now. From reliable data I am safe in estimating that an acre of hemlock hand in the northwestern part of Tioga and northeastern part of Parer counties will yield, on an average, twenty ords of bark, twenty-five thousand feet q marketable lumber, and from fifty to seventyfive cords of wood. So much for yield; now for value. A tanner who knows whereof he speaks says that as soon as this road is completed bark will be worth two dollars per cord more than now, and if from the price the consumer in the western part of New York pays for hemlock lumber we take the freight on a thousand feet for 100 miles and an equal amount for commission o middlemen, there is left for us three dollars per thousand feet more than we now get. Now, not to appear too wild, we will take half the above amounts and see how much more, without counting the wood or railroad ties, a farmer may get off an acre without spending a dime more to market it. The increased value of bark would be $20, and $86 the increased value of the lumber, making a total of $56 as the increased value of one acre of imber land; and all for an expenditure of less than four dollars for a railroad. Honorable (1) members receive enormous fees (dividends) from huge monopolies to betray the people, and when confronted, resort to the most disgraceful falsegood and prevarication in extenuation of their crimes. And as then, if emboldened by anccorful villainy, votathemselves back pay, a thing unheard of in the history of legislation, thus laying violent hands on the treasury of the nation and abstracting over a million and a half of unearned money. In our own State the legislative history of the Minnequa scheme, the Boomage tax, and the attempted repeal of the free railroad law of 1868 are conclusive evidence of "something rotten in Denmark." Whether the latter project will succeed is as yet doubtful. Its object seems to be to prevent, virtually, the construction of all new railroads in the State, and finally to get control of all others by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, so tire railroad business of the country and to break down all interests not subservient to The proper remedy would be to ingraft the principle of free railroading into our State Constitution. A free railroad law fortified ful workman's hands, into an article of great by a constitutional amendment it would be impossible to overthrow. New railroad enterprises would spring up all over our State Although the Company is at present main- without fear of being crushed by a great monopoly. The hired attorneys who debauch our Legislature would find their occupation gone in a measure, and our grand

"There is no necessity for the county and no one pretends there is, but Herdic wants it to enable him to realize a fortune by selling his hundreds of acres, now a wilderness, for town lots. It is a big job, and he is trying to buy it through by liberal offers to donate the profits to members who vote as he desires. Every Senator and member from the counties to be affected by this scheme are bitterly hostile to it, and yet, strange to say, it now looks as if the bill would pass the House this week. If it does not it will simply be because it is known, or at least generally believed, that the Governor would not sign it, and there will be no "divies" unless he does. Honest men might and possibly may vote for this bill, but it is safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous to consider the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous to consider the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous to consider the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous that the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous they will be fewer in number than righteous that the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous that the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous they will be fewer in number than righteous they will be fewer in number than righteous the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous the safe to say they will be fewer in number than righteous the safe to say the s Rutan, thinks of Herdic's county scheme: they will be fewer in number than righteous men in Sodom in the days of Lot."

MATRIMONY AND HOMICIDE. - On Friday MATRIMONY AND HOMICIDE.—On Friday night, about ten o'clock, at Fiddler's Green, near Jersey Mines, back of Plymouth, Ed. Harris was shot and instantly killed by William Wallen. Wallen was arrested and taken to the lock-up at Plymouth. Harris was a young man, and leaves a wife and child in the old country. Wallen is about forty-five years of age. The evidence elicited before the Coroner's Jury, on Saturday, as to the cause of the shooting, was conflict-Wallen having committed the act. EGYPTIAN CORN!

THE subscriber offers to the farmers through the coun, whe Egyptian Corn, which upon trial was found to rip, a if planted even the last of July. It is estimated, from its very proline qualities, to yield 150 bushels per acre, and weighs, by measure, 65 pounds to the busic. This corn was produced from some procured direct from Mr. Jones, our Consular Agent, directly on his return from Egypt. It needs no different culture from that of other varieties, and in the South two crops can the form of a tree, and ground in one year. It grows in the form of a tree, and 31 cars have grown upon one stalk—a verage from 6 to 15 ears. For domestic use it is unpara cled. When ground and properly bolted, it is equal in color and inneness to wheaten flour. As a forage crop, by swing in drills or broadcast (for early feed,) there is no kind of corn so well adapted to milch cows, and come that will yield half the value in stalk or corn.

It can be successfully grown in any State.

Terms:—In order that all may receive seed have reduced the price to one dollar a package. Any person who will get up a club of five, will receive a package gratis—16 packages for $20; 100 for $30. One package will contain enough to plant the following season from 20 to 30 acres; slaw, directions for planting it.
