The Democracy of the Future. Great are the tribulations of the opposition. The recent campaign of slander and talse pretenses having ended in overwhelming defeat, the organs of the demoralized factions which played themselves out so eftectually at Cincinnati and Baltimore last and the whole matter is relegated to the summer are already easting about to find State and local authorities. Great parties do not grow strong on negations. A positive policy is wanted; and the Democratic doctors are just now busily searching for that indispensable artiele. But it looks at this present writing as though the search would be a fruitless one. for the elements to be united are as antagopistic as fire and water. Not only are the Democrats and the "Liberals" working for different avowed ends, but all their previous

Men were frozen to death within two rods of their iouses, trying to get to their stock to feed them. Near Gration a man named Keeler attempted to reach a neighbor's house half a mile away, accompanied by his wife and child, and the two latter were frozen to death. Mr. Marshall, of Hastings, periahed while trying to reach his stock from his house. The wife and child of Mr. Bent, living near Red Cloud, were frozen while attempting to reach their neighbors after their house had become uninhabitable.— Their bodies were found ten rods from the house. Families were compelled to take refuge in cellars or keep their beds for three days. Houses were blown down and filled with snow. The destruction of horses and cattle was great. Some farmers lost all they had. One party lost a whole near of the head. The gullies on the railways were filled with snow hard as ice. Snow ploughs were useless.

Hon. Jerome B. Niles, one of the Republican delegates from the sixteenth district, was born in 1834, in Tioga county, where he still-resides, and where he was reared and educated. He studied law, and was admitted to the Wellsboro bar in 1861. For six years from 1862 he held the office of District Attorney of Tioga, by election of the people. In the sessions of 1862 and 1864 h was message clerk in the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, and in 1869 and and again in 1870 he was elected to the Legislature of Pennsylvania. He is on the committees on Legislation, Revenue, Taxation, and Finance. In stature he is about 6 feet 9 inches. He wears a full beard, has a high forehead, dark hair, and weight about 170 pounds. He is a good speaker, earnest, honest, and fearless, and socially a fine fellow. He sits near the door, on the left, next to the Hon. Charles O. Bowman, of Corry, and is always at his post.
