Tit for Tat.

BY GORDON CAMPBELL.

I met a maid on yon hillside,
And she was fair to see—
"Give me a kiss, fair maid," I cried;
"Give me a gift," said she.

"A gift within a purse I have,
The purse is in a peak;
The purse in keeping lieth safe
On my good charger's back.

"And my good charger cometh not,
While on the hill I roam;
He lieth in his stall, I wot—
My charger is at home."

"And yet thou 'dst have a kiss, good sir;
My lips would give it thee,
But they are locked full fast, good sir—
My mother has the key;

"And my good mother is not here,
While on the hill I roam;
Just as your trusty steed, good sir,
My mother is at home."

GRAINS OF GOLD.

Short reckonings make long friends.

What is setting out without holding out?

Mercy's clock does not always strike at our beck.

Nothing is more like an honest man than a rogue.

It is through inward health that we enjoy outward things.

To-morrow is the day on which idle men work, and fools reform.

God has a crown for the runner, but a curse for the run-away.

If men were to be their own judges, they would never be just judges.

All those who color for show will there be shown in their own colors.

How the mighty have fallen, when the Almighty hath not stood by them.

Account him thy real friend who desires thy good, rather than thy good-will.

You cannot repent too soon, because you know not how soon it may be too late.

As God is too merciful to condemn the innocent, so he is too just to acquit the guilty.

By trying to kill calumny it is kept alive; leave it to itself, and it dies a natural death.

He that hath promised pardon in our repentance, hath not promised life till we repent.

The happiness that is found at home is most likely to prove enduring and purifying.

Than a good tongue there is nothing better; than an evil tongue there is nothing worse.

The heart should be the first that comes into the house of God, and the last that goes out of it.

If God's to-day be too soon for thy repentance, thy to-morrow may be too late for his acceptance.

Be sure to mend that in thyself which thou observest doth exceedingly displease thee in others.

There are none of our spirits so good, but God deserves them, or so bad that he cannot refine them.

If a straw, says Dryden, can be made the instrument of happiness, he is a wise man who does not despise it.

As riches and favor forsake a man we discover him to be a fool; but nobody could find it out in his prosperity.

Did not the possession of riches sometimes draw away our hearts, then the loss of them would not break our hearts.

We may commit our estates into the hands of men, but we must not commit our hearts into the hands of any but God.

The loss of a friend is like that of a limb; time may heal the anguish of the wound, but the loss cannot be repaired.

If once you fall into hell, you will, after millions of ages have elapsed, be as far from coming out as you were at going in.

Truth is the only real, lasting foundation for friendship: in all but truth there is a principle of decay and dissimulation.

Knowledge is valuable in proportion as it is prolific, in proportion as it quickens the mind to the acquisition of higher truth.

Hasty words often rankle the wound that injury gives; but soft words assuage it, forgiveness cures it, and forgetting takes away the scar.

Walking with God is the best way to confute them that think religion to be but a notion; living religion will prove that there is religion.

If leprosy take hold of a single thread, it will soon spread over the whole piece. Though sinful thoughts will rise, yet they should not reign.

Where the means of grace are greatest, they are often the shortest. You may be unhappy all your days, for despising the happiness of these days.

Tarquin the Proud, being asked what was the best mode of governing a conquered city, replied by beating down all the tallest poppies in his garden.

The grave is a bed to rest in, but not a shop to trade in. There is no settling up under ground for those who have neglected their souls above ground.

Secret kindnesses done to mankind are as beautiful as secret injuries are detestable. To be invisibly good is as god-like as to be invisibly evil is diabolical.

Reader, pause! If your servant be capable of offending you by his words, is it not as reasonable to suppose that you are capable of offending God with yours.

As the date tree is hard to climb, though having at its top delicious fruit, so the way to learning is often difficult, yet its rewards are pleasing and profitable.

Each of us has within himself a world unknown to his fellow beings, and each may relate of himself a history resembling that of every one yet like that of no man.

Such is the blessing of a benevolent heart, that, let the world frown as it will, it cannot possibly bereave it of all happiness, since it can rejoice in the prosperity of others.

Lying is a hateful and accursed vice. If we did but discover the horror and consequence of it, we should pursue it with fire and sword, and more justly than other crimes.

A vicious man's life expires like a tallow candle, leaving an ungrateful savor behind it; but a gracious man's life expires like a wax candle, that leaves a sweet perfume behind it.

If you would not step into the harlot's house you should not go by her door. If you would not gather the forbidden fruit, then beware how you look on the tree where it grows.

It is better by far to part with a thousand worlds for one Christ, than with one Christ for a thousand worlds. How dreadful is their darkness who live in the absence of such a sun.

Usefulness is confined to no station, and it is astonishing how much good may be done and what may be effected by limited means, united with benevolence of heart and activity of mind.

"The brandy," he said, "served to give him a kind of spirit which made him think he could do a great deal of work; but when he came to do it, he found he was less able than he thought."

You can never come too soon to Him who is your beginning; and you can never stay too long with Him who is your ending. The flower of life is of Christ's setting; and shall it be of the devil's cropping.

It is much easier to think right without doing right, than to do right without thinking right. Just thoughts may and often do fail of producing just deeds; but just deeds are sure to beget just thoughts.

The intellect was created not to receive passively a few words, dates and facts, but to be active for the acquisition of truth. Accordingly, education should labor to inspire a profound love of truth, and to teach the processes of investigation.

If life is a battle, how mad must he be who fails to arm himself for the contest! If life is a storm, how infatuated is he who sleeps while his bark is driven amid unknown waters! If life is a pilgrimage, how unwise is he who strays from the right road, nor seeks to return till the twilight shadows gather round his pathway.

How easily are some persons discouraged. If they try some project for an hour without success, they fret, get angry, and give it up. Such characters never did accomplish anything worth naming, and never will. Hierland states that he was three days and a half on a single stanza, which he was endeavoring to translate—one word only was wanted, and that he could not supply. It is said of Gray that he was ten years in writing the "Elegy in a Country Church Yard." Yet you are discouraged in an hour. Shame on you. What can be accomplished in a few moments? Years of patient industry are often spent in projecting great works. Some men have employed their whole lives in important undertakings, and when completed have died of old age. Imitate them, and never yield for a moment to discouragement. If you are made of the right material, you never will.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Vulcum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the curative and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have hot tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough cathartic effect, while they operate gently and kindly as a cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any Calomel or other forms of mercury or any other mineral poison.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Piles, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, High Colored Urine, Unsociability, and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair them; their sugar-coating and being enclosed in glass bottles preserve their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the pills found in the drug stores, put up in cheap wood or paste-board boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

They are sold by all enterprising Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Do not allow any druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good as my Pellets because he makes a larger profit on that which he recommends. If your druggist cannot supply them, enclose 25 cents and receive them by return mail from
